

Table of Contents

| | |
|--|-------------|
| List of Abbreviations | xiii |
| Foreword by WTO Director-General Pascal Lamy | xv |
| Acknowledgements | xvii |
| Introduction | xix |
| Part I | |
| Understanding the Chinese Legal Order | 1 |
| Chapter 1 | |
| Burden or Assets? Chinese Legal History at a Glance | 3 |
| I The Ancient Chinese Legal System | 3 |
| A Core Norms and Origins: Legalism and Confucianism | 4 |
| B The Confucianization Process | 5 |
| C Key Confucian Teachings Incorporated into Chinese Law | 6 |
| 1 Family and Kinship System | 6 |
| 2 Social Hierarchy and Stratification | 7 |
| 3 Law and Morality | 8 |
| II Basic Features of the Traditional Chinese Legal System | 9 |
| A A Secondary Role of Law in Society | 9 |
| B Law: Merely a Means to an End | 10 |
| C Inequality before the Law | 11 |
| D Insignificant Individual Rights | 11 |
| E A Non-litigious Society | 12 |
| F No Separation of Powers | 13 |

| | | |
|---|--|-----------|
| III | The Legal Reforms of the Early Twentieth Century | 13 |
| A | Late Qing Reform Measures | 14 |
| B | Towards Criminal and Civil Law Codes | 15 |
| C | Resistance to Legal Reform | 16 |
| D | Lessons from the Reform Efforts | 17 |
| E | The Theoretical Deficit of Chinese Law | 18 |
| IV | Concluding Remarks | 19 |
| | | |
| Chapter 2 | | |
| The Pre-WTO Chinese Legal System after 1949 | | 21 |
| I | Communist Influence: Mao and Cultural Revolution | 21 |
| A | An Overview of the Law under Mao | 22 |
| B | The Significance of Mao 's Rule to China's Legal Development | 23 |
| II | Economic and Legal Reform under Deng Xiaoping 's Rule | 24 |
| A | The Changing Role of Law | 25 |
| B | The Legal Regime of Pre-WTO China | 26 |
| 1 | The CPC and the Government under Chinese Law | 26 |
| 2 | 'A Socialist Market Economy' | 27 |
| 3 | An Economics-Driven Legal Reform | 29 |
| C | Legal Reform | 30 |
| 1 | The CPC and the PRC Constitution | 30 |
| 2 | Legislative Aspect | 32 |
| 3 | Judicial Aspect | 33 |
| 4 | Law Enforcement | 35 |
| D | Constraints in Legal Reform | 36 |
| 1 | Regionalism | 37 |
| 2 | Arbitrary Administrative Power | 39 |
| 3 | Weak Law Enforcement and Institutions | 40 |
| 4 | Lack of Transparency and Predictability | 42 |
| 5 | Corruption and Weak Due Process | 42 |
| 6 | Blurred Party and Government Power | 43 |
| III | Concluding Remarks | 43 |
| | | |
| Part II | | |
| China's Long March to the WTO: Motivations, Process and Challenges | | 45 |
| | | |
| Chapter 3 | | |
| Motivations | | 47 |
| I | Trade and Economic Considerations | 48 |
| II | Non-trade Considerations | 49 |
| A | Regaining Central Control | 49 |

| | | |
|--|--|-----------|
| B | Consolidating Reform Policy towards a Market Economy | 52 |
| C | Countering Domestic Political Opposition | 53 |
| D | Overcoming Reform Bottlenecks | 55 |
| E | Advancing Stalled Legal Reform | 56 |
| F | Foreign Policy and External Concerns | 57 |
| Chapter 4 | | |
| China's WTO Accession Process | | 59 |
| I | The WTO Accession Mechanism | 59 |
| II | An Unusual Journey: China as a Special Case | 64 |
| A | Accession Chronology | 64 |
| B | The GATT Stage | 65 |
| C | The WTO Stage | 66 |
| III | Why Did It Take So Long? Major Stumbling Blocks | 67 |
| A | Uncertain Legal Status: Resumption of Membership or Accession? | 67 |
| B | Hiatus after the Tiananmen Square Events | 69 |
| C | Tough Bilateral Negotiations | 71 |
| 1 | The United States | 72 |
| 2 | The European Union | 74 |
| D | Multilateral Bargaining | 75 |
| 1 | Foreign Exchange and IMF Intervention | 76 |
| 2 | Systemic Guarantees | 78 |
| 3 | The Transitional Review Mechanism | 80 |
| 4 | Holding Out until the Last Moment | 81 |
| E | An Unorthodox Ratification Arrangement | 82 |
| Chapter 5 | | |
| Accession Commitments and Systemic Requests | | 85 |
| I | The Implementation of WTO Rules in the Chinese Legal System | 85 |
| A | Debates over Direct Applicability | 86 |
| B | Dualist or Monist Approach | 87 |
| C | Judicial Interpretations | 88 |
| D | Limited Relevant Case Law | 90 |
| II | WTO Challenges to the Chinese Legal System | 92 |
| A | Deciphering the Accession Package | 92 |
| B | Uniformity in Administration of China's Trade and Legal Regime | 95 |
| 1 | WTO Requirements and China's Commitments | 95 |
| 2 | Concrete Chinese Actions and Their Significance | 97 |
| C | Transparency and Predictability | 100 |
| 1 | WTO Requirements and China's Commitments | 100 |
| 2 | Concrete Chinese Actions and Their Significance | 102 |

