

Contents

Table of Cases	xxvii
Table of Abbreviations	xxix

Part I. The Substantive Law Background in Europe and its Significance for Private International Law

1. The substantive law in Europe	3
1. Introduction	3
2. The EU Insurance Market	3
3. The Treaty of Rome	4
(a) Establishment	5
(b) The Freedom of Services	6
(c) Establishment v Services	7
(d) Harmonisation	7
4. The 1993 Unfair Contract Terms Directive	8
5. Reinsurance	9
6. The First Non-Life Insurance Directive	9
(a) Scope	9
(b) Authorisation Requirements	10
(c) The Definition of Establishment	10
7. The First Life Insurance Directive	10
(a) Scope	10
(b) Authorisation Requirements	11
(c) The Simultaneous Operation of Life and Non-life Insurance	11
8. The Co-insurance Directive	11
(a) Scope	11
(b) The Co-insurance Directive and the Insurance Cases	12
9. The Second Non-Life Insurance Directive	12
(a) Scope	12
(b) Large Risks and Mass Risks	12
(c) Member State where the Risk is Situated	13
(d) Supervisory Systems	13
10. The Second Life Insurance Directive	14
(a) Scope	14
(b) Policyholders	14
11. Insurance Companies from Third Countries	15
12. The Third 'Generation' Insurance Directives	15

13. The Third Non Life Insurance Directive	16
(a) Scope	16
(b) The Single Authorisation System	16
(c) The extension of Home Member State Control	16
14. The Third Life Insurance Directive	17
(a) Scope	17
(b) The Single Authorisation System	17
(c) The Extension of Home Member State Control	17
15. The 'General Good' in the Third Insurance Directives	18
16. The European Substantive Law for Insurance Intermediaries	18
17. Are the EC Directives Pro-insureds?	19
2. The Significance of the Substantive Law Background for Private International Law	21
1. Identifying the Problems	21
(a) What Sort of Jurisdictional Problems Are There Going to be in Europe?	21
(b) Where Are There Going to be Choice of Law Problems in Europe?	22
(c) The Interaction of European Union Law and Conflict of Law: the Disappearance of Potential Applicable Law Problems	23
(d) Conclusion	25
3. General Remarks on Insurance Conflict of Laws	27
1. The Major Importance of Choice of Law Questions in Insurance Law	27
2. Policy Considerations: What Has to be Achieved by Private International Law Rules in the Fields of Insurance and Reinsurance?	28
(a) Providing a Range of Comparable Offers to Prospective Insureds	28
(b) Ensuring Compatibility with the Substantive Law of Insurance	29
(c) Preventing Insurers from Achieving Unreasonable Competitive Advantages	30
(d) Empowering Insurers to Form Risk Pools Comprising Inhabitants of Different Member States of the European Union	31
(e) Allowing Parties to Predict the Law Applicable to their Legal Relationship	31
(f) Protecting the Interest of the Parties in Continuity of Cover	32
3. Policy Issues: the Connecting Factors	33
(a) Introductory remarks	33

(b) An Exposition of Certain Connecting Factors of Relevance in Insurance and Reinsurance Contexts	34
4. Specific Features of Conflicts Rules in International Insurance Law	34
4. Admission of Insurance and Reinsurance Services and Products to the EU Market—Conflict of Laws Issues	37
1. Introduction	37
2. Admission of Insurance and Reinsurance Services and Products	37
3. Communication	38
4. Other Issues	39
5. Liability	40
6. The Impact of New Technologies on the Admission of Insurance and Reinsurance Products to the EC Insurance Market	41
(a) Disintermediation	42
(b) Delocalisation of Insurance and Reinsurance Markets	43
7. Final Remarks	43

Part II. Jurisdictional Recognition and Enforcement of Judgments Problems and Possible Solutions

Section I. Jurisdictional Problems and Possible Solutions: Preliminary Observations	45
5. The special rules of the Brussels Regulation and Lugano Convention for insurance and reinsurance disputes	49
1. Which Set of Rules will Apply in Insurance Cases?	49
(a) The Availability of a Defendant Domiciled in Europe	50
(b) Multi-defendant Cases	50
2. Jurisdiction under the Brussels and Lugano Conventions	51
(a) The Set of Special Rules for Insurance Matters	51
(b) Jurisdiction in Matters Relating to Insurance	52
(c) Actions Against Insurer: Article 9(1)	57
(d) Actions Against Insurer: Article 9(2)	58
(e) Actions Against Insurer in Matters Relating to Liability Insurance or Insurance of Immovable Property	59
(f) Third Party Proceedings against Insurers	60
(g) Action by Insurers	61
3. The Objectives of the Special Rules for Jurisdiction Agreements in Insurance and Reinsurance Matters	52
(a) The Requirements for Jurisdiction Agreements	53

