Contents

List of Figures and Tables ix
Copyright Acknowledgements xii
Preface xiii
Acknowledgments xiv
Introduction xv
Introducing the Characters in the Book xviii
Metaphors and Terminology Used in the Book xx

1 From Research to Implications: Introducing Advising 1
I. The Value of Advising in Language Learning 1
II. Reflective Dialogue and Learning 5
III. Approaches to Advising 7
IV. Transformational Advising in Language Learning 9
V. Learning Trajectory in Transformational Advising 13
Appendix 1.1 Basic Advising Strategies 20
Appendix 1.2 Advising Tools 29

2 From Implications to Application: Advising in Practice 68
Part 1: Dialogue in Advising 68
Introduction 68
I. Getting Started: Setting the Scene 71
Dialogue 1: The first few minutes 71
Dialogue 2-1: Listening to a life story 73
Dialogue 2-2: Alternative dialogue in the target language 76
Dialogue 3: The benefits of 'being listened to' 79
Dialogue 4: Analyzing the current status 82
Dialogue 5: Visualizing the 'big picture' 85
Dialogue 6-1: Breaking down the goals 89
Dialogue 6-2: Alternative dialogue conducted in the target language 92
Dialogue 7: Making a declaration 94
Dialogue 8: Recording progress and achievements 97
Dialogue 9: Wrapping up the session 100
Dialogue 10: Things to do after the session 103

II. Going Deeper: Moving towards a turning point 106
Introduction 106
Dialogue 11: Starting continuous advising 107
Dialogue 12: Time to ask 'powerful' questions 110
Dialogue 13: Dealing with emotions 114
Dialogue 14: 'What if' questions 118
Dialogue 15-1: Reviewing and revising goals and plans 122
Dialogue 15-2: Alternative dialogue using a combination of the TL and the L1 125
Dialogue 16-1: Avoiding procrastination 128
Dialogue 16-2: Alternative dialogue/advising for exams 133
Dialogue 17: Levels of satisfaction 137
Dialogue 18-1: Using metaphor 142
Dialogue 18-2: More metaphors 145
Dialogue 19: Challenging existing values 147
Dialogue 20: Giving positive feedback 152

III. Becoming Aware: The 'aha' moment in advising 156
Introduction 156
Dialogue 21: Connecting the dots – the 'aha' moment 158
Dialogue 22: Building a 'strengths' vocabulary 162
Dialogue 23: It's not 'what' you tell learners, but 'how' you tell it 166
Dialogue 24: Switching viewpoint 171
Dialogue 25: Translating awareness into action 175

IV. Transformation: Starting to 'self-advise' 179
Introduction 179
Dialogue 26: Learn about 'self-advising' 181
Dialogue 27: Reflecting on your 'best self' 187
Dialogue 28: The final reflection 191
Dialogue 29: Preparing to start afresh 196
Dialogue 30: Congratulations! 199

Part 2: Training and Development for Learning Advisors 203
Introduction 203
Training and development (T&D) exercises 207

I. Getting Started: What it means to be an advisor 207
Introduction 207

T&D Exercise 1: Interviewing and introducing others 208
T&D Exercise 2: Introduction to the intentional reflective dialogue (IRD) 211

II. Going Deeper: Getting ready for the move 214
Introduction 214
T&D Exercise 3: Turning negative into positive 215
T&D Exercise 4: Structuring the IRD 218

III. Becoming Aware: Knowing yourself as an advisor 226
Introduction 226
T&D Exercise 5: Viewpoint switching activity 227
T&D Exercise 6: Initiating the IRD 229

IV. Transformation: Developing further, and back to basics 231
Introduction 231
T&D Exercise 7: Reflecting on your 'best self' 233
T&D Exercise 8: Becoming a mentor to other advisors 236

3 From Application to Implementation: Advising in Context 242
I. Introduction 242
II. Preparing Learners to Become Autonomous 242
III. Types of Advising 248
IV. Offering Advising Services 256
V. Voluntary or Compulsory Advising? 261
VI. Recruitment, Training, and Professional Development 262
VII. Promotion and Awareness Raising 270
VIII. Ethics and Boundaries 270
IX. Evaluating Advising 271

4 From Implementation to Research: Researching Advising 273
I. Introduction 273
II. What to Research 273
III. How to Research 276
IV. Research Project Ideas and Tools That Follow the Learning Trajectory 278
V. Research Methods 291
VI. Qualitative Data Analysis 294

Appendix 4.1 Codes Developed by Thornton and Mynard (2012) to Make Sense of the Written Advising Data They Collected in Their Context 295
Appendix 4.2 Descriptors of Coded Thought Units (From McCarthy, 2012) 297

References 301
Index 307