| | | |
|---|---|------------|
| D | Non-Discrimination | 104 |
| 1 | WTO Requirements and China's Commitments | 104 |
| 2 | Concrete Chinese Actions and Their Significance | 106 |
| E | Judicial Review by Impartial and Independent Tribunals | 108 |
| 1 | WTO Requirements and China's Commitments | 109 |
| 2 | Concrete Chinese Actions and Their Significance | 111 |
| III | Concluding Remarks | 114 |
| Part III | | |
| The Impact of China's WTO Membership on the Chinese Legal System | | 117 |
| Chapter 6 | | |
| Changing Relationship between Legal Authority and Political Power | | 119 |
| I | Redefining the Role between the Market and the Government | 120 |
| A | The Foreign Trade Law: A Legally Guaranteed Right to Trade | 121 |
| B | The Administrative Licensing Law: A Paradigm Shift | 123 |
| II | A Stronger Role of Law in Policy-making | 126 |
| A | The Foreign Investment Regime | 128 |
| 1 | Provisions on Guiding Foreign Investment Direction | 129 |
| 2 | Catalogue for the Guidance of Foreign Investment Industries | 130 |
| B | A Direct Transplant of WTO Rules | 132 |
| 1 | Anti-dumping Regulations | 133 |
| 2 | Safeguards Regulations | 136 |
| C | Intellectual Property Rights Law | 139 |
| 1 | Legislative Efforts | 140 |
| 2 | Judicial Process and Efforts to Improve Intellectual Property Rights Adjudication | 142 |
| 3 | WTO Focus of Concern: Enforcement Deficiency | 145 |
| III | Concluding Remarks | 149 |
| Chapter 7 | | |
| Incorporating Major Rule of Law Principles into the Chinese Legal System | | 151 |
| I | Key Relevant Rule of Law Principles | 153 |
| A | Globalization: Converging International and Domestic Laws | 154 |
| 1 | Globalization Defined | 155 |
| 2 | Globalizing WTO Rules | 156 |
| B | Applicability in the Chinese Context | 157 |
| 1 | A Pragmatic Approach | 158 |
| 2 | Four WTO-Induced Principles | 160 |

| | | |
|-----|--|-----|
| II | Assessment of Four Rule of Law Principles in China | 161 |
| A | Due Process and Procedural Fairness | 161 |
| 1 | Legislative Changes | 162 |
| 2 | Relevant Cases and Executive Action | 163 |
| B | Transparency | 164 |
| 1 | Legislative Changes | 165 |
| 2 | Relevant Cases and Executive Action | 167 |
| C | Equality | 169 |
| 1 | Growing Disparities | 172 |
| 2 | Relevant Cases | 173 |
| D | Justiciability of Government Actions | 174 |
| 1 | Legality Review Mechanisms in China | 175 |
| 2 | Relevant Cases | 176 |
| III | Concluding Remarks | 178 |

Chapter 8

| | |
|--|------------|
| Challenges Ahead: Opportunities and Risks | 181 |
|--|------------|

| | | |
|-----|---|-----|
| I | Opportunities for Positive Development | 181 |
| A | Clearer Framework for Reform: Lessons from the Property Law | 182 |
| B | Legality Crucial for Regime Legitimacy | 185 |
| C | A Boost in Public Reliance on Law and the Legal System | 190 |
| II | Risks and Challenges | 193 |
| A | Weak Implementation Risks Disillusion | 194 |
| B | Uncertain Legal Status of the CPC | 195 |
| C | Response to Social Conflicts: Rules-Based Approach or Power Politics? | 198 |
| III | Conclusion: China's Long March Forward | 200 |

| | |
|-----------------|------------|
| Appendix | 205 |
|-----------------|------------|

| | |
|---------------------|------------|
| Bibliography | 219 |
|---------------------|------------|

| | |
|--------------|------------|
| Index | 235 |
|--------------|------------|