

Contents

Introduction	ix
By Maria João Rodrigues
PART I	1
Rebuilding the European Economic and Social Model for Ecological, Digital and Post-Covid Challenges
Synthesis of the debate	3
By Jean-François Lebrun
Aspirations: Europe in the 2020s – setting the course for all future Europeans	21
By Halliki Kreinin and Lukas Hochscheidt
A European Health Union	25
By Vytenis Andriukaitis
The care crisis and a feminist society	30
By Emma Dowling
The ecological transformation: the main driving factors and the social implications	35
By Saïd El Khadraoui
Social policies and the ecological transformation	40
By Georg Fischer
The digital transformation: the main driving factors and social implications	46
By Justin Nogarede
Nordic inspiration for the European socioeconomic model	52
By Britta Thomsen
Reinventing the state to deploy smart green growth and well-being, while disarming populism	57
By Carlota Perez

A European Social Union	63
By László Andor
PART II	69
EU External Action with Strategic Autonomy and Multilateral Engagement
Synthesis of the debate	71
By Giovanni Grevi
Aspirations: for an EU External Action with strategic autonomy and multilateral engagement	84
By Barbara Roggeveen
Scenarios for global governance and the EU open strategic autonomy: a window of opportunity for a 'Spinellian moment'	86
By Mario Telò
A digital and green European foreign policy that speaks to EU citizens and the world	94
By Guillaume Klossa
The EU and global economic governance	99
By Paolo Guerrieri
Defending the momentum, delivering on progress: the future of European defence	104
By Vassilis Ntousas
The European External Action regarding migration	109
By Hedwig Giusto
The European External Action and the EU constitutional system	114
By Diego Lopez Garrido
PART III	119
Economic Governance for an Empowered European Union
Synthesis of the debate	121
By Robin Huguenot-Noël
Aspirations: empowering progressive ideas in the EU's economic governance by matching 'policy with politics'	136
By Alvaro Oleart

European economic governance: key issues to assess its recent past and its desirable evolution	139
By Vivien Schmidt
A European economic policy mix to support the European project in the long term	145
By Michael Landesmann
Next Generation EU public finances	152
By David Rinaldi
A European budgetary capacity to support the European project in the long term	161
By Peter Bofinger
What can we learn from federal experiences around the world?	167
By Tanja Boerzel
A republican framework for EU economic governance	172
By Stefan Collignon
PART IV	177
The EU and the Next Democratic Transformation
Synthesis of the debate	179
By François Balate
Aspirations: : the EU's next democratic transformation	194
By Lora Lyubenova
Key changes to be introduced in the European political system	197
By Olivier Costa
The new prospects for the European electoral and party systems	203
By Ania Skrzypek
The digital revolution and our democratic lives: meeting the challenges	209
By Gerda Falkner
What are the potential and the limits of the Lisbon Treaty?	215
By Mercedes Bresso
After the pandemic: a republic of Europe – what would it mean?	221
By Ulrike Guerot

New horizons for a political union	227
By Jo Leinen
Conclusion: a European legend	231
By Maria João Rodrigues
Acknowledgements	234
Glossary	235
About the editor and authors	237