

Contents

Introduction: The Automated Vehicles Symposium 2019	1
Steven E. Shladover, Jane Lappin, and Valerie Shuman
Part I Public Sector Activities
Japan’s SIP-Adus Program on Road Vehicle Automation	13
Ryota Shirato and Seigo Kuzumaki
Developing End-to-End Regulation for Automated Vehicles in Australia	23
Marcus Burke
Part II Business Models and Operations
Business Models for Shared and Autonomous Mobility	33
William Riggs and Sven A. Beiker
Enabling Transportation Networks with Automated Vehicles: From Individual Vehicle Motion Control to Networked Fleet Management	49
Lily Elefteriadou, Blaine Leonard, Lili Du, Wei Ma, Jun Liu, Kuilin Zhang, Jiaqi Ma, Ziqi Song, Xiaopeng Li, and Sevgi Erdogan
Catching up with Low-Speed Autonomous Shuttles	63
Katherine Turnbull, Cynthia Jones, and Lily Elefteriadou
Part III Users and Human Factors
Not So Autonomous Vehicles: A Path to Consumers’ Changing World	73
Johanna Zmud, Ipek N. Sener, Barbara Lenz, and Victoriya Kolarova

Societal Expectations from Automated Road Mobility: Results of a Survey in Germany 78
Yasmin Halil and Gereon Meyer

Democratising Driverless Futures: Five Lessons for Public Dialogue on AVs 88
Jack Stilgoe and Nicole Badstuber

Automated Vehicles & Vulnerable Road Users: Representing the Under-Represented 97
Justin M. Owens, Michael Clamann, David Aylor, Stacy A. Balk, Jana Lynott, Maya Pindeus, Amy Rosepiller, Lauren Silverstein, and Francis Gemperle

Part IV Vehicle Systems and Technology Development

New Simulation Tools for Training and Testing Automated Vehicles 111
Jiaqi Ma, Chris Schwarz, Ziran Wang, Maria Elli, German Ros, and Yiheng Feng

Human, Machine, Sensor, Infrastructure: All Together Against Cyberattacks in AV 120
Jonathan Petit and Victor Murray

Part V Policy and Planning

Preparing for Automated Vehicles and Shared Mobility: The Existential Questions 135
Katherine Kortum

Benchmarking Automated and Autonomous Vehicle Policies in the United States 144
William Riggs

Ethical Algorithms in Autonomous Vehicles: Reflections on a Workshop 161
Nicholas G. Evans

Author Index 171