

Contents

List of Illustrations	xi
Preface	xv
Introduction: Seed Images, Ancient and Modern	i
Part One THE PATRISTIC BACKGROUND	19
1. Resurrection and Martyrdom: The Decades Around 200	21
Early Metaphors for Resurrection: Fertility and Repetition	22
The Second Century: Organic Metaphors and Material Continuity	27
Irenaeus and Tertullian: The Paradox of Continuity and Change	34
Martyrdom	43
Burial Practices	51
2. Resurrection, Relic Cult, and Asceticism:
The Debates of 400 and Their Background	59
The Legacy of the Second Century	59
Origen and Methodius: The Seed versus the Statue	63
Aphrahat, Ephraim, and Cyril of Jerusalem: Immutable Particles
in Process	71
Gregory of Nyssa: Survival, Flux, and the Fear of Decay	81
Jerome and the Origenist Controversy: The Issue of
Bodily Integrity	86
Augustine and the Reassembled Statue: The Background to the
Middle Ages	94

Relic Cult	104
Asceticism, the Church, and the World	108
Part Two THE TWELFTH CENTURY	115
3. Reassemblage and Regurgitation: Ideas of Bodily Resurrection in Early Scholasticism	117
Herrad of Hohenbourg: An Introduction to Twelfth-Century Art and Theology	117
A Scholastic Consensus: The Reassemblage and Dowering of the Body	121
Honorius Augustodunensis and John Scotus Erigena: An Alternative Tradition?	137
4. Psychosomatic Persons and Reclothed Skeletons: Images of Resurrection in Spiritual Writing and Iconography	156
Hildegard of Bingen: The Greening of Person and the Body as Dust	157
Cistercian Writing: Images of First and Second Resurrection	163
Peter the Venerable and the Pauline Seed	176
Otto of Freising's Uneasy Synthesis: Resurrection "Clothed in a Double Mantle . . ."	180
The Iconography of the General Resurrection: Devouring and Regurgitation of Fragments and Bones	186
5. Resurrection, Heresy, and Burial ad Sanctos : The Twelfth-Century Context	200
Fragmentation and Burial Practices	201
Hierarchy, Heresy and Fear of Decay	214
Miracles	220
Part Three THE DECADES AROUND 1300	227
6. Resurrection, Hylomorphism, and Abundantia : Scholastic Debates in the Thirteenth Century	229
The Discourse of High Scholasticism: The Rejection of Statues and Seeds	232
Bonaventure and the Ambivalence of Desire	247
Albert the Great, Thomas Aquinas, and Giles of Rome: Resurrection, Hylomorphism, and Formal Identity	256
The Condemnations of 1277 and the Materialist Reaction	271
7. Somatomorphic Soul and Visio Dei : The Beatific Vision Controversy and Its Background	279
Purgatory	280
The Controversy Over the Beatific Vision	283
Otherworld Journeys and the Divine Comedy	291
The Hagiography and Iconography of Wholeness	305

8. Fragmentation and Ecstasy: The Thirteenth-Century Context	318
The Practice of Bodily Partition	320
Devotional Literature: Body as Locus of Experience and as Friend	329
Women Mystics and the Triumph of Desire	334
Epilogue	341
 General Index	 345
Index of Secondary Authors	359
Illustration Credits	367