
Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
About the Editors	ix
About the Contributors	xi
Introduction Nancy Frey and Douglas Fisher	1
1. Visual Literacy: What You Get Is What You See Lynell Burmark	5
2. Graphic Novels: The Good, the Bad, and the Ugly Jacquelyn McTaggart	27
3. Comics, the Canon, and the Classroom James Bucky Carter	47
4. Seeing the World Through a Stranger's Eyes: Exploring the Potential of Anime in Literacy Classrooms Kelly Chandler-Olcott	61
5. "Literary Literacy" and the Role of the Comic Book: Or, "You Teach a Class on What?" Rocco Versaci	91
6. That's Funny: Political Cartoons in the Classroom Thomas DeVere Wolsey	113
7. Learning From Illustrations in Picturebooks Lawrence R. Sipe	131
8. An Irrecusable Offer: Film in the K-12 Classroom Lawrence Baines	149
9. "It Was Always the Pictures . . .": Creating Visual Literacy Supports for Students With Disabilities Paula Kluth	169
Index	189