Section II. Cross-border Co-operation Regarding Litigation in Insurance and Reinsurance Matters: Preliminary Observations	67
6. Recognition and Enforcement of Judgments in Insurance and Reinsurance Matters	71
1. When will the Brussels Regulation and Lugano Convention apply?	71
(a) The Brussels Regulation	71
(b) The Lugano Convention	71
2. The Scope of the Brussels Regulation	72
(a) A Judgment Given in a Member State	72
(b) The Type of Jurisdiction Provision is Irrelevant	72
(c) The Judgment is Given in Respect of a Civil and Commercial Issue	72
3. Recognition of the Foreign Judgment	73
(a) An Indispensable First Stage	73
(b) The Rebuttable Presumption in Favour of Recognition	73
4. How Problems Arise in Insurance and Reinsurance Cases	75
(a) Recognition and Enforcement by EU National Courts of Judgments Rendered by other EU National Courts	75
(b) Recognition and Enforcement by EU National Courts of Judgments Rendered by Courts of a Non-Member State Against the UK Defendant	76
7. Forum shopping	79
1. Introduction	79
2. Reasons to Forum Shop	79
3. Forum Shopping Within the European Community in Insurance Cases	80
(a) What Advantages Will a Claimant Obtain?	80
(b) The Opportunity to Forum Shop	83
(c) Is there Anything Wrong with Forum Shopping within Europe?	84
(d) How Can the Insured/Claimant be Discouraged from Forum Shopping?	84
Part III. The Law Applicable to Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts under the 1980 Rome Convention and the EC Insurance Directives
8. The 1980 Rome Convention and the Law Applicable to Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts	91
1. Which Set of Rules will Apply to Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts?	91

2. The Definition of 'Risk' in the Rome Convention	92
3. Law Applicable to the Insurance Policy	93
4. The Express Choice of the Law Applicable to Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts	94
5. Does the Lex Mercatoria Apply to Reinsurance Contracts and Insurance Contracts Covering Risks Situated Outside the Territories of the Member States of the European Community?	97
(a) The Notion of Lex Mercatoria	97
(b) The Applicability of Lex Mercatoria	98
6. Dépeçage of Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts	98
7. The Law Applicable to Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts in the Absence of an Express Choice	100
8. The Law Applicable to Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts in the Absence of Choice	101
9. The Characteristic Performance of Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts	102
10. The Rome Convention and the Law Applicable to Co-insurance Contracts	105
11. The Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts Concluded by Consumers	106
12. The Law Applicable to Multiple Risks Policies	108
13. Evasion of Law	109
14. The Application of Mandatory Rules to Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts	110
15. Public Policy Questions	112
16. The Sphere of the Lex Contractus 'Ratione Materiae': Article 10(1)	113
17. The Law Applicable to the Formation and the Validity of Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts	114
18. Article 8 of the Rome Convention: the Formation of the Insurance Contract	114
19. Article 8 of the Rome Convention: the Validity of the Insurance Contract	115
20. The Law of the Place of Performance (lex loci solutionis) and Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts	116
21. The Law Applicable to the Interpretation of Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts	117
22. The Sphere of the Law Applicable to the Insurance Contract 'Ratione Personae'	118
23. The Law Applicable to the Form of Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts	118
24. The Impact of Articles 9 (Form) and 14 (Burden of Proof) on the National Rules of Insurance Contracts: Example of Impact on Civil Law Systems	120

