

Contents

List of illustrations	vii
List of contributors	viii
Introduction: conceptualizing post-human futures	1
MARK CARRIGAN AND DOUGLAS V. PORPORA
1 Being human (or what?) in the digital matrix land: the construction of the humanted	23
PIERPAOLO DONATI
2 Being human as an option: how to rescue personal ontology from transhumanism, and (above all) why bother	48
ANDREA M. MACCARINI
3 Perplexity logs: on routinized certainty work and social consequences of seeking advice from an artificial intelligence	69
EMMANUEL LAZEGA
4 Artificial intelligence and the challenge of social care in aging societies: who or what will care for us in the future?	92
JAMIE MORGAN
5 Why should enhanced and unenhanced humans care for each other?	117
ISMAEL AL-AMOUDI AND GAZI ISLAM

vi Contents

6	Can humans and AI robots be friends?	132
	MARGARET S. ARCHER

7	Humanity's end: where will we be in a million years?	153
	DOUGLAS V. PORPORA

	Index	172
--	--------------	-----

Printed in the United Kingdom
by Henry Ling Limited