Contents

Foreword to the First Edition by The Rt Hon Lord Templeman MBE	xi
Preface to the Fifth Edition	Xiii
Acknowledgements	xvii
Table of Cases	xix
1 Understanding the Law	1
1.1 Introduction	1
1.2 A Sample Legal Problem	1
1.3 'What is Law?'	1
1.4 Parliament	4
1.5 The Courts	8
1.6 The Importance of Procedural Law	18
1.7 English Law and the European Convention on Human Rights	23
1.8 English Law and the European Community	25
1.9 Conclusions	30
2 Finding the Law	33
2.1 Getting Started	33
2.2 Literary Sources	34
2.3 Finding Cases	38
2.4 Finding and Updating Legislation	43
2.5 Finding EC Law	47
2.6 Using Computerised Information Retrieval Systems	50
2.7 Concluding Remarks	59
3 Reading the Law	62
3.1 Reading Statutes	63
3.2 Reading Cases	68
3.3 Reading Books and Articles	84
3.4 From Reading to Writing	90
3.5 Conclusion	95
4 Law, Fact, and Language	99
4.1 Law and Fact	99
4.2 Law and Language	107
4.3 Fact, Language, and the Judicial Construction of Cases	116

5 Th	ne Doctrine of Judicial Precedent	122
5.1	Introduction	122
5.2	The Idea of Binding Precedent	123
5.3	Establishing the Principle in a Case	125
5.4	The Mechanics of Stare Decisis	127
5.5	Are there any other Exceptions to the Application of Stare Decisis
	to the Court of Appeal that have Emerged since 1944?	135
5.6	Does Every Case have to be Heard by the Court of Appeal before it can Proceed to the House of Lords?	136
5.7	Precedent in the Higher Courts: Summary	137
5.8	Other Courts	138
5.9	Impact of Human Rights Legislation	143
5.10	Conclusion	143
6 H	ow Precedent Operates: Ratio Decidendi and Obiter Dictum	145
	Introduction	145
6.2	Development of Case Law	146
6.3	Trying to Define Ratio Decidendi	148
6.4	Perception and Ratio	150
6.5	Ratio and Interpretation	152
6.6	Summary of Points Covered	153
6.7	Obiter Dictum	155
	How Precedents Develop	157
6.9	Answering Legal Questions on Precedent	163
6.10	Material Facts	166
6.11	What can Happen to a Case?	170
6.12	The Postal Rule Cases	172
6.13	The 'Uncertainty Principle' of Cases	176
6.14	Conclusion	179
7 M	aking Sense of Statutes	182
	Introduction	182
	Drafting Styles	182
	The Problems of Drafting Statutes in English Law	186
	Examples of Drafting Practices and How to Approach Them	190
	Amending Earlier Statutes	196
	Other Points in Drafting	197
	European Legislative Drafting	198
	The Style of Community Legislation	204
	Conclusion	206

20	8
20)8
3 Interpreting Statutes	09
8.1 Introduction 2	12
8.1 Introduction 8.2 The So-called Rules of Interpretation 2 The So-called Rules' in Action	.19
8.2 The 30-cancer 2 8.3 Examples of the 'Rules' in Action 2 3.3 Examples of the Construction	224
8.3 Examples 3.3 8.4 Secondary Aids to Construction 2.5 Hansard	232
	239
	240
a a Takampretation and the Human	240
8.8 Interpretation 8.9 Interpreting Secondary Legislation 8.9 Interpreting Secondary Legislation 8.9 Case on Statutory Interpretation	243
8.9 Interpreting Secondary Legislation 8.10 Illustration of how to Analyse a Case on Statutory Interpretation	249
	255
8.11 Content on Rights (Logal Method and the Convention Rights
8.11 Conclusion 9 'Bringing Rights Home': Legal Method and the Convention Rights	255256
	259
	264
Lion IIIn der IIIc IIum	266
0.4 Incorporation under the Devois	268
9.4 Meorpoon 9.5 The Developing Case Law 9.5 The Consequences for Legal Method (1): Statutory Interpretation 9.6 The Consequences for Legal Method (2): Precedent	276
9.6 The Consequences for Legal Method (2): Precedent 9.7 The Consequences for Legal Method (2): Precedent	278
9.7 The Consequences for 3.8 Legal Research and Argumentation	279
9.8 Legal Research and 6	202
9.9 Conclusion	282
10 European Legal Method	282
10.1 The Sources of Community Law	286
Tarmore Tarmore	294
10.2 The Institutions 10.3 Analytical Techniques Employed by European Lawyers 10.3 Analytical Techniques Employed by European Lawyers 10.4 Analytical Techniques Employed by European Lawyers	317
10.2 The Institutions 10.3 Analytical Techniques Employed by European Lawyers 10.4 The Effect of EC Law on the Drafting and Interpretation of UK Legislation
10.5 Conclusion	319
11 Exploiting Legal Reasoning	320
11.1 Logic and Legal Reasoning	330
The Limits of Logic	338
11.2 The Limits of 2-8 11.3 The Decision Analysis Method	341
Index	