Sibylle Bauer

Sibylle Bauer is Director of the Dual-use and Arms Trade Control Programme at the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute (SIPRI). Before joining SIPRI in 2003, she was a Researcher with the Institute for European Studies (ULB) in Brussels. Sibylle Bauer has published widely on armaments-related issues. Recent publications include The Arms Trade Treaty: Challenges for the First Conference of States Parties (2014, with Paul Beijer and Mark Bromley) and Arms Trade Control Capacity Building: Lessons from Dual-use Trade Controls (2013). Since 2005, she has been involved in capacity-building to enhance transit, trans-shipment, brokering and export controls for dual-use items and arms.

Paul Beijer

Paul Beijer holds a degree in Economics and Business Administration from the Stockholm School of Economics and is a career foreign service officer. Currently Ambassador at the Swedish Ministry for Foreign Affairs (MFA) in Stockholm, he has been responsible for Sweden's participation in the United Nations Arms Trade Treaty process since 2010, first as lead negotiator, then for Sweden's ratification of the Treaty, and now for the continued process. During the period 1992 to 2001, he worked in different capacities in Sweden's export control system, the final three years serving as Director of Export Controls in the Swedish MFA. He helped to set up the current Swedish licensing authority
