

ISBN 0-7110-2878-8

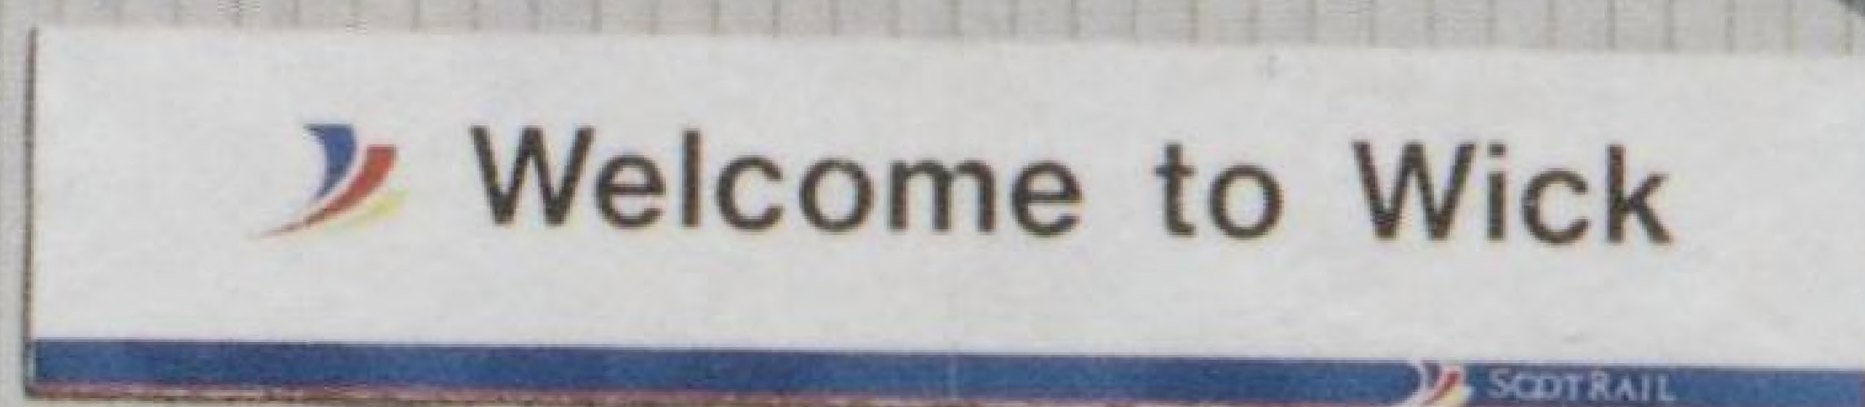

9 780711 028784

Printed in England

£14.99

Sectional Maps of Britain's Railways 2002 puts the railway network of today into its historical perspective. In 45 highly detailed full-colour maps, the book shows the contemporary network — with freight, national network passenger lines, preserved lines and other passenger lines, including the new second-generation tramway operations — alongside the lines that have closed, allowing the reader to grasp graphically the extent of the losses to the nation's railway network over the past century. Also shown are all passenger stations as well as major freight termini and large settlements no longer served by rail. All those seeking up to date information on the contemporary railway scene and its relationship with the past will find this book an invaluable resource.

 Welcome to Wick