25. The Law Applicable to the 'Direct Action' of the Victim Against the Insurer of the Person Liable	120
26. The Law Applicable to the Subrogation of the Insurer	121
27. The Relationship Between Articles 13 (Subrogation) and 6 (Individual Employment Contracts)	122
28. The Law Applicable to Insurance Warranties	123
29. Renvoi	124
30. Incapacity	125
31. Voluntary Assignment of Credits	125
32. Evaluation	126
(a) Strengths of the Rome Convention in Relation to Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts	126
(b) Weakness of the Rome Convention in Relation to Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts	127
33. Options for Reform	128
(a) The US Restatement (Second) Conflict of Laws	128
(b) A Special Rule for the Consumer Contracts of Insurance Services?	128
(c) Re-wording Article 5	129
9. The Choice of Law Rules in the Second and Third Non-Life Directives	131
1. Introduction	131
2. Scheme of the Set of Choice of Law Rules in the Second and Third Non-Life Directives	131
3. Scheme of the Choice of Law Rules in the Second Non Life Insurance Directive	132
4. Scheme of the Choice of Law Rules in the Third Non Life Insurance Directive	132
5. The Definition of 'Mass Risks' and 'Large Risks'	133
I. The Choice of Law Rules in the Second Non-Life Insurance Directive	135
6. The Scope of Application	135
(a) Is the Establishment of the Insurer in a Member State of the European Community Necessary for the Application of the Choice of Law Rules of the Second Non-Life Directive?	135
(b) Are the Choice of Law Provisions of the Second Non-Life Directive Applicable to Insurance Contracts Beyond the Scope of Application of the Non-Life Insurance Directives?	137
7. The Problem of Characterisation in the Insurance Directives	137

8. The Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts Covering Risks Situated in the Member State Where the Policyholder has his Habitual Residence or its Central Administration	138
9. The Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts Covering a Risk Situated in a Member State Where the Policyholder is not Habitually Resident	139
10. The Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts Covering Risks Situated in Different Member States	140
11. Where the Member States Indicated in Article 7(1)(b) and (c) Grant the Parties Greater Freedom to Choose the Governing Law of the Contract	141
12. The Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts Covering Risks Which are Limited to Events Occurring in One Member State Other Than the One in Which the Risk is Situated	142
13. The Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts Covering 'Large Risks'	142
14. The Law Applicable in the Absence of a Choice or a Valid Choice	143
15. Dépeçage	144
16. The Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts Covering Risks Situated in and Outside the Territories of the Member States of the European Community	145
17. The 'General Provisions of Private International Law': Article 7(3)	146
18. Does Article 5 of the Rome Convention Apply to the Insurance Contracts Referred to by the Second Non-Life Directive?	147
19. Mandatory Rules: Article 7(1)(g)	148
20. Mandatory Rules: Article 7(2)(1)	150
21. Mandatory Rules: Article 7(2)(2)	150
22. The Relationship Between Public Law Provisions and Choice of Law Rules in the Second Non-Life Directive	151
23. Some Remarks on the Conflict of Laws Issues Arising from Bad Faith Insurance	153
24. Evaluation	154
(a) An Excessively Restricted Choice of Law	154
(b) Limiting the Freedom of Services Within the Single Insurance Market	154
(c) Lack of Co-ordination Between the Jurisdiction rules of the Brussels Convention and the Choice of Law Rules of the Second Non-Life Directive	155
(d) Lack of Choice of Law Rules on the Agency Relationship	155
(e) Lack of Co-ordination Between Public Law and Choice of Law Rules	156

(f) Excessive Freedom of Implementation of the Choice of Law Rules	156
II. The Choice of Law Rules in the Third Non-Life Insurance Directive	157
25. The Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts Covering 'Large Risks': Article 27	157
26. The Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts Covering 'Mass Risks': Article 28	158
27. The Relationship Between Mandatory Rules and 'General Good'	159
28. The Relationship Between Articles 28 and 7(1)(a), (b), (c), (d), (e) of the Second Non-Life Directive	159
29. From the Free Choice of Law Rule to the 'Aware Choice of Law' Principle: Article 31(1), (2), (3)	160
30. Evaluation	161
(a) Strengths of the Choice of Law Rules of the Third Non-Life Directive	161
(b) Weaknesses of the Choice of Law Rules of the Third Non-Life Directive	161
31. Options for Reform	163
(a) Providing an answer to the questions Arising from the Notion of 'General Good'	163
(b) Re-wording Article 1(3) of the Rome Convention	164
10. Applicable Law under the Second and Third-Life Assurance Directives	165
1. Introduction	165
2. Scheme of the Set of Choice of Law Provisions in the Second and Third Life Assurance Directives	165
(a) The Choice of Law Provisions in the Second Life Assurance Directive	166
(b) The Choice of Law Rules in the Third Life Assurance Directive	166
I. The choice of law rules in the Second Life Assurance Directives	167
3. The Relevant Connecting Factors	167
(a) The Law of the Member State of the Habitual Residence of the Policy-Holder	167
(b) Nationality	168
4. Where the Member State of the Commitment Grants the Parties Greater Freedom to Choose the Governing Law of the Contract	170

