

CONTENTS

	Page
Preface to Third Edition	vii
Preface to Second Edition	xi
Preface to First Edition	xiii
Table of Cases	xxxi
Table of UK Statutes	cvii
Table of Scottish Statutes	cxxiii
Table of UK Statutory Instruments	cxxvii
Table of Scottish Statutory Instruments	cxxxv
Table of Treaties and Conventions	cxxxvii
Table of Directives	cxlix
Table of EU Regulations	cliii

	Page/Para.
Chapter 1 INTRODUCTION	1
Scope of the subject	1.01
Justification and purposes	1.11
Identification of the appropriate law	1.16
The distinctiveness of the Scottish system	1.20
Scottish origins	1.26
Modern sources	1.36
Juristic authority	1.36
Case Law	1.37
Legislation	1.39
Chapter 2 THEORIES AND METHODS	23
Introduction	2.01
Historical theories	2.03
The post-glossators and statutists	2.03
The comity theory	2.08
Universalist theories	2.16
The theory of vested rights	2.29
The local law theory	2.35
Modern theories	2.39
Policy evaluation methods	2.40
Pragmatism	2.87
Economic theories of private international law	2.100
Chapter 3 INTERNATIONAL INSTRUMENTS: IMPLEMENTATION AND INTERPRETATION	69
Introduction	3.01
European Union	3.04
Introduction	3.04
Private international law competence	3.05
Legislative working methods	3.11

Hague Conference on Private International Law	3.12
Legislative working methods	3.16
Implementation of international instruments and their interpretation	3.18
Introduction	3.18
Assumption that the law already conforms to the Convention	3.20
Independent statutory enactment without scheduling the Convention	3.21
Statutes incorporating in whole or in part the text of the Convention	3.26
European legislation	3.28
Aids to the interpretation of international instruments	3.31
Chapter 4 IDENTIFICATION OF THE APPLICABLE LAW	89
Introduction	4.01
Characterisation of the question	4.06
Introduction	4.06
What is characterised?	4.08
Characterisation by the lex causae	4.11
Characterisation by the lex fori	4.13
Characterisation by autonomous concepts	4.17
Characterisation of foreign rules in their context	4.19
Characterisation in practice	4.21
The connecting factor	4.27
Renvoi	4.40
Introduction	4.40
Arguments against the admission of renvoi	4.47
Arguments for the admission of renvoi	4.52
The approach of the UK courts	4.56
The “national law” of a British subject	4.69
The incidental question	4.71
Chapter 5 APPLICATION OF STATUTES AND LIMITS TO THE APPLICATION OF FOREIGN LAW	113
Introduction	5.01
Application of statutes	5.02
General considerations	5.02
The identification of the law of a foreign country	5.11
Limits to the application of foreign law	5.18
Some general limitations	5.18
Public policy	5.22
Penal laws	5.25
Revenue law	5.27
Public law	5.31
Chapter 6 STATE IMMUNITY	127
Introduction	6.01
The European Convention	6.09
The UN Convention on the Jurisdictional Immunities of States and Their Property	6.12
The human rights dimension	6.17
The State Immunity Act 1978	6.21
Introduction	6.21
Entities enjoying immunity	6.23
Nature of the immunities	6.29
Waiver of jurisdictional immunity	6.30
Exceptions from jurisdictional immunity	6.32

