

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments page xi

Chart xiii

1 Introduction and Overview – Why Outsourcing Threatens Democracy 1

 A. Concerns of this Book 1

 B. Perspectives and Plan 6

 C. The Iran–Contra Roots of the Outsourcing Controversy 9

 1. The Relevance of Iran–Contra to Outsourcing Sovereignty 10

 2. The Counterlessons of Iran–Contra and the Rise of Executive Privilege 11

 3. Iran–Contra as a Preview to Iraq 12

 D. Outsourcing Policy Making to the Iraq Study Group? 13

 E. A Note on the Meaning of Sovereignty 14

2 The Outsourcing of Sovereignty 23

 A. The Private Military 25

 1. The New Private Military: Blackwater and Friends 26

 2. Managing the Public-Private Military 28

 B. Private Solutions to Natural Disasters and National Security 30

 1. DHS, FEMA, and Natural Disasters 31

 2. Contracting-Out National Security at the Border 33

 a. Contracts to Secure Borders 34

 b. Challenges to Public Control of Border Contractors 35

 3. Homeland Security, Inc. 36

C.	The Advent of Private Prisons and Private Police	37
1.	Distinctions between Private Regimes	38
2.	Contracting for Prisons by the State	39
a.	The Prison Contract and Public Accountability	39
b.	Lingering Doubts about Private Prisons	40
3.	A Note on Rendition and Private Prisons	41
D.	Contracting-Out the Analysis Function: The Hidden Hand of Administration	42
1.	Deciding as Public Management	43
2.	Examples of Delegated Decision Making	45
3	Case Study: Public and Private Approaches to Transportation Security	57
A.	An Introduction to Transportation Security	57
B.	The Role for Government in Airline Security in the United States	58
1.	The New Consensus	59
2.	The Values of Public Employment – Loyalty and Reliability	60
C.	Privatization and Airport Screeners in Europe	62
1.	Privatization in Europe	63
2.	The Right to Travel as a Privatizing Incentive	64
D.	Theories of Public and Private Control in Airport Security	65
E.	The Politics of Port Security	68
1.	The Dubai Ports Debacle	69
2.	The Present State of Public Control	70
4	The Public-Private Distinction	78
A.	An Overview of the Public-Private Distinction	79
B.	Constitutional Connections to the Public-Private Distinction	81
1.	The Fifth Amendment’s “Public Use” Requirement	81
2.	The Rise and Fall of “Affected with a Public Interest”	83
3.	Public Functions and Process Limits	85
4.	The Overlap between State Action and Due Process	86
C.	The New Due Process and Privatization	87
1.	Alternatives to Due Process	88
2.	The Private Contractor Accountability Conundrum	89
5	The Case for Constitutional Governance	102
A.	Constitutional Restraints on Delegation	103
1.	Due Process Limits on Private Delegations	105

2.	Appointments Clause Limits on Private Delegations	106
B.	The Distinction between “Significant” and “Authority” – Where Does the Buck Stop?	109
C.	Note on the Oath Requirement and the Role of Congress	112
6	Statutory and Administrative Limitations on Private Delegations	121
A.	Nondelegation, Subdelegation, and Discretionary Acts	121
1.	Nondelegable Duties of Government	121
2.	The Subdelegation Act	122
B.	Contracting-Out and the Circular A-76 Process	124
1.	The A-76 Process	125
2.	Critiques of the A-76 Process	127
3.	The Special Problems of Contracting-Out and the Military	129
7	Outsourcing Government Services: Contract Theory and Practice	140
A.	A Contractarian Approach to Delegation of Public Authority to Private Hands: Carter Coal Meets Boston Ice	141
1.	Nondelegation, Due Process, and Carter Coal	141
2.	Contractual Nondelegation and Boston Ice	143
3.	Constitutionalizing the Contract Analogy	145
B.	Contracts and Competition	146
1.	An Overview of DOD Contracts with Private Providers	146
2.	Single Sourcing in Government Contracts – The Iraq Effect	147
3.	The Governance Virtues of Competitive Contracts	149
C.	Contracts and Agency Cost Theory	150
8	Structural Reforms to Government	158
A.	Distinguishing Public Servants from Private Contractors: Of Foxes and Hedgehogs	159
B.	Public Support for Improving Government Functions: Volcker and Beyond	161
1.	Organization of Mission-Oriented Agencies	163
2.	Political versus Career Officials – The Need for Professional Managers	164
a.	Comparative Performance Data on Political and Career Officials	165
b.	Political Appointees at FEMA	165

c. The Connection between Political Appointees and Consultants	166
3. Operational Effectiveness – Freeing Managers to Govern	168
C. Governance, Not Government – The Market State Effect	169
1. The Market State and Its Limits	170
2. Public-Private Partnerships as Alternatives	171
a. The General Approach to Public-Private Partnerships	172
b. Case Study: PPPs and Infrastructure Protection	173
D. Proposals for Enhancing Leadership	174
1. The Bold Move – National Service	175
2. A Modest Proposal – Inducements to Public Education and Training	176
E. Preserving the False Claims Act	178
9 Conclusions (Wherein the Principal Instructs Her Agents)	187
A. To the Executive and the Agencies	188
1. On the Military Side	188
2. On the Civilian Side	190
B. To the Congress	192
C. To the Courts	194
Conclusion	196
Cases	199
Bibliography	205
Index	229