

CONTENTS

List of authors	xi
Introduction Ilse Samoy and Marco B.M. Loos	1
I. Groups of contracts. An exploration of types and the archetype from a Dutch legal perspective Sanne van Dongen	9
Introduction	9
Chapter I. Groups of contracts	10
Chapter II. Judgments of the Hoge Raad	11
Section 1. Jans/FCN	11
Section 2. Von Hohenmeiss/Arenda	12
Chapter III. The archetype group of contracts.....	13
Section 1. German law	13
§1. The (moderated) “Trennungslehre”.....	14
A. Case law Bundesgerichtshof.....	14
B. Paragraphs 358–359a BGB	17
§2. The “Einheitslehre”.....	19
Section 2. European consumer directives.....	21
Chapter IV. Extensive interpretation of the archetype.....	23
Chapter V. Other distinguishable types	25
Section 1. Mooijman/Netjes: clear demand and supply side	25
Section 2. Institutionalised groups of contracts.....	27
Conclusion	28
II. The impact of voidness for infringement of Article 101 TFEU on linked contracts Caroline Cauffman	29
Introduction	29

Chapter I.	The impact of an infringement of Article 101 TFEU on linked agreements under EU law	30
Chapter II.	A specific rule of national competition law extends the voidness of an agreement infringing the cartel prohibition to linked agreements.....	32
	Section 1. Legal provisions	32
	Section 2. Theories developed by case law and legal scholarship ..	34
Chapter III.	A rule of general contract law extends the consequences of the voidness of an agreement infringing the cartel prohibition to linked agreements.....	36
	Section 1. Legal provisions	36
	Section 2. Theories developed by case law and legal scholarship ..	38
Chapter IV.	The linked agreement itself is affected by a ground of voidness or voidability	39
	Section 1. Illegality, immorality and infringement of the public order	39
	Section 2. Defects of consent.....	44
	§1. Fraud.....	44
	§2. Mistake.....	48
	§3. Duress.....	50
	§4. Abuse of circumstances.....	50
	Conclusion	52
III.	Linked contracts and the construction sector: A builder's contractual obligation to warn the client about a risk that might emerge from a contract between the client and the designer Joasia A. Luzak.....	55
Chapter I.	Contractual relations in the construction sector. Relevance of the 'link'.....	55
Chapter II.	Concept of the obligation to warn in construction contracts regulated by Dutch law and the DCFR	56
Chapter III.	Consequences of the designer's default for the builder	61
	Section 1. When should a builder have noticed a default?	61
	Section 2. What happens if the builder does not perform his obligation to warn?.....	69
	§1. Causality	69
	§2. Solidary liability	73
	§3. Contributory negligence	75
	Conclusion	77

IV. Chains of Sales Contracts: Towards a European system of direct producers' liability?
Mathias Hostens	79
Introduction	79
Chapter I. Need for a European system of direct producers' liability?	81
Section 1. Arguments in favour of a system of direct producers' liability	81
§1. Direct producers' liability as a reflection of economic reality	81
A. Producer at the origin of most product defects ..	81
B. Producers' liability through chain of redress? ..	82
§2. Direct producers' liability to achieve procedural economy	90
Section 2. Arguments in favour of a European system of direct producers' liability	90
§1. Increasing consumer confidence in cross-border shopping.....	91
§2. Avoiding distortions of competition between businesses.....	92
Section 3. Evaluation of the arguments.....	93
Chapter II. Model of a European system of direct producers' liability	95
Section 1. Basic structure of a European direct producers' liability system.....	95
§1. Derivative liability along the contractual chain	95
§2. Objective extra-contractual liability	97
Section 2. Grounds for European liability of the producer	98
Section 3. Beneficiary of the European direct claim	101
Section 4. Addressee of the European direct claim	102
Section 5. Relation of European direct producers' liability with final seller's liability	104
Section 6. Remedies associated with the European direct claim ..	105
Section 7. Time limits applicable to the European direct claim ..	106
Chapter III. Harmonising strategies for direct producers' liability	108
Conclusion	112
V. Linked contracts in the DCFR, the Consumer Rights Directive and the Draft Optional Instrument
Tâm Dang Vu	115
Introduction	115
Chapter I. Linked contracts in the EU Directives before the Consumer Rights Directive	117
Section 1. The right of withdrawal and linked contracts	117

Section 2. Doorstep Selling Directive 85/577/EEC and the Schulte and Crailsheimer cases	119
Section 3. Linked contracts in the Timesharing Directive 94/47/EC.....	121
Section 4. Linked contracts in the Distance Selling Directive 97/7/EC.....	122
Section 5. Linked contracts in the Distance Marketing of Financial Services Directive 2002/65/EC	123
Section 6. Linked contracts in the Consumer Credit Directive 2008/48/EC	125
§1. History	125
A. The Consumer Credit Directive 87/102/EEC ..	125
B. The implementation of the Consumer Credit Directive 87/102/EEC by the Member States...	126
C. The revision of the Consumer Credit Directive 87/102/EEC	128
§2. Linked credit agreements in the new Consumer Credit Directive 2008/48/EC	129
A. Definition of linked credit agreement	129
B. Effects	130
§3. Ancillary services contracts in the Consumer Credit Directive	131
A. (No) Definition of ancillary contract	131
B. Effects	131
Section 7. Timesharing Directive 2008/122/EC.....	131
Section 8. The need for harmonisation	133
Chapter II. Linked contracts in the DCFR	134
Section 1. Scope.....	134
Section 2. Definition of linked contract	136
Section 3. Effects	138
Section 4. Conclusion.....	138
Chapter III. Ancillary contracts in the Consumer Rights Directive	139
Section 1. Background and scope.....	139
Section 2. Definition of ancillary contracts in the Consumer Rights Directive	140
Section 3. Effects	140
Chapter IV. Ancillary contracts in the Proposal for a Regulation on a Common European Sales Law	141
Section 1. Background	141
Section 2. Ancillary contracts in the Common European Sales Law	142
Section 3. Related service contracts in the Common European Sales Law	143
Conclusion	144
Addendum	145

VI. Linked contracts: Elements for a general regulation Rodrigo Momberg Uribe	153
Introduction	153
Chapter I. The necessity for a general regulation	153
Chapter II. The state of the art: The present legal recognition of linked contracts	157
Section 1. European legislation	157
Section 2. Non-legislative codifications or restatements	158
Chapter III. Towards a general concept of linked contracts	158
Section 1. Plurality of contracts	159
Section 2. Common purpose	159
Chapter IV. The effects of linked contracts	160
Section 1. Internal effects	161
Section 2. External effects	162
Chapter V. A (preliminary) proposal	162
Section 1. A practical concept?	162
Section 2. The revision of the principle of privity and the concept of contract parties	163
Section 3. Linked contracts as an interpretative standard	163
Section 4. Linked contracts as an operative standard	163