

CONTENTS

Table of Cases	xxxv
Tables of Primary Legislation	lxxxvii
Tables of Secondary Legislation	cix
List of Abbreviations	cxiii

I AN INTRODUCTION TO ADR

1. Alternative Dispute Resolution	3
A. Introduction	1.01
The need for a conflict or dispute	1.04
Palm tree justice	1.06
Some benefits and problems with ADR techniques	1.07
B. Mediation	1.09
Mediation procedures	1.12
Mediation as a condition precedent to arbitration	1.13
The London Court of International Arbitration (LCIA) Mediation Procedure	1.12
Conciliation and the UNCITRAL Model Law on International Commercial Conciliation	1.17
C. Adjudication	1.22
Adjudication as a species of arbitration	1.23
Statutory adjudication in England and Wales	1.25
Dispute Adjudication Boards, Review Boards, and Resolution Advisers	1.34
D. Expert Determination	1.40
A final determination of the issues	1.43
Expert determination and arbitration compared	1.45
E. Neutral Evaluation, ICC Rules of Expertise, and Mini-trials	1.50
Neutral evaluation	1.50
The ICC Rules for Expertise	1.51
Mini-trials	1.52
F. Med-Arb and Other Forms of Hybrid Arbitration	1.54
Med-arb	1.55
Flip-flop arbitration	1.63

G. The ICC ADR Rules	1.67
 II INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION: PRINCIPLES AND PRACTICE
2. The Principles of Arbitration	33
A. Arbitration Defined	2.01
B. Characteristics of Arbitration	2.04
An arbitration agreement	2.04
An arbitral tribunal	2.07
A dispute or difference	2.09
A judicial process	2.11
A binding award	2.12
C. Benefits of Arbitration	2.14
D. The Differing Forms of International Arbitration	2.16
Arbitrations between legal individuals	2.17
Arbitration between States and individuals	2.18
Arbitrations between States	2.19
E. Domestic and International Arbitration Compared	2.27
International arbitration and the New York Convention	2.29
F. Commercial Arbitration	2.44
The meaning of commercial under the UNCITRAL Model Law	2.45
The meaning of commercial under national laws	2.48
The commercial reservation within the New York Convention	2.56
Commercial dispute changing to non-commercial dispute	2.57
G. Reciprocity	2.58
Reciprocity and defences to enforcement	2.61
3. Arbitration Institutions and Ad Hoc Arbitration	61
A. Introduction	3.01
B. Institutional Arbitration Bodies	3.03
The London Court of International Arbitration	3.04
American Arbitration Association and the International Centre for Dispute Resolution	3.09
Stockholm Chamber of Commerce Arbitration Institute	3.11
Singapore International Arbitration Centre	3.14
Hong Kong International Arbitration Centre	3.15
Netherlands Arbitration Institute	3.16
China International Economic and Trade Arbitration Commission	3.18
The International Commercial Arbitration Court of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of the Russian Federation	3.19

The London Maritime Arbitrators Association	3.20
World Intellectual Property Organization	3.21
German Institution of Arbitration	3.22
The International