

CONTENTS

| | |
|------------------------------|------|
| FOREWORD BY THOMAS A. SEBEOK | ix |
| PREFACE | xiii |
| ACKNOWLEDGMENTS | xvii |

Part One: Theoretical Background

| | |
|---|-----|
| I. In Search of a Theory | |
| 1.1 A Brief Critical History of Musical Semiotics | 3 |
| 1.2 Reflections on the Logic of Musical Discourse | 15 |
| 1.3 The Problem of Narrativity in Music | 22 |
| 1.4 Toward the Definition of Modalities: Signs in Opera | 34 |
| 1.5 On the Truth in Music | 43 |
| 1.6 The Theory Itself in an Abridged Form | 47 |
| II. Musical Time | |
| 2.1 Music in Micro-Time: The Role of Memory | 59 |
| 2.2 Music in Macro-Time: Music Models through the Ages | 66 |
| III. Musical Space | 77 |
| IV. Musical Actors | |
| 4.1 Ernst Kurth as a Precursor of Musical Semiotics: Steps toward the Definition of Actoriality in Music | 98 |
| 4.2 From Musical Subjects to Theme-Actors | 106 |

Part Two: Analyses

| | |
|--|-----|
| V. Semiosis of the Classical Style: Beethoven's "Waldstein" | 115 |
| VI. Narrativity in Chopin | |
| 6.1 Polonaise-Fantaisie and the Idea of Narrative Program | 138 |
| 6.2 Writing a Modal Grammar: Chopin's Ballade in G Minor | 154 |

| | |
|---|-----|
| VII. Music and Literature | |
| 7.1 The Case of Obermann : Franz Liszt and Marie d'Agoult in Switzerland | 181 |
| 7.2 "Après un rêve": A Semiotic Approach to the Study of Musical Performance | 193 |
| VIII. Music and Visual Arts: Pictures and Promenades— A Peircean Excursion into the Semiosis of Musorgsky | 209 |
| IX. The Semiotics of Symphonism: A Deconstruction of National Meanings in Sibelius's Fourth Symphony | 242 |
| X. Toward the Modern Scene | |
| 10.1 Debussy's Impressionism in the Prelude "... La terrasse des audiences du clair de lune" | 266 |
| 10.2 Minimalism and Anti-Narrativity | 276 |
| Conclusion | 288 |
| APPENDIX: "APRÈS UN RÊVE" | 293 |
| GLOSSARY | 303 |
| NOTES | 305 |
| BIBLIOGRAPHY | 313 |
| INDEX | 325 |