Section 31 of the Civil Jurisdiction and Judgments Act	6.36
Procedural privileges of states	6.37
Immunities and privileges of foreign heads of state	6.41
Personal immunities of representatives of foreign states	6.42
Diplomatic agents and their staff	6.44
Foreign consuls and their staff	6.47
Waiver of immunities	6.49
Immunities of international organisations and of their officials	6.50
Chapter 7 CONNECTING FACTORS	149
Introduction	7.01
The doctrine of a personal law	7.01
Traditional and contemporary connecting factors	7.03
Domicile	7.04
The concept of domicile	7.13
General principles	7.16
In ascertaining domicile only the internal rules of Scots law are applied	7.17
Domicile, as a common law concept, is ascertained in the same way in each branch of the law	7.20
Every person must have a domicile	7.21
Every person has only one operative domicile	7.22
An existing domicile is presumed to continue	7.24
Domicile of origin	7.25
Introduction	7.25
Attribution of the domicile of origin	7.26
Common law	7.29
Family Law (Scotland) Act 2006	7.30
Loss of domicile of origin	7.32
Before the age of 16	7.33
After the age of 16	7.35
Revival of domicile of origin	7.36
Domicile of choice	7.38
Acquisition of a domicile of choice	7.38
Capacity	7.40
Residence	7.41
Intention	7.43
Evidence of intention	7.47
Loss of a domicile of choice	7.49
Domicile of married women	7.50
Independent domicile of children	7.52
Domicile of incapacitated adults	7.53
Domicile and change of systems	7.54
Prospects for reform	7.56
Habitual residence	7.60
Principles and characteristics	7.65
Habitual residence is a factually based concept	7.67
A habitual residence may be lost in a day	7.70
A habitual residence may not be acquired in a day	7.72
Habitual residence may be equated with ordinary residence	7.74
Residence may become habitual whether it is illegal or involuntary	7.75
An individual may only have one habitual residence	7.78
An individual may have no habitual residence	7.79
Loss	7.80
Establishing loss	7.81

Predicting loss	7.83
Preventing loss	7.85
Acquisition	7.90
Intention	7.93
Residence	7.96
Habitual residence and children	7.98
Residence as an EU connecting factor	7.104
Evolution of the European concept of residence	7.106
Principles and characteristics	7.111
Habitual residence will be subject to the policy objectives of the host legislative framework	7.112
A new habitual residence may be acquired immediately	7.113
An existing habitual residence may be retained notwithstanding long absences or limited time spent in the home state	7.114
An individual may have only one habitual residence	7.115
An individual may have no habitual residence	7.116
Loss	7.117
Acquisition	7.119
Children	7.123
Future developments	7.127
Chapter 8 JURISDICTION	211
Introduction	8.01
The Brussels I Regulation and the 2007 Lugano Convention	8.05
RULES OF JURISDICTION APPLICABLE UNDER SCHEDULE 8 TO THE 1982 ACT	8.15
Proceedings excluded from Schedule 8	8.16
Introduction	8.16
Rules of jurisdiction under Schedule 8 to the 1982 Act	8.25
Introduction	8.25
Exclusive jurisdictions	8.28
Immoveable property: real rights	8.32
Immoveable property: tenancies	8.40
Seat of company, legal person or association	8.48
Place of a public register	8.63
Place of deposit or registration of a patent, trademark, design or similar right	8.65
Place of enforcement of judgments	8.70
Incidental rules relating to exclusive jurisdictions	8.72
Subsidiary exclusive jurisdiction	8.74
Introduction	8.74
The appearance of the defender	8.76
Validity of choice-of-court agreements	8.88
Formal validity	8.88
Substantive validity/consent	8.103
Effect of choice-of-court agreements on third parties	8.112
Choice of court and lis pendens	8.118
Harmony between the Brussels I Regulation and the Hague
Choice of Court Agreements Convention	8.123
The common law rules of prorogation	8.133
Insurance contracts, consumer contracts and individual contracts of employment under the 1982 Act	8.137
Insurance and consumer contracts under other provisions	8.155
Individual contracts of employment	8.157

