

Contents

Preface	i
List of Abbreviations	vi
Introduction: East Asia in 2018
A Severer Strategic Environment and Japan's Response	1
1. Trump Administration and the Great Power Competition	2
2. Developments Toward the “Denuclearization” of the Korean Peninsula	2
3. The Power Base and Policy Issues of Xi Jinping's Second Term.....	3
4. Building of Japan's “Cross-Domain” Defense Force	4
5. The Indo-Pacific Concept of Australia and India.....	5
Chapter 1 Australia, India and the Indo-Pacific Concept	7
1. Australia, India and the Indo-Pacific Concept	9
2. Australia's Perception of the Indo-Pacific	14
(1) The End of a US-Centered Order	14
(2) Worsening Australia-China Relations.....	16
(3) Network Diplomacy in the Indo-Pacific	22
3. India's Perception of the Indo-Pacific.....	27
(1) “Indian Ocean Region”: Arena for Playing a Major Power Role.....	27
(2) Enhancing Engagement in Indian Ocean Island Countries	31
(3) Strengthening Partnership with ASEAN Countries.....	34
Chapter 2 China: The Start of Xi Jinping's Second Term	43
1. Strengthening of Xi Jinping's Authority Through Personnel Changes, Institutional and Organizational Reforms, and Anti-Corruption Campaign	45
(1) Unprecedented Personnel Appointments in Line with Xi's Intentions.....	45
(2) Institutional and Organizational Reforms of Party and State Organs Including Constitutional Amendments	46
(3) Continuation of Anti-Corruption Campaign.....	48
2. The Geopolitics of Chinese Foreign Policy	50
(1) Xi Jinping's Reorientation of Foreign Policy Approach	50
(2) Deteriorating Sino-US Relations	52
(3) Proactive Neighboring Diplomacy	57
3. Deepening National Defense and Military Reform and PLA's Modernization from the Perspective of Training and Equipment	61
(1) Progress in Military Reform at National People's Congress.....	61
(2) Strengthening of Training Structure and Implementation of Exercises	63
(3) Advances in Arms Modernization	66

Chapter 3 The Korean Peninsula:

Prospects of the “Denuclearization” Negotiations73

- 1. North Korea: Nuclear Program and Negotiations.....75
 - (1) “Denuclearization” that Sustains Nuclear Weapons75
 - (2) Are “Security Guarantees” Consistent with Non-Proliferation?78
 - (3) Peace Regime as an External Asset81
- 2. South Korea: Efforts for Overcoming the “Division System”.....87
 - (1) Three Inter-Korean Summits and Progress in North-South Relations87
 - (2) Building of Peace Regime and US-ROK Alliance90
 - (3) Prospects of “Defense Reform 2.0”94

Chapter 4 Southeast Asia: Readjusting External Relations 101

- 1. Regional Cooperation Trends and Security Issues..... 103
 - (1) ASEAN’s Policy Trends Over the South China Sea Issue 103
 - (2) New Developments Related to Regional Cooperation and Joint Exercises 107
- 2. Developments on Democratization and National Security..... 111
 - (1) Malaysia: First-ever Change of Government since Independence 111
 - (2) Indonesia: Challenges Related to Islam..... 114
 - (3) Myanmar: Challenges for National Reconciliation..... 117
- 3. Trends in Individual Countries’ Military Modernization..... 120
 - (1) Malaysia: Reforms under the New Government 120
 - (2) Indonesia: Reorganization Aimed at Joint Operation..... 123
 - (3) Myanmar: Modernization in a Difficult International Environment 126

Chapter 5 Russia: The Start of the Fourth Putin Administration..... 133

- 1. The Fourth Putin Administration and Future Policy Guidelines 135
 - (1) President Putin’s Re-election and Expectations for the Administration 135
 - (2) Building of Medium- to Long-term Policy Guideline Framework 136
 - (3) Future Policy Guidelines 137
- 2. Diplomatic Policy Aimed at Forming a New International Order..... 138
 - (1) Diplomacy with the United States for Restoring Strategic Stability..... 138
 - (2) Diplomacy in Europe Aimed at a Russia-favored Framework..... 141
 - (3) Diplomacy toward Involvement in Formation of New Order in East Asia 144
- 3. Domestic Policy Aimed at Steady Development of Foundation for Social and Economic Growth..... 147
 - (1) Future Policy Framework Indicated in the May Presidential Executive Order... 147
 - (2) New Executive Branch 149
 - (3) Prudent, Yet Bold Policies 152
 - (4) Key Guidelines for the Government to 2024 and Positioning of National Defense Industry 155

4. Military Reforms with an Eye toward Combating Threats and Future Warfare.....	159
(1) Reinforcement of Military Posture in European Strategic Direction	159
(2) Military Posture and Large-scale Exercise Vostok 2018 in the Eastern Military District	160
(3) Progress in Equipment Upgrades and Discussions concerning Military Reforms	164
(4) Expanding Counter-Terrorism Military Cooperation and Arms Exports Aiming to Increase	165

Chapter 6 The United States: The Trump Administration’s Second Year:

Aiming to Restore a “Strong America”..... 173

1. Security Strategy Based on a Worldview that “Great Power Competition Returned”	175
(1) Establishment of New Security Strategy: Return of Great Power Competition.....	175
(2) US-China Relations Increasingly Underpinned by Competition	178
(3) Denuclearization of the Korean Peninsula Through Dialogue.....	181
2. Efforts Towards Modernizing US Forces	184
(1) Rebuilding the Nuclear Arsenal.....	184
(2) Prospects of the Ballistic Missile Defense System.....	186
(3) State of Research and Development in Emerging Technology	188
3. Mid-Term Elections and Domestic Outlook	193
(1) Mid-Term Elections and US Politics	193
(2) Comparison of 2018 Mid-Term Elections and 2016 Presidential Election	197

Chapter 7 Japan: New National Defense Program Guidelines205

1. What are the “National Defense Program Guidelines”?.....	207
(1) Guidelines as Defense Strategy	207
(2) End of the Cold War and Transition of the NDPG – Shift to a Proactive Contribution to Peace.....	212
2. Background to the NDPG Review	216
(1) Shifts in the International Balance of Power.....	216
(2) Emergence of Specific Security Challenges	220
3. New National Defense Program Guidelines - Multi-Domain Defense Force	225