

CONTENTS

List of illustrations	xiii
List of tasks	xv
Foreword	xvii
Acknowledgements	xx
List of contributors	xxi
An introduction to the series: Mentoring Trainee and Early Career Teachers	xxvi
1 Introduction: mentoring matters in and for geography education	1
Nicola Walshe, Grace Healy, Steve Puttick and Lauren Hammond
SECTION 1 MENTORING IN GEOGRAPHY EDUCATION	11
2 Navigating the policy landscape: conceptualising subject-specialist mentoring within and beyond policy	13
Grace Healy and Nicola Walshe
3 Mentoring as a spatial practice	31
Clare Brooks
4 What sort of mentoring for what sort of geography education?	42
John Morgan
SECTION 2 PERSPECTIVES AND EXPERIENCES IN GEOGRAPHY MENTORING	57
5 Working with the complexity of professional practice and development	59
Phil Wood and Aimee Quickfall
6 Mentoring as a professional development opportunity	75
Richard Bustin

7	Mentoring that makes a difference: perspectives from beginning geography teachers	88
	Gemma Collins
8	Mentoring within the geography subject community	102
	Alan Kinder
9	Supporting the development of geography mentors - the potential of professional learning at Masters level	119
	Ann Childs
SECTION 3 BEING A GEOGRAPHY MENTOR		135
10	Mentoring meetings and conversations supporting beginning teachers in their development as geography teachers	137
	Emma Rawlings Smith
11	Planning in geography education: a conversation between university-based tutors and school-based mentors in Initial Teacher Education	156
	Faizaan Ahmed, Lauren Hammond, Sara-Anne Nichols, Steve Puttick and Amy Searle
12	Geography lesson observations at the interface between research and practice	173
	Steve Puttick
13	Geography and geography education scholarship as a mechanism for developing and sustaining mentors' and beginning teachers' subject knowledge and curriculum thinking	187
	Grace Healy
14	Educative mentoring: a key to professional learning for geography teachers and mentors	208
	Maria Palombo and Caroline Daly
15	Well-being: theory and practice for beginning geography teachers	224
	Emma Clarke, Aimee Quickfall and Shaun Thompson
SECTION 4 CONCLUSION		241
16	Mentoring matters: contributing to a more just tomorrow in geography education	243
	Lauren Hammond, Steve Puttick, Nicola Walshe and Grace Healy
	Index	252