THE DOMICILE OR RESIDENCE OF THE DEFENDER AS GROUNDS OF JURISDICTION	8.176
Introduction	8.176
The domicile of the defender as a ground of jurisdiction under the 1982 Act	8.177
The domicile of individuals under the 1982 Act and the 2001 Order	8.182
The domicile or seat of corporations, associations and trusts under the 1982 Act	8.189
SPECIAL JURISDICTIONS	8.197
Itinerants	8.200
Contract	8.204
Delict and quasi-delict	8.231
Civil claims for damages in the course of criminal proceedings	8.253
Establishment	8.255
Jurisdiction in trusts	8.259
Arrestment of moveables	8.263
Introduction	8.263
Common law	8.265
Procedural aspects of arrestments	8.278
Arrestment of ships to found jurisdiction	8.279
Subsidiary jurisdiction for non-EU defenders proposed by the Commission in the recast of Brussels I	8.280
Ownership of immoveables	8.283
Introduction	8.283
Possessory or proprietary actions relating to moveables	8.287
Interdict	8.293
Debts secured over immoveable property	8.296
Decisions of organs of companies, other legal persons and associations	8.300
Arbitration	8.303
Patents, trademarks and designs	8.308
Co-defenders, third parties and counterclaims	8.311
Introduction	8.311
Co-defenders	8.312
Third parties	8.325
Counterclaims and reconvention	8.327
Contract: immoveable property	8.333
Limitation of liability for use or operation of a ship	8.335
Provisional and protective measures	8.337
Matters excluded from Schedule 8	8.350
Matters not excluded from Schedule 8	8.371
Excursus on admiralty jurisdiction	8.373
Rules of jurisdiction in union instruments or national legislation harmonised pursuant to such instruments	8.379
Duty of the court to examine its own jurisdictional competence	8.381
Provisions on lis pendens and related actions	8.385
Lis pendens	8.388
Related actions	8.396
Cases where an EU court has jurisdiction under Brussels I but a non-EU or Lugano state is already seised of the same or a related action	8.397
The common law principle of forum non conveniens	8.400
Introduction	8.400
The nature of the plea	8.407

Factors relevant to plea	8.411
Factors irrelevant to plea	8.416
Cases where the plea of forum non conveniens is competent	8.421
Interdict of a foreign action	8.425
Chapter 9 EXTERNAL DECREES: RECOGNITION AND ENFORCEMENT	373
Scope of chapter	9.01
THE COMMON LAW RELATING TO THE RECOGNITION AND ENFORCEMENT OF FOREIGN JUDGMENTS	9.03
Introduction	9.03
Conditions of recognition under the common law	9.16
Conditions relating to jurisdiction	9.16
Conditions relating to the nature of action	9.39
Conditions relating to the conduct of the proceedings	9.50
Conditions relating to the nature of the decree	9.54
Conclusiveness of foreign judgments	9.58
Indirect enforcement of foreign judgments	9.62
Foreign decrees as evidence of debt	9.63
Foreign decrees as res judicata	9.64
DIRECT ENFORCEMENT OF FOREIGN JUDGMENTS	9.74
Actions for a decree-conform	9.74
Statutory schemes for the recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments	9.78
Introduction	9.78
Commonwealth scheme	9.82
Foreign Judgments (Reciprocal Enforcement) Act 1933	9.90
The Carriage of Goods by Road Act 1965	9.103
Enforcement of European Union judgments	9.106
Recognition and enforcement under the Brussels I Regulation	9.109
Introduction to the Brussels I Regulation	9.109
Scope	9.112
Interpretation	9.115
The Brussels I Regulation scheme of recognition and enforcement	9.118
Enforcement under the Brussels I Regulation	9.122
Enforcement of UK judgments in other parts of the UK	9.138
Introduction	9.138
Judgments within the scheme	9.141
Procedures for enforcement	9.147
Chapter 10 CHOICE OF LAW IN CONTRACT—ROME I REGULATION	421
Introduction	10.01
Interpretation of the Rome I Regulation	10.09
Precedence of Union Law and relationship with conventions	10.11
The scope of the Rome I Regulation	10.20
Capacity	10.34
Wills, succession and family law	10.36
Negotiable instruments	10.43
Arbitration and choice of court agreements	10.46
Companies, partnerships etc.	10.52
Agency	10.59
Trusts	10.61
Culpa in contrahendo	10.62
Evidence and procedure	10.63
Insurance	10.65