5. 'The General Provisions of Private International Law': Article 4, paragraph 5	171
6. Dépeçage	171
7. Does Article 5 of the Rome Convention Apply to the Assurance Contracts Referred to by the Second Life Assurance Directive?	172
8. Public Policy	172
9. Mandatory rules: Article 4(4)	173
(a) Article 4(4)(1)	174
(b) Article 4(4)(2)	174
10. The Scope of Application of the Governing Law of the Contract	175
11. The Law Applicable to Group Life Insurance, Health and Disability Insurance Contracts	175
12. The Law Applicable to the Rights of the Third Party Beneficiary of a Life Assurance Contract	177
13. Some Remarks on the Conflict of Laws Issues Arising from the Specific Clauses Indicating the Third Party Beneficiary in a Life Assurance Contract	178
14. The Law Applicable to Loans Contained in Life Insurance Policies	179
15. The Relationship Between Business Rules and Choice of Law Provisions in the Second Life Assurance Directive	180
16. Evaluation	181
(a) Strengths of the Choice of Law Rules of the Second Assurance Directive	181
(b) Weaknesses of the Choice of Law Rules of the Second Life Assurance Directive	183
II. The Choice of Law Rules in the Third Life Assurance Directive	187
17. Where the Policyholder Takes the Initiative to Take Out an Assurance and Enters into Contact with the Insurer in the State of Origin: Article 28	187
18. The Relationship between Articles 28 of the Third Life Assurance Directive and 4 of the Second Life Assurance Directive	188
19. From the Free Choice of Law Rule to the 'Aware Choice of Law' Principle: Article 31	188
20. Evaluation	189
(a) Strengths of the Choice of Law Rules of the Third Life Assurance Directive	189
(b) Weaknesses of the Choice of Law Rules of the Third Life Assurance Directive	189
21. Options for Reform	191

(a) Providing an Answer to the Questions Arising From the Notion of 'General Good'	191
(b) Re-wording Article 1(3) of the Rome Convention	191
11. The Implementation of the EC Choice of Laws Provisions for Insurance Contracts in the United Kingdom	193
1. Introductory Remarks	193
2. The Implementing Acts of the Rome Convention and Insurance Directives	193
3. The Format of the Provisions	194
4. The Choices Made	195
(a) The Extent of Party Autonomy	195
(b) Party Autonomy According to English law	195
(c) Party Autonomy by Way of Renvoi	195
(d) Where There is No Choice of Law by the Parties	196
(e) Choice of Law Within the United Kingdom	196

Part IV. The European Private International Law of Compulsory Insurance

12. The EC Choice of Law Rules for Compulsory Insurance Contracts: the General Rules	199
1. Introduction	199
2. The Substantive Law Background in Europe	200
3. Choice of Law Problems in Transnational Compulsory Insurance	201
(a) Different Types of Compulsory Insurance	201
(b) The Need for Specific Conflicts Rules on Compulsory Insurance	202
4. Choice of Law Rules	203
(a) The 1980 Rome Convention and the Law Applicable to Compulsory Insurance Contracts Covering Risks Situated Outside the Territories of the Member States of the European Community	203
(b) The Applicable Law	204
(c) Article 5 of the Rome Convention and the Law Applicable to Contracts of Compulsory Insurance	205
5. The Second Non-Life Insurance Directive and the Law Applicable to Contracts of Compulsory Insurance Covering Risks Situated in the Territories of a Member State of the European Community: An Overview of the Set of Choice of Law Rules	205
(a) Scheme of the Set of Choice of Law Rules for Compulsory Insurance in the Second Non-Life Directive	206

(b) Article 8(1)	206
(c) The Law Applicable to Compulsory Insurance Contracts Covering Risks Situated in Different Member States: Article 8(4)(a)	208
(d) The Law of the Member State Imposing the Obligation to Take Out Insurance and the Law Applicable to Compulsory Insurance Contracts: Article 8(4)(c)	208
(e) The Specific Provisions Relating to Compulsory Insurance Laid Down by the Member State Imposing an Obligation to Take Out Insurance and the Law Applicable to Compulsory Insurance Contracts: Article 8(2)	209
(f) Mandatory rules: Article 8(3)	210
(g) Mandatory rules: Article 8(4)(d)	211
6. The Duty of the Member States to Communicate to the Commission the Risks Against which Insurance is Compulsory: Article 8(5)(a) and (b)	212
7. Evaluation	213
(a) Complexity	213
(b) An Excessive Freedom of Implementation of the Choice of Law Rules	213
(c) Objections to This	214
(d) Forum Shopping	214
(e) The Objective of the Second Non-Life Directive	215
(f) Uncertainty	215
(g) Lack of Co-ordination Between the Jurisdiction Rules of the Brussels Regulation and the Choice of Law Rules for Compulsory Insurance	216
8. Options for Reform	216
(a) Repealing the Implementation Provisions of Article 8(4)(c)	216
(b) Re-wording Article 1(3) of the Rome Convention	217
13. The EC Choice of Law Rules for Motor Vehicle Insurance Contracts	219
1. Introduction	219
2. The Law Applicable to Motor Vehicle Insurance Contracts under the European Rules of Private International Law	221
(a) The 1980 Rome Convention and the Law Applicable to Motor Vehicle Insurance Contracts Covering Risks Situated Outside the Territories of the Member States of the European Community	221
(b) The Second Non-Life Insurance Directive and the Law Applicable to the Motor Vehicle Insurance Contracts Covering Risks Situated in the Territories of a Member State of the European Community	221

