

CONTENTS

List of figures	vii
List of tables	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
List of contributors	xiii
Introduction: Teresa Phipps and Deborah Youngs	1
1 Mothers and daughters and sons, in the law: Family conflict, legal stories, and women’s litigation in late medieval Marseille	14
Susan McDonough
2 Consent and coercion: Women’s use of marital consent laws as legal defence in late medieval Paris	32
Kristi DiClemente
3 Shades of consent: Abduction for marriage and women’s agency in the late medieval Low Countries	48
Chanelle Delameillieure
4 Female litigants in secular and ecclesiastical courts in the lands of the Bohemian Crown, c.1300–c.1500	63
Michaela Antonín Malaníková

5 Widowhood and attainder in medieval Ireland: the case of Margaret Nugent Sparky Booker	81
6 Choosing Chancery? Women's petitions to the late medieval court of Chancery Cordelia Beattie	99
7 Gendered roles and female litigants in north-eastern England, 1300–1530 Peter L. Larson	116
8 Property over patriarchy? Remarried widows as litigants in the records of Glasgow's commissary court, 1615–1694 Rebecca Mason	133
9 Women negotiating wealth: gender, law and arbitration in early modern southern Tyrol Margareth Lanzinger and Janine Maegraith	152
10 A litigating widow and wife in early modern Sweden: Lady Elin Johansdotter [Månesköld] and her family circle Mia Korpiola	173
11 Women litigants in early eighteenth-century Ireland Mary O'Dowd	193
12 Hidden in plain sight: female litigators, reproductive lives, archival practices and early modern French historiography Julie Hardwick	209
Combined bibliography	223
Index	247