Universal application of the Regulation	10.68
Applicable law by choice	10.69
Real choice—Express	10.72
Real choice—Implied	10.83
Dépeçage (splitting the applicable law)	10.97
Changing the applicable law	10.102
Mandatory provisions of certain laws protected	10.104
Substantive and formal validity of the choice of law by the parties in the contract	10.121
Applicable law in the absence of choice	10.124
Article 4 of the Rome Convention	10.125
Articles 4 and 19 of the Rome I Regulation	10.178
Article 19—Habitual residence	10.196
Application of the lex causae and exclusion of renvoi	10.202
Capacity to contract	10.205
Formal validity	10.210
Introduction	10.210
Scope of the Convention and Regulation's rules	10.211
Main choice of law rule	10.214
Material validity	10.229
Sphere of operation of the applicable law	10.240
Voluntary assignments and contractual subrogation	10.258
Legal subrogation	10.266
Multiple liability	10.268
Set-off	10.270
Burden of proof	10.272
Overriding mandatory provisions and public policy	10.275
Overriding mandatory provisions	10.275
Public policy	10.305
Certain consumer contracts	10.317
Rome Convention	10.317
Prescribed circumstances in which Article 5 may be invoked	10.319
Contracts to which Article 5 applies	10.321
Rome I Regulation	10.326
Article 6(1)—Consumer contracts that are subject to a special applicable law regime	10.327
Who is a consumer?	10.327
What types of contract are covered?	10.328
What is the necessary connection between the consumer's habitual residence and the professional?	10.329
Article 6(2)—Limited party autonomy for consumer contracts subject to a special applicable law regime	10.331
Consumer contracts that are not subject to a special applicable law regime and are therefore governed by Articles 3 and 4 of Rome I	10.334
Article 6(3) contracts where the professional is not pursuing his business activities in or directing them to the consumer's habitual residence	10.334
Article 6(4) exceptions	10.336
Individual employment contracts	10.345
Rome Convention	10.345
Insurance contracts	10.374
Introduction	10.374
Rome Convention	10.375
Rome I Regulation	10.378

Article 7 of the Rome I Regulation	10.382
Contracts relating to immoveables	10.390
Scope	10.390
Applicable law by choice	10.391
Applicable law in the absence of choice	10.392
Capacity	10.396
Formal validity	10.397
Material validity and mandatory rules	10.400
Agency contracts	10.401
Introduction	10.401
Relationship between principal and agent inter se	10.405
Relationship between agent and third party	10.408
Chapter 11 ARBITRATION	559
Arbitration and private international law	11.03
Jurisdiction	11.04
Choice of law	11.07
Law governing the arbitration agreement	11.08
Law governing the arbitral procedure	11.10
Law governing the substance of the dispute	11.11
Recognition and enforcement of foreign arbitral awards	11.14
Arbitration Act 2010 and the common law	11.15
New York Convention	11.17
Other regimes	11.27
Chapter 12 FOREIGN MONEY LIABILITIES	573
Introduction	12.01
Place of payment of money obligations	12.08
Substantive obligations of the parties	12.09
Money of account	12.13
Money of payment	12.17
Role of the law of the place of payment	12.18
Variations in values of money of account and money of payment	12.19
Revalorisation laws	12.24
Interest	12.26
Gold clauses and indexing provisions	12.33
Exchange rates	12.36
Decrees in foreign currencies	12.37
The Rome I and Rome II Regulations	12.48
Chapter 13 BILLS OF EXCHANGE AND LETTERS OF CREDIT	593
Bills of Exchange	13.01
Introduction	13.01
Negotiability	13.11
Capacity	13.13
Formal validity	13.14
Interpretation	13.19
Essential validity and effect	13.22
Transfer of title	13.23
Preservation of rights of recourse	13.27
Discharge	13.30
Damages for dishonour	13.32
Summary diligence or execution	13.34

