

Table of Contents

List of Contributors	v
List of Abbreviations	xxi
Preface	xxv
Part I
Introduction: Transformation	1
Chapter 1
Introduction: Legality in Multiple Legal Orders	3
Leonard Besselink, Frans Pennings & Sacha Prechal
1. Plurality of Legal Orders	3
2. Legality in Europe	4
3. A Constitutional Principle Common to the Member States	5
4. La Loi est l'Expression de la Volonté Générale	5
5. Functions of Legality	6
6. Structure of the Book	8
Chapter 2
As Good as It Gets: On Risk, Legality and the Precautionary Principle	11
Ubaldo de Vries & Lyana Francot-Timmermans
1. Introduction	11
2. Patient Zero	11

Table of Contents

3.	Social Diagnosis: Uncertainty in a Global World	14
3.1.	The Processes of Modernization: Uncertainty and Scarcity	15
3.2.	Second Modernity: Uncertainty and Risk	16
3.3.	The Nature of Modern Risk	17
3.3.1.	Characteristics	18
3.3.2.	The Problem of Risk	19
4.	The Precautionary Principle	19
4.1.	Global and European Context	20
4.2.	The Precautionary Principle in the Literature	22
4.3.	The Legal Status of the Precautionary Principle	23
5.	Liberty and the Rule of Law	25
6.	Balancing Two Principles	27
6.1.	Regulating Relations	27
6.2.	An Outdated Concept?	28
6.3.	Legality Under Siege	30
6.3.1.	'Internal' Legislation	30
6.3.2.	Procedural 'Tinkering'	31
7.	Conclusion	33

Part II

Legality and the Attribution of Powers to Public Authorities	35
---	-----------

Chapter 3

Administrative Powers in German and in English Law	37
Gerdy Jurgens, Maartje Verhoeven & Paulien Willemsen

1.	Introduction	37
2.	Germany	37
2.1.	Introduction	37
2.2.	Hierarchy of Norms	38
2.3.	The Precedence of Statutory Law	39
2.4.	Requirement of a Statutory Basis	40
2.4.1.	Field of Application: Eingriffsverwaltung and Leistungsverwaltung	40
2.4.2.	Parliamentary Reservation	43
2.4.3.	Implied Powers	43
2.4.4.	Indefinite Legal Terms	44
2.5.	Use of Private Law	45
3.	The Sources of Governmental Power in English Law	45
3.1.	Introduction	45
3.2.	Statutory Power	45

3.3. Non-Statutory Powers: The Royal Prerogatives and the Third Source of Power	48
4. Conclusion and Observations	52

Chapter 4

National Legality and European Obligations 55

Maartje Verhoeven & Rob Widdershoven

1. Introduction	55
2. Content and Scope of the Legality Principle	56
3. The Directive as Direct Basis for Powers of the Administration in the National Legal Order	59
3.1. General	59
3.2. Direct Effect	60
3.3. Consistent Interpretation	62
4. The Regulation as Direct Basis for Powers of the Administration in the National Legal Order	64
4.1. The European View	64
4.2. Regulations in the Dutch Legal Order	66
5. Evaluation in the Light of 'Composite' Legality	69
6. Conclusion	72

Chapter 5

The Legality of Independent Regulatory Authorities 73

Saskia Lavrijssen & Annetje Ottow

1. Introduction: The Principle of Legality	73
2. Structure	76
3. Setting the Scene: The Regulatory Background	77
4. Independence	79
4.1. Political Independence and Independence from Market Parties	79
4.2. Legal Basis	80
4.3. Independence from Market Parties	81
4.4. New Requirements: Political Independence	82
4.5. A Gradual Reduction of the Member States' Institutional Autonomy	84
5. The Interpretation of the National Regulatory Authorities' Powers	85
5.1. Observations; Broad Interpretation of NRAs' Powers	88
6. European Commission and European Regulatory (Network) Agencies	88

Table of Contents

7. Appeal to the National Courts	91
7.1. Article 4 of the Framework Directive	91
7.2. Interpretation of Article 4 Framework Directive	92
7.3. Observations	94
8. Conclusions	95

Part III

Legality and Quality of Legislation	97
--	-----------

Chapter 6

The Quality of the Law as a Tool for Judicial Control	99
--	-----------

Aleidus Woltjer

1. Introduction	99
2. The Court of Justice of the European Union	100
2.1. EU Law	100
2.2. The Approach of the ECJ	100
3. The European Court of Human Rights	101
3.1. The European Convention on Human Rights	101
3.2. Limitation of Fundamental Rights	102
4. The Quality of the Law According to the ECtHR	103
5. The 'Foreseeability' Under Difficult Circumstances	106
6. Is the 'Quality of the Law' Test Compatible with the Principle of Subsidiarity?	107
7. Concluding Remarks	108

Chapter 7

Coherent Codification? A Case Study in EU Equal Treatment Legislation	109
--	------------

