Table of Contents

Introduction	1
Part I The General Structure of Legal Reasoning	15
1: Scientific versus Heuristic Legal Reasoning	17
Preliminary Remarks	17
Scientific Legal Reasoning	18
Heuristic Legal Reasoning	24
The Heuristic View Assessed	43
2: The Sources of Linguistic Vagueness	52
Introduction	. 52
Linguistic Uncertainty and Vagueness	54
Open Texture	54
Ambiguity	56
Other Forms of Context-Dependence	58
Imprecision	59
Essentially Contestable Concepts	61
Incompleteness	71
Dummy Standards and Pragmatic Vagueness	73
3: Value Pluralism and Absence of a Hierarchy of Norms	76
Preliminary Remarks	76
The Concept of Value Pluralism	77
Value Pluralism in the Law	82
Norm Collision in Adjudication	85
4: Precedent and the 'No Law' Situation as Sources of Legal Uncertainty	91
Introduction	91
Common and Civil Law	92
Common Vagueness in Precedent	95
Value Pluralism in Precedents	97
Rule Instability and the Topoi of Case Law Interpretation	98
Precedent – A Summary	106
The 'No Law' Situation	110
Conclusion	114

x Table of Contents

5:	Legal Reasoning – The Interpretative Stage	115
	Introduction	115
	The Scientific Approach to Legal Reasoning – Theories and Practice	117
	The Heuristic Approach – Complementary Perspectives	140
	The Three-Stage Model	147
	Conclusion	155
Pa	ert II The Legal Reasoning of the Court of Justice of the EU	159
6:	Vagueness and Value Pluralism In the Primary Materials of the
	EU Legal Order	161
st.	Introductory Remarks	161
	Linguistic Vagueness	162
	Multi-Lingualism	174
	Value Pluralism	175
	Precedent	180
	Gaps in the Law	183
	Conclusion	184
7:	The Legal Reasoning of the Court of Justice I – The Available Topoi	187
	Introduction	187
	Linguistic Criteria	188
	Systemic Criteria	191
	Purposive Criteria	207
	Comparative Criteria	215
	Genetic (Intention-Based) and Historical Arguments	217
	Special Legal Arguments	219
	Legal Dogmatic, Empirical and General Practical Arguments The Distinction between Law and Fact, and the Division of Labour	223
	Between the Court of Justice and National Courts	225
	The Principle of the National Procedural Prerogative and the Law of Remedies	228
	Temporal Limitation	229
	Conclusion	230
8:	The Legal Reasoning of the Court of Justice II – The Approach
	to Precedent	234
	Introduction	234
	The Relevant Structural Features of EU Law	235
	The Basic Features of the ECJ's Approach to Precedent	237
	The Sources of Precedent Uncertainty – A Brief Reminder	251
	The Topoi of Case Law Interpretation	251
	The Level of Generality, Rule Stability and Precedent Weight	269
	Conclusion	2.74

9: The Legal Reasoning of the Court of Justice III – The Cumulative
Approach	278
The Three-Stage Approach	278
The ECJ's Cumulative Approach	280
The Cumulative Approach Compared to the Three-Stage Model	291
Areas of Detailed Legislation – The Primacy of Literal Argumentation	294
Areas Involving Constitutional Issues and Fundamental Principles	298
The Variability of the Cumulative Approach according to
Subject Area – a Qualification	311
The ECJ's Cumulative Approach – Distinctive Features and its Relatio	n
to the Three-Stage Model	312
Conclusion	316
10: The Legal Reasoning of the Court of Justice IV – The In-Built
Communautaire Tendency of the Cumulative Approach	318
Introduction	318
The Closer Union Objective	319
The Objectives of the EU Legal Order	322
Systemic Arguments	323
The Limits of the In-Built Communautaire Tendency	325
Conclusion	329
11: The Legal Reasoning of the Court of Justice V – The Steadying Factors	s 332
Introduction	332
The 'Legal' Steadying Factors	334
The 'Extra-Legal' Steadying Factors	349
Conclusion	434
Conclusion	437
Epilogue
Index
	453