Letters of credit and performance bonds	13.35
Letters of credit	13.36
Performance bonds	13.39
Chapter 14 CHOICE OF LAW IN NON-CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATIONS—ROME II REGULATION	607
Introduction	14.01
Interpretation of the Rome II Regulation	14.02
Precedence of Union law and relationship with conventions	14.04
The scope of the Rome II Regulation	14.10
Wills, succession and family law	14.19
Negotiable instruments	14.27
Companies, partnership and unincorporated associations (legal entities)	14.31
Trusts	14.37
Nuclear damage	14.40
Privacy and defamation	14.42
Evidence and procedure	14.48
Universal application of the Rome II Regulation	14.50
Torts/delicts, unjust enrichment, negotiorum gestio and culpa in contrahendo	14.51
Applicable law by choice	14.51
Torts/delicts	14.84
Applicable law in the absence of choice	14.84
Unjust enrichment, negotiorum gestio and culpa in contrahendo	14.191
Applicable law in the absence of choice	14.191
Torts/delicts, unjust enrichment, negotiorum gestio and culpa in contrahendo	14.231
Application of the lex causae and exclusion of Renvoi	14.231
Sphere of operation of the applicable law	14.233
Mandatory rules of the forum and public policy	14.255
Rules of safety and conduct	14.270
Direct actions against the insurer of the person liable	14.274
Subrogation	14.279
Multiple liability	14.281
Formal validity	14.285
Burden of proof	14.287
States with more than one legal system	14.291
Application in time and entry into force	14.294
Review	14.296
Delictual actions falling outside the scope of the Rome II Regulation	14.298
Introduction	14.298
Common law rules	14.299
Double actionability	14.300
Evolution in England	14.301
Evolution in Scotland	14.310
Defamation	14.315
1995 Act	14.317
Maritime delicts	14.320
Delicts at sea	14.320
Delicts committed on the continental shelf	14.323

Chapter 15 MARRIAGE, CIVIL PARTNERSHIP AND COHABITATION	725
Marriage	15.02
Monogamous marriages	15.04
Formal Validity	15.06
Marriages celebrated in Scotland	15.07
Marriages celebrated abroad	15.09
Renvoi	15.14
Consular marriages	15.15
Marriage of H.M. forces abroad	15.16
Marriages on the high seas	15.17
The doctrine of the “common law marriage”	15.18
Capacity to marry	15.19
Statutory rule	15.20
Statutory exceptions	15.21
Common law rules no longer applicable	15.26
Assessment of capacity in respect of marriages celebrated in Scotland	15.27
Renvoi	15.29
Essential validity of marriages	15.30
Physical incapacity	15.35
Consent	15.36
Polygamous marriages	15.39
Classification	15.40
Legal response to polygamous marriages	15.41
Capacity to enter into a polygamous marriage	15.48
Civil partnerships	15.51
Civil partnerships registered in Scotland	15.52
Civil partnerships registered abroad	15.54
Validity	15.61
Opposite-sex partnerships	15.62
Cohabitation	15.63
 Chapter 16 DIVORCE AND DISSOLUTION	 753
Introduction	16.01
Jurisdiction	16.02
Divorce and separation	16.02
Choice of law	16.18
Recognition of foreign decrees	16.22
Council Regulation 2201/2003	16.24
Judgments capable of recognition	16.26
Restrictions on the state of recognition	16.28
Grounds of non-recognition	16.29
Family Law Act 1986 Pt II	16.36
Proceedings and non-proceedings divorces	16.36
Localising “proceedings”—Transnational divorces	16.40
Divorces obtained by means of proceedings	16.43
British divorces	16.43
Overseas divorces	16.44
Divorces obtained otherwise than by means of proceedings	16.46
Grounds for the refusal of recognition	16.48
Overseas divorces obtained by means of proceedings	16.49
Overseas divorces obtained otherwise than by means of proceedings	16.53
All overseas divorces	16.54