Susanne Burri

1. Introduction	109
2. Recasting as EU Policy	110
2.1. Better Lawmaking	110
2.2. The Recasting Technique	111
2.3. Enforceable Rights?	112
3. Recasting EU Sex Equality Legislation	113
3.1. The Recast Directive	113
3.2. Substantive Changes?	115
3.3. The Legal Obligations of Member States Arising Out of 'Principal Innovations'	115
4. Transposition of the Recast Directive into National Law	117
4.1. The Obligations of Member States in the light of Article 33	117

4.2. More clarity and legal certainty at EU level?	119
4.3. Transposition at National Level	120
5. Conclusions	122

Chapter 8

The Rocky Path of EU Legislation on Workers' Involvement: Coherent Codification of the Right to Information and Consultation of Workers in European Law?	125
Reile Meyers & Teun Jaspers

1. Introduction: The Issue of Legality in a Multiplicity of Orders	125
2. The History of Workers' Involvement Rules in the EU	128
3. Legality Criteria	131
3.1. Legitimation	132
3.2. Quality of Law Criteria: Better Regulation	134
3.2.1. The Background	134
3.2.2. The Quality Criteria	136
3.2.2.1. Technical Quality	136
4. Analysis of the Instruments	137
4.1. Assessment on Legitimation	137
4.2. Assessment on the Quality of Law Criteria	141
4.2.1. The Requirements of Clarity, Consistency and Coherence	142
4.2.2. Enforceability	147
5. Conclusion	148

Part IV

Legality and the Impact of Non-legislative Instruments	151
---	------------

Chapter 9

The Open Method of Coordination in the Area of Social Policy and the Legality Principle	153
Frans Pennings

1. Introduction	153
2. The OMC for Employment Policies	155
2.1. The Legal Basis for the OMC in Employment	155
2.2. The Procedure for the OMC in Employment	156
2.3. The OMC as An Instrument of Soft Law	157
3. The Open Method of Coordination in Social Policy Areas (OMC Light)	157
3.1. Introduction	157
3.2. The Competences of the EU in the Area of Social Policy	158
3.3. Combating Social Exclusion	159
3.4. The OMC in Social Inclusion	160

Table of Contents

4. Examples of the Guidelines and Recommendations Given as Part of the OMC Employment	160
5. The Functions of the Legality Principle vis-à-vis the OMC Employment	161
5.1. Introduction	161
5.2. Attribution of Public Authority	162
5.3. The Legitimation Function	163
5.4. The Regulatory Function	164
6. The Function of the Legality Principle vis-à-vis the OMC Light	166
7. Conclusions: The Open Method of Coordination, the Functions of Legality and the Multiple Legal Order	167

Chapter 10

The Principle of Legality and the ‘Soft Law’ Regulation and Supervision of Financial Markets 169

Ton Duijkersloot

1. Introduction	169
2. Some Theoretical Questions: Rationales for Regulation of Financial Markets, Soft Law and the Legality Principle	170
2.1. The Rationales behind Regulation of Financial Markets	170
2.2. Soft Law	173
2.3. The Legality Principle and Financial Supervisory Authorities	174
3. Soft Law Instruments and Financial Markets	175
3.1. Global	175
3.2. European Union	176
3.3. The Netherlands	180
4. Financial Market Regulation, Soft Law Instruments and the Legality Principle: A Further Analysis	182
5. Conclusion	186

Chapter 11

The Quasi-legislative Powers of the European Social Dialogue: Imperfect Delegation of Powers or Ambivalent Recognition of Contractual Autonomy? 187

Albertine Veldman

1. Introduction	187
1.1. The Start of the European Social Dialogue	187
1.2. Legality of the Social Dialogue: Key Issues	188
2. The Powers Attributed to the European Social Dialogue	190
2.1. The Origins of the European Social Dialogue	190

2.2.	Competences and Procedures (Articles 154–155 TFEU)	191
2.2.1.	Suspension of the Traditional Decision-Making Powers in Social Policy?	192
2.2.2.	Substitution of the Traditional Decision-Making Powers in Social Policy?	193
2.3.	The Ambiguous Nature of the Europe Social Dialogue	194
3.	The (Democratic) Legitimacy of the Social Dialogue	195
3.1.	Notions of Representativity Developed at European Level	196
3.2.	Legitimacy Perceived Form a Public Law Model	197
3.3.	Legitimacy Perceived from a Private (Industrial) Law Model	199
4.	The Practice of the European Social Dialogue	201
4.1.	Quantitative Results of the ESD	201
4.1.1.	Cross-Industry Agreements	201
4.1.2.	Sectoral Agreements	203
4.2.	Qualitative Results of the ESD: Accessibility, Implementation and Modification	204
4.2.1.	Accessibility and Implementation	204
4.2.2.	Modifications of Agreements incorporated in Directives	205
5.	Conclusions	207

