

Contents

Preface	vii
Townscape and Domestic Taste	I
Townscapes	3
Domestic Taste and Cultural Self-Definition	9
Urban Space as a Reflection of Society	27
The Hellenistic City of the Oscans	32
The Roman Colonists' City	61
Townscape and Ideology in the Age of Augustus	78
The City's Final Years	124
The Domestic Arts in Pompeii	135
The Origins of the Roman Villa	136
Two Forms of Living Space	142
A Miniature Villa in the Town	145
A Courtyard with a Large Marble Fountain	156
A Garden as Sanctuary	160
A Parlor Overlooking Diana's Sacred Grove	163
Gardens Filled with Sculptures	168
Dining under the Stars	174
Large Pictures for Small Dreams	184
Domestic Taste and Cultural Identity	192

Abbreviations	207
Notes	209
Illustration Credits	241
Index	245