Actions concerning civil partnerships	16.57
Primary rule	16.58
Alternative rule	16.59
Staying proceedings	16.60
Recognition of orders concerning civil partnerships	16.61
United Kingdom orders	16.62
European Union orders	16.63
Overseas orders	16.64
Chapter 17 CHILDREN	785
Introduction	17.01
Part I: Issues relating to status	17.02
Legitimacy and illegitimacy	17.02
Parenthood	17.06
Guardianship	17.10
Part II: Matters of parental responsibility	17.14
Introduction	17.14
Jurisdiction	17.16
Council Regulation 2201/2003	17.19
1996 Hague Convention	17.30
Family Law Act 1986	17.34
Recognition and enforcement	17.40
United Kingdom orders	17.52
Choice of law	17.54
Co-operation	17.60
Part III: International child abduction	17.61
The 1980 Hague Convention	17.64
Application of the exceptions	17.73
Intra-EU child abductions	17.100
Non-Convention cases	17.105
Child abduction and the regulation of jurisdiction	17.107
Child abduction in practice	17.108
Transfrontier contact	17.112
International relocation	17.120
Internal relocation	17.123
Part IV: Adoption	17.125
1993 Hague Convention on Inter-country Adoption	17.128
The Scottish rules	17.134
Jurisdiction	17.136
Choice of law	17.148
Recognition and effects attributed to adoptions	17.152
Chapter 18 ADULTS	873
Introduction	18.01
Adults with Incapacity (Scotland) Act 2000	18.03
Hague Convention on the Protection of Adults	18.04
Jurisdiction	18.06
Choice of law	18.11
Recognition and enforcement	18.14
Co-operation	18.17
Abduction	18.18
Chapter 19 MAINTENANCE	885
Introduction	19.01
Nature and scope of maintenance	19.04

Evolution of international developments	19.12
Maintenance instruments for the 21st century	19.25
2007 Hague Convention and Protocol	19.27
Council Regulation No.4/2009	19.29
Jurisdiction	19.31
Choice of law	19.40
Recognition and enforcement	19.41
United Kingdom orders	19.42
Recognition and enforcement of non-UK maintenance orders	19.44
Chapter 20 THE EFFECTS OF MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE ON PROPERTY	911
Introduction	20.01
Marriage	20.04
Ownership of property during marriage	20.04
Division of property upon divorce	20.27
Jurisdiction	20.30
Choice of law	20.39
Recognition and enforcement	20.41
Civil partnerships	20.43
Cohabitation	20.44
Chapter 21 PROPERTY	933
The distinction between moveable and immoveable property	21.01
Land in Scotland	21.09
Heritable securities	21.10
Leases of heritage	21.13
Interest in partnership owning immoveables	21.14
Immoveable property	21.15
Introduction	21.15
Capacity	21.22
Formalities of alienation	21.31
Essential validity	21.41
Construction	21.44
Proprietary rights	21.48
Moveable property	21.50
Introduction	21.50
Corporeal moveables	21.51
Questions of proprietary right	21.62
Renvoi	21.71
Incorporeal moveables	21.83
The Rome I Regulation	21.93
Chapter 22 TRUSTS	967
Introduction	22.01
Scope of the Act and of the Hague Convention	22.10
Applicable law	22.17
Applicable law by express or implied choice	22.18
Applicable law in the absence of choice	22.22
Where the putative applicable law lacks the type of trust or the trust is invalid under that law	22.33
Splitting and replacing the applicable law	22.37
Sphere of the applicable law	22.39

Mandatory rules	22.57
Exclusion of foreign conflict of laws rules	22.63
Immoveable property in Scotland	22.64
Recognition under the 1987 Act	22.68
Chapter 23 ADMINISTRATION OF ESTATES OF PERSONS DECEASED	999
Introduction	23.01
Jurisdiction to confirm	23.17
Confirmation in the case of missing persons	23.23
Reciprocal recognition of UK grants	23.24
Confirmation in cases of foreign wills and intestacies	23.33
Resealing under the Colonial Probates Act 1892	23.41
Resealing of Scottish grants abroad	23.45
Transmission of office of executor	23.46
Powers and duties of executors	23.47
Collection of assets	23.50
Payment of debts	23.54
Payment of prior rights, legal rights and legacies, and distribution of residue of the estate	23.58
The Administration of Estates Convention	23.61
EU proposal for a regulation on succession	23.63
Chapter 24 SUCCESSION	1025
Introduction	24.01
Jurisdiction	24.06
Recognition and enforcement of judgments	24.09
Incoming judgments	24.09
Outgoing Scottish judgments	24.11
Choice of law	24.12
Legal rights	24.12
Prior rights	24.24
Intestate succession	24.30
Testate succession	24.45
Destinations to heirs	24.82
Introduction	24.82
Moveable property	24.83
Immoveable property	24.88
Law reform proposals	24.107
Scottish Law Commission	24.107
The EU Draft Regulation on Succession	24.127
Chapter 25 COMPANIES, FIRMS AND ASSOCIATIONS AND INSOLVENCY	1069
Introduction	25.01
European Union level business entities	25.05
Personal law of companies	25.07
Recognition of foreign companies and their powers to act in Scotland	25.15
The impact of primary EU law	25.25
Constitution and management of companies	25.32
Pre-incorporation agreements	25.32
Constitution of companies	25.35
Personal liability of members of a company	25.37
Capacity	25.40
Execution of documents	25.47
Overseas companies	25.60

