

Contents

	Introduction	v
CHAPTER 1	The Virtues of Diversity in European Private Law Gerhard Wagner
I	The Commission Action Plan	3
II	Harmonizing European Contract Law	3
III	The Virtues of Diversity	4
	1 Party Autonomy	4
	2 Federalism	5
IV	Questioning the Economics of Federalism	7
	1 The Assumption of Complete Information	7
	2 The Costs of Moving	8
	3 Is Voting an Option?	9
	4 Comparative Law as a Mechanism of Competition	9
V	Examples of Competition at Work	11
	1 European Family Law	11
	2 European Corporate Law	11
	a) Regulatory Competition at Work	11
	b) The Race to the Bottom	13
	3 Lessons for Contract Law	14
	a) Allowing for Choice of Law	14
	b) The Race to the Bottom	15
	4 Conclusions	15
VI	The Transaction Costs Argument	16
	1 Legal Diversity as a Tax	16
	2 Legal Diversity as Barrier to Entry	17
	3 Consumer Behaviour	18
VII	Balancing Costs and Benefits	19
	1 Contract Law in General	19
	2 Consumer Law in Particular	19
	3 Procedural Issues	21
CHAPTER 2	Economic Analysis of Cross-Border Legal Uncertainty; The Example of the European Union Helmut Wagner
	Introduction	27
I	The European Union and the Role of the Legal System	28
2	Costs of Legal Uncertainty	30

2.1	On the Term 'Legal Uncertainty'	30
2.1.1	Subjective Legal Uncertainty	30
2.1.2	Objective Legal Uncertainty	30
2.2	Theoretical Derivation of the Costs of Legal Uncertainty	31
2.2.1	Types of Costs Caused by Legal Uncertainty	31
2.2.2	Static or Level Effects of Legal Uncertainty	32
2.2.3	Dynamic or Growth Effects	33
2.3	Empirical Analyses	35
3	Disadvantages of Full Harmonization of Law	37
4	Politico-economic Aspects	42
5	Conclusion	44
CHAPTER 3	Law, Economics and Uniform Contract Law: A Sceptical View Jaap Hage
I	Introduction	55
2	Two Functions of the Law and Economics Approach	55
3	The Material Aspect of the Law and Economics Approach	57
4	The Formal Aspect of the Law and Economics Approach	60
5	Limitation to Foreseeable Costs and Benefits	61
6	The Role of Uncertainty	63
7	A Possible Objection	64
8	Summary	65
CHAPTER 4	Uniformity of European Contract Law; An Economic Study Between Logic and Fact Heico Kerkmeester
I	Defining the Terms: (Behavioural ) Law and Economics	71
2	The Logic of Law and Economics	73
3	The Facts of Behavioural Law and Economics	74
3.1	The Results of Empirical Research: A Brief Overview	75
3.2	Some Implications for Contract Law	78
3.3	The European Context: Arguments for Uniformity	79
3.4	The European Context: Arguments for Diversity	80
4	How Facts might Support the Logic	83
4.1	Better Prediction?	83
4.2	Better Understanding?	83
4.3	More Acceptability?	84
4.4	Two Sides of a Coin?	85
5	Conclusions	86

CHAPTER 5	The Psychology of Conflict of Laws Jeffrey J. Rachlinski
I	Cognitive Limitations in the Democratic Process	96
A	Demand for Law and Regulation	97
1	Availability and Public Policy	97
2	Representativeness and Statistical Fallacies Affecting Public Opinion	99
3	Framing and Public Policy	101
B	Biases among Public Officials	103
1	Biases among Legislators	103
2	Biases among Bureaucrats	104
3	Biases among Judges	105
C	Conclusion	107
II	The Debiasing Effect of Mediating Institutions	108
A	Path Dependence and Cognitive Errors	108
B	How Mediating Bodies Can Avoid Cognitive Error	111
C	Identifying Erroneous Legislation: Basic Cognitive Principles	114
III	Conclusion	116
CHAPTER 6	The Ethical Pluralism of Late Modern Europe and Codification of European Contract Law Thomas Wilhelmsson
I	Introduction	123
2	The Uncertainty of the Risk Society and the Necessary Fragmentation of Law	126
3	The Ethical Uncertainty of Late Modern Society and the Need for Legal Contextualism	131
4	Implications for a Contract Code	136
5	A Grand Legal Narrative after all: Fundamental Rights?	141
CHAPTER 7	Diversity of Contract Law and the European Internal Market Jan M. Smits
I	Introduction: Aim of this Contribution	155
2	The Present Situation in European Contract Law: Diversity of Legal Systems	156
2.1	Four Contract Law Regimes	156
2.2	National Legal Systems	156
2.3	Contract Law of European Origin: Directives	158

2.4	The Vienna Convention on the International Sale of Goods (CISG)	161
2.5	Divergence within One Country	162
2.6	Problematic Aspects of Diversity within the European Union	163
3	Diversity Through the Community Acquis	163
4	Diversity of National Legal Systems	165
4.1	Introduction	165
4.2	The Traditional Argument in Favour of Harmonisation	166
4.3	Empirical and Anecdotal Evidence	169
4.4	Economic Theory on Growth of the Economy and National Borders	171
4.5	Behavioural Analysis: From Homo Economicus to Homo Psycho-economicus	174
4.6	The Economic Argument against Unification	177
5	Concluding Remarks	178
	Authors	188