

Table of Contents

Preface	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
Abbreviations	xv
States and Regions of Myanmar	xvii
Table of Cases	xix
Table of Legislation	xxi
1. Introducing Myanmar's 2008 Constitution	1
I. Constitutional Context	3
II. Constitutional Codification and the Constitutional Tribunal	8
III. The Constitution in a Military-state	11
IV. Organisation of the Book	13
2. The Origins and Content of the 2008 Constitution: An Overview	17
I. Parliamentary Democracy and the 1947 Constitution	18
II. Ne Win's 'Burmese' Socialism and the 1974 Constitution	22
III. The Military and Constitution-making: 1990s–2000s	26
IV. The Preamble and the Basic Principles of the Constitution	29
V. Conclusion	33
Further Reading	34
3. The Military: The Pre-eminence of the Tatmadaw in Governance	35
I. The Three Main National Causes	36
II. The Commander-in-Chief	41
III. Forces Affiliated with the Tatmadaw	44
IV. The National Defence and Security Council	47
V. States of Emergency	48
A. Constitutional Emergency Powers	49
B. The General Administration Department: Controlling Local Governance	51
VI. Tatmadaw Watchmen in the Legislature	53

VII. Courts Martial	56
VIII. Conclusion	57
Further Reading	58
 4. The Electoral System and Limits on Political Participation.....	59
I. Political Parties and Candidates	60
II. The Right to Vote and Run for Office.....	63
III. The Proposal for Proportional Representation.....	68
IV. The Administration of Elections	70
V. The Resolution of Electoral Disputes	73
VI. Complaints Against Legislators: The Right to Recall.....	76
VII. Conclusion	79
Further Reading	80
 5. The Legislature	81
I. The Union Legislature: A Tricameral System.....	82
A. The Pyidaungsu Hluttaw as the Dominant House.....	83
B. The Pyithu Hluttaw and Amyotha Hluttaw	87
II. The Loyalties, Privileges and Responsibilities of Legislators	89
III. The Scope of Legislative Power	93
A. Legislative Committees and Commissions	93
B. The Unresolved Status of Union Level Organisations.....	95
IV. Conclusion	99
Further Reading	100
 6. The Executive.....	101
I. The President as Head of the Union.....	102
A. Indirect Appointment and Impeachment Processes	103
B. Executive Decision-maker and Weak Legislator.....	106
II. The Centralising Mandate of the Union Government	109
III. Constitutional Commitments to a Market Economy	114
IV. Aung San Suu Kyi and the Office of the State Counsellor	117
V. The Administration of Union Territories	121
VI. Conclusion	122
Further Reading	123

7. Subnational Governance, Federalism and Ethnic Recognition	124
I. Territorial Representation: States and Regions	125
A. The Distinctiveness of the Seven Ethnic-Based States	126
B. The Constitutional Role of the Chief Minister and the Executive.....	129
C. The State/Region Hluttaw and its Limited Legislative Powers	131
II. Sub-national Legislative Representation of National Races.....	135
III. Special Governance Arrangements for Six Areas	140
A. Constitutional Powers of the Self-Administered Areas.....	141
B. Conflict and Ceasefires in the Wa, Kokang, Pa-O and Palaung Areas	142
C. The Danu and Naga Administered Areas	146
IV. Conclusion.....	148
Further Reading	149
8. The Judiciary as an Administrative Institution.....	150
I. The Union Supreme Court.....	151
A. Judicial Appointments and Removal.....	151
B. Role and Function of the Supreme Court	154
II. Sub-national Courts in a Unitary Judicial System	157
A. High Courts of the States and Regions	157
B. Courts in the Districts and Townships.....	158
C. The Judicial Power of Township Administrators.....	160
III. The Constitutional Tribunal	162
A. Tribunal Member Appointments and Removals	163
B. Limited Jurisdiction.....	165
C. Access to the Tribunal: Centralised and Elite-Led	168
D. The Approach of the Tribunal.....	169
IV. Conclusion.....	172
Further Reading	174
9. Constitutional Duties and the Contingency of Rights.....	175
I. The Status of International Law and Conventions	176
II. The Pre-eminence of Duties	178
A. The Distinction between ‘Citizens’ and ‘Persons’	179
B. Citizen’s Duties and Limitations on Rights	181

C. The Contingent Nature of Rights	183
D. Persons' Rights	187
E. State Assistance, Obligations and Prohibitions	188
III. Constitutional Writs in the Supreme Court.....	189
IV. The National Human Rights Commission	192
V. Conclusion	196
Further Reading	197
10. The Peace Process and Constitutional Change.....	199
I. The Peace Process: Normalising Debates on Federalism	200
II. The National Ceasefire Agreement: Peace in the Military-state	203
III. The 37 Principles as Constitutional Foundation.....	206
IV. The Process and Procedure of Constitutional Amendment	208
V. Proposals for Constitutional Reform	211
A. Democracy and the Role of the Tatmadaw	211
B. Federalism and Ethnic Claims	213
C. Limiting Executive and Judicial Power.....	219
VI. Conclusion	221
Further Reading	222
11. Conclusion	223
I. The Centrality of the Constitution to the Military-state	224
A. The Endorsement of the Military's Leading Role in Governance.....	224
B. The Ideological Commitments of the Constitution.....	225
C. The Organisation of the State: Coercive Centralism	226
II. Implications for Comparative Constitutional Inquiry	229
Glossary	232
Index	233