Dissolved foreign companies	25.66
Floating charges and receivers	25.69
Introduction	25.69
Statutory changes	25.72
The present law	25.74
Floating charges by companies registered in Scotland	25.75
Floating charges created under Scots law by companies not registered in Scotland	25.80
Reform of registration of floating charges in the United Kingdom	25.82
Insolvency of companies	25.87
The EU Regulation on Insolvency Proceedings	25.88
Scope	25.89
Jurisdiction, COMI and the classification of proceedings	25.96
Recognition and enforcement and the powers of the liquidator	25.116
Applicable law	25.128
The UNCITRAL Model Law	25.140
Recognition of foreign proceedings	25.146
Direct rights of access for foreign representatives and creditors to courts and legal processes in the enacting state	25.158
Cooperation between courts and officeholders from different jurisdictions	25.160
Coordination of concurrent proceedings	25.161
The interplay between the EU Regulation, the Model Law and British/Commonwealth insolvency law	25.168
Domestic insolvency provisions	25.176
Administration	25.177
Winding up	25.178
Inter-UK and designated countries (Commonwealth) statutory provisions	25.200
Chapter 26 BANKRUPTCY	1143
Introduction	26.01
The EU Regulation on Insolvency Proceedings	26.07
The UNCITRAL Model Law	26.23
Scottish sequestrations: International aspects	26.25
Petitioning creditor's oath	26.25
Jurisdiction	26.26
Concurrent proceedings	26.33
Vesting of the estate in the trustee	26.42
Miscellaneous aspects of Scots bankruptcy	26.46
Effect of bankrupt's discharge	26.54
Effect of an external bankruptcy or sequestration	26.56
Introduction	26.56
The common law	26.58
Jurisdictional competence of foreign court	26.62
Effect of external bankruptcies on heritage in Scotland	26.69
Effect of foreign discharge	26.71
Chapter 27 PROCEDURE AND EVIDENCE	1169
Introduction	27.01
Title to sue	27.08
Liability to be sued	27.11
Rules of evidence	27.14
Introduction	27.14

Burden of proof	27.17
Presumptions of death and survivorship	27.20
Prescription and limitation of actions	27.23
The nature of the remedies	27.28
Introduction	27.28
Compensation, retention, lien and counterclaims	27.29
Measure of damages	27.35
Interest	27.48
Claims expressed in foreign currencies	27.52
Procedural rules in actions involving a foreign element	27.53
EU procedural harmonisation measures	27.53
Sisting of mandatory	27.63
Caution for expenses	27.67
Service of writs	27.68
Proof of foreign public documents	27.99
Obtaining evidence outside Scotland	27.109
Introduction	27.109
Witnesses: facilities within the United Kingdom	27.110
Evidence by commission	27.111
Letter of request	27.117
Use of the Model Form	27.122
Use of video-links to assist the taking of evidence	27.122
Obtaining evidence in Scotland	27.131
Introduction	27.131
Evidence (Proceedings in Other Jurisdictions) Act 1975	27.132
Exhibition of Scottish records in foreign judicial proceedings	27.166
Proof of foreign law	27.171
Presumption that foreign law does not differ from Scots law	27.171
Foreign law to be relatively averred	27.174
Foreign law to be established as a fact in the case	27.178
Case stated under the British Law Ascertainment Act 1859	27.190
European Convention on Information on Foreign Law	27.194

Bibliography	1237
Index	1245