

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	xiii
INTRODUCTION The Promise of Economic Security	i
 Part One: Economic Risks in an Advancing World
ONE What the World Might Have Looked Like since 1950	21
TWO The Hidden Problem of Economic Risk	32
THREE Why New Technology Creates Risks	46
FOUR Forty Thieves: The Many Kinds of Economic Risks	58
 Part Two: How Science and Technology Create New Opportunities in Finance
FIVE New Information Technology Applied to Risk Management	69
SIX The Science of Psychology Applied to Risk Management	82
SEVEN The Nature of Invention in Finance	99
 Part Three: Six Ideas for a New Financial Order
EIGHT Insurance for Livelihoods and Home Values	107
NINE Macro Markets: Trading the Biggest Risks	121
TEN Income-Linked Loans: Reducing the Risks of Hardship and Bankruptcy	139
ELEVEN Inequality Insurance: Protecting the Distribution of Income	149
TWELVE Intergenerational Social Security: Sharing Risks between Young and Old	165
THIRTEEN International Agreements for Risk Control	175
 Part Four: Deploying the New Financial Order
FOURTEEN Global Risk Information Databases	189

CONTENTS

FIFTEEN	New Units of Measurement and Electronic Money	202
SIXTEEN	Making the Ideas Work: Research and Advocacy	222

Part Five: The New Financial Order as a Continuation of a Historical Process

SEVENTEEN	Lessons from Major Financial Inventions	231
EIGHTEEN	Lessons from Major Social Insurance Inventions	245

EPILOGUE	A Model of Radical Financial Innovation	269
----------	---	-----

Notes	277
-------	-----

References	325
------------	-----

Index	351
-------	-----