
Contents

List of contributors

vii

- 1 Introduction to the Research Handbook on Work–Life Balance 1
Sonia Bertolini and Barbara Poggio

PART I THEORETICAL AND METHODOLOGICAL FRAMEWORK

- 2 Work–life balance and beyond: premises and challenges 8
Anna Carreri, Annalisa Dordoni, and Barbara Poggio

- 3 Doing research on work–life balance 27
Sonia Bertolini and Rosy Musumeci

PART II MULTILEVEL PERSPECTIVES ALONG GENDER AND TEMPORAL AXES

- 4 Research on work–life balance: a gender structure analysis 50
Emily Hallgren and Barbara J. Risman

- 5 Work–life balance through the life course 72
Jeanne Ganault and Ariane Pailhé

- 6 Work-(later) life balance: shifting the temporal frame 88
Anne E. Barrett, Rachel Douglas and Jessica Noblitt

PART III COMPARATIVE RESEARCH (APPROACHES AND STUDIES)

- 7 The household division of labour in Europe: a multilevel perspective 100
Dirk Hofäcker and Simone Braun

- 8 Subjective work–family conflicts: the challenge of studying self-employed workers 116
Rossella Bozzon and Annalisa Murgia

PART IV LONGITUDINAL, DISCURSIVE AND NARRATIVE ANALYSIS

- 9 Qualitative longitudinal research for studying work–family balance (before and after childbirth) 142
Manuela Naldini

- 10 Fathers in focus: two discursive analyses on addressing men, work and care 160
Suvi Heikkinen, Marjut Jyrkinen and Emilia Kangas

- 11 Work–life balance for fathers during paternal leave in Norway:
a narrative approach 176
Kristine Warhuus Smeby and Ulla Forseth

PART V MIXED AND MULTIMETHOD RESEARCH

- 12 Beyond the lines: gender, work, and care in the new economy – a view from the U.S. 194
Kathleen Gerson and Mauro Migliavacca
- 13 The effect of childcare facilities on labour market participation among young adults in Estonia: a mixed-methods study 217
Kadri Täht, Marge Unt and Epp Reiska
- 14 Flexible work arrangements and diversity through a comparative and multilevel lens 234
Eleni Stavrou and Myrto Anastassiadou

PART VI DIGITAL AND VISUAL METHODS

- 15 The gendered labour of work–life balance: using a new method to understand an enduring dilemma 255
Julia Cook and Dan Woodman
- 16 ‘My work is full of gossipers so I tried to keep my pregnancy secret’:
‘distant’ netnography as a qualitative method for exploring work–life balance among pregnant and breastfeeding employees 271
Caroline Gatrell
- 17 The performance of oneself through visuals in interviews: queering the work–life binary 290
Marjan De Coster and Patrizia Zanoni
- Index* 306