Part V

Legality and Concealed Mechanisms behind Extension of EU Powers	211
--	------------

Chapter 12

The Principle of Attributed Powers and the ‘Scope of EU Law’	213
Sacha Prechal, Sybe de Vries & Hanneke van Eijken

1.	Introduction	213
2.	When is Member State Action within the Scope of EU Law?	216
2.1.	Fundamental Rights, General Principles of Law and Member State Action	216
2.2.	Article 18 TFEU in general	219
2.3.	Article 18 TFEU Married to European Citizenship	221
2.3.1.	Personal Scope	222
2.3.2.	Material Scope	224
2.4.	Free Movement	226
2.4.1.	Four Freedoms in General: The ‘Economic Connotation’	226
2.4.2.	The Restriction Approach in Free Movement Cases: Market Access as Leading Criterion	227
2.4.3.	Broad Conception of What Constitutes An Obstacle or Restriction	230
2.4.4.	Justification: A Trompe-L’œil Escape?	231

Table of Contents

2.4.5.	The Fifth Freedom? towards a Restriction Approach in Citizenship Cases	231
2.5.	The Competition Rules	232
2.5.1.	The Scope of the Competition Rules and the Concept of Economic Activity	232
2.5.2.	The Restriction/Justification Approach in Competition Cases	233
3.	The Effects of Bringing Member State Action within the Scope of EU Law and the Principle of Attributed Powers	234
3.1.	Triggering a Legal Basis	235
3.2.	Shift from Negative to Positive Intervention	239
3.3.	ECJ: Extending the Reach of EU Law	242
4.	A Brief Assessment	245
 Chapter 13
Eurojust II: Un tiens vaut mieux que deux tu l'auras?		249
Tony Marguery
1.	Introduction	249
2.	The Status and Powers of Public Prosecutors through Eurojust	252
2.1.	Status and Powers of National Members in the Eurojust Decision	253
2.1.1.	National Members' Status in the Eurojust Decision	253
2.1.2.	National Members' Powers in the Eurojust Decision	253
2.2.	Status and Powers of National Members in the Amended Eurojust Decision	255
2.2.1.	National Members' Status in the Amended Eurojust Decision	255
2.2.2.	National Members' Powers in the Amended Eurojust Decision	256
3.	Analysis of Legality in the Amended Eurojust Decision	258
3.1.	The Legal Basis and the Choice for the Instrument to Strengthen Eurojust	258
3.2.	Safeguarding the Legitimation Function in the Amended Eurojust Decision	260
3.2.1.	Role of Representative Institutions in the Decision to Strengthen Eurojust	260
3.2.2.	Independent Actors' Involvement in the Decision to Strengthen Eurojust	262
3.3.	Safeguarding the Regulatory Function in the Amended Eurojust Decision	264
3.3.1.	Appraisal of the Quality of the Amended Decision	264
3.3.2.	Effects of the Decision in the Member States	266
4.	Strengthening Eurojust after Lisbon	269
5.	Conclusion	271

Chapter 14Legality and Data Protection Law: The Forgotten Purpose of Purpose Limitation 273*Evelien Brouwer*

1. Introduction	273
2. Short Introduction to Data Protection Law	274
2.1. Development of Data Protection Law	274
2.2. Objectives and Principles of Data Protection Law	275
3. The Principle of Purpose Limitation	276
3.1. General	276
3.2. Ban on Aimless Data Collection	277
3.3. Legitimacy	278
3.4. Purpose Specification: Transparency of Data Processing	279
3.5. Use or Disclosure Limitation: Informational Division of Powers	279
3.6. Time Limits	281
4. Multiple Legal Orders within the EU: Strengthening Purpose Limitation or Encouraging Function Creep?	281
5. Setting Standards: The Case Law of the ECtHR and the ECJ	284
5.1. ECtHR and Article 8 ECHR	284
5.1.1. Purpose Specification or Transparency of Data Processing	284
5.1.2. Limitation of Powers and Time Limits	285
5.2. ECJ and EC Directive 95/46	287
5.2.1. Rechnungshof v. Österreichischer Rundfunk : Broad Interpretation of Data Protection	287
5.2.2. Huber v. Germany : Linking Purpose Limitation to Non-Discrimination	288
6. Restoring the Principle of Purpose Limitation: Applying the Functions of Legality	290
6.1. Legitimacy	290
6.2. Attribution	291
6.3. Regulation	292
7. Conclusion	293

Chapter 15Conclusion: The Eclipse of Legality: An Assessment 295*Leonard Besselink*

1. Introduction	295
2. Who Attributes and Regulates the Exercise of Public Power Over Citizens?	295
3. The Quality of Legislation: What Qualifies as Legislation?	298
4. Democracy and Its Alternatives; Expertise and Society	300
5. An Assessment	301

Table of Cases 305