

Contents

---

---

|  |      |
|--|------|
| Illustrations  | vii  |
| Contributors   | ix   |
| Acknowledgements   | xiii |
| ForewordThomas V. Cohen and Elizabeth S. Cohen  | 1    |
| IntroductionRichard Raiswell  | 9    |
| Knowledge for Sale  |      |
| 1. The Problem of Fraud in Early Modern AlchemyTara E. Nummedal   | 37   |
| 2. 'He is indeed a kind of Scholler-Mountebank':Academic Liars in Jacobean SatireSarah Knight   | 59   |
| 3. Good Information, Bad Information and Misinformationin Fifteenth-Century Italian DiplomacyPaul M. Dover                                      | 81   |
| Reputation and Honour   |      |
| 4. "Tis policy and stratagem must do': Rape, Deception,and Vendetta in The Most Lamentable Tragedy ofTitus AndronicusMichael Cichon | 105  |
| 5. Whence Springs the Lie? Motive and Fraud in theManosquin Criminal Court (1340–1403)Steven Bednarski  | 123  |
| 6. Mock and Clandestine Marriages, Deceits, and Gamesin Jewish Italian Communities in the Early Modern PeriodRoni Weinstein                     | 145  |

Government of Women

7. The Weamen of Middlesex: Faux Female Voices in the English Revolution
Georgia Wilder 163

8. Widowhood and Deception: Ambiguities of Queenship in Late Medieval Crown of Aragon
Núria Silleras-Fernández 185

An Idle Press

9. Side-Stepping the Censor: The Clandestine Trade in Prohibited Texts in Early Modern Augsburg
Allyson F. Creasman 211

10. Rogues, Counterfeitors, and Forgers: Surreptitious Printing in the Popular Literature of Renaissance England
Michael Long 239

Inventing the Past

11. Sex, Lies, and Manuscript: On the 'Castration' of the Lindau Archives
Johannes C. Wolfart 271

12. The Deceived as Deceiver: False Testimony in the Case of Robert of Artois
Dana L. Sample 287

13. The Myth of Mother Shipton: Prophet-Making and Profit-Taking
David A. Wilson 309

Index 325