

Contents

Acknowledgments — v

Notes on Contributors — vii

Medium Foreword — xi

Akira Mizuta Lippit

Introduction: Animal Lives and Moving Images — 1

Laura McMahon and Michael Lawrence

PART 1: ANIMAL LIFE AND CINEMATIC SPECIFICITY

1 Animal Photogénie — 23

The Wild Side of French Film Theory's First Wave

James Leo Cahill

2 Cats and the Moving Image — 42

Feline Cinematicity from Lumière to Maru

Rosalind Galt

3 Buñuel's Bull Meets YouTube's Lion — 58

Surrealist and Digital Posthumanisms

Adam Lowenstein

4 Muybridgean Motion/Materialist Film — 72

Malcolm Le Grice's Berlin Horse

Michael Lawrence

PART 2: CROSS-SPECIES IDENTIFICATIONS

5 'You Can See What Species I Belong to, but Don't Treat Me Lightly' — 95

Rhetorics of Representation in Animated Animal Narratives

Paul Wells

6 A Cut or a Dissolve? — 108

Insects and Identification in Microcosmos

Georgina Evans

7 Subjunctive Desires — 121

Becoming Animal in Green Porno and Seduce Me

Cynthia Chris

8 Animal Melancholia — 134

On the Scent of Dean Spanley

Lynn Turner

PART 3: ANIMAL ECONOMIES

9 King Kong Capitalism — 153

Julian Murphet

10 Animal Life and Moral Agency in Post-war Cinema — 171

Velma Johnston, Marilyn Monroe, Arthur Miller and John Huston's The Misfits

Robert McKay

11 Being Struck — 187

On the Force of Slaughter and Cinematic Affect

Nicole Shukin and Sarah O'Brien

12 Screening Pigs — 203

Visibility, Materiality and the Production of Species

Laura McMahon

PART 4: TOWARDS A NON-ANTHROPOCENTRIC CINEMA

13 Animal Life in the Cinematic Umwelt — 221

Anat Pick

14 Bear Images — 238

Human Performativity and Animal Touch in Grizzly Man

Cecilia Novero

15 The Tumult of Integrations Out of the Sky — 254

The Movement of Birds and Film's Ornithology

Jonathan Burt

16 Unknowing Animals — 271

Wild Bird Films and the Limits of Knowledge

Susan McHugh

17 Hitchcock – The Animal, Life and Death — 288

Raymond Bellour

Index — 299