(c)	Article 7(1)(a) of the Second Non-Life Directive and the Law Applicable to Motor Vehicle Insurance Contracts	222
(d)	Article 8(4)(c) of the Second Non-Life Insurance Directive and the Law Applicable to Motor Vehicle Insurance Contracts	223
(e)	Private International Law Aspects of the Third Motor Vehicle Insurance Directive	224
(f)	The Relationship Between Contract and Tort in the Field of Motor Vehicle Insurance	224
(g)	The Law Applicable to Punitive Damages	225
(h)	Examples of Mandatory Rules in the Field of Motor Vehicle Insurance	227
(i)	The Law Applicable to the Claims for Damages under the Motor Insurers Bureau System	228
(j)	Final remarks	229
Part V. The European Private International Law Rules of Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts Concluded by Electronic Means
14.	Electronic Commerce Law in Europe	235
1.	Introduction	235
2.	The Freedom to Provide Insurance Products and Services by Electronic Means in Europe	235
3.	The 2000 Directive on Electronic Commerce	236
(a)	The Aim of the Directive	236
(b)	The Scope of Application	237
(c)	Commercial Communication/Advertising and Promotions	237
(d)	Contracts Concluded by Electronic Means	238
4.	Draft Directive on the Distance Marketing of Financial Services	238
(a)	The Aim of the Draft Directive	238
(b)	Distance Contracts	238
(c)	Other Definitions	239
(d)	Information of the Consumer Before Conclusion of the Contract	239
5.	Are the EC Directives and Proposals Related to Online Commerce Pro-consumer?	240
15.	Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts Concluded by Electronic Means: Jurisdictional and Applicable Law Problems	241
1.	Introduction	241
2.	Jurisdictional Problems in Transnational Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts Concluded by Electronic Means	241
3.	Jurisdiction under the Brussels and Lugano Conventions	243

(a) The Absence of Special Rules of Jurisdiction for Contracts Concluded by Electronic Means	243
(b) Jurisdiction in Matters Relating to Insurance and Reinsurance	243
4. Evaluation	247
(a) Article 13: an Unsuitable Provision for Jurisdictional Agreements Concluded in the Online Environment	247
5. Options for Reform	248
(a) Re-wording Article 13	248
(b) A Special Rule for Jurisdictional Agreements Contained in Contracts Concluded by Electronic Means	249
16. Choice of Law in Relation to Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts Concluded by Electronic Means	251
1. Introduction	251
2. The 1980 Rome Convention and the Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts Concluded by Electronic Means	252
(a) The Applicable Law	252
3. Article 5 of the Rome Convention and the Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts Concluded by Electronic Means	253
(a) Specific Invitation	254
(b) Previous Advertising	254
(c) Steps Necessary for the Conclusion of the Contract	255
(d) Order Received in the Country of the Consumer's Habitual Residence	255
4. The Law Applicable to the Form of Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts Concluded by Electronic Means	256
5. The 2000 Directive on Electronic Commerce and the Law Applicable to Insurance and Reinsurance Contracts	256
6. The Second Non-Life Directive and the Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts Concluded Over the Internet Covering Risks Situated in the Territories of a Member State of the European Community	257
7. Article 7(1)(a), (b), (c) of the Second Non-Life Directive and the Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts Concluded by Electronic Means	257
8. The Second Life Directive and the Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts Concluded by Electronic Means	258
9. Final Remarks	258
17. General Conclusions	261
1. The Need for a Review of the Rules on Jurisdiction in Insurance Matters	261

2. The Unsatisfactory State of the Law Applicable to Insurance Contracts	262
---	-----

Appendices	267
-------------------	-----

Bibliography	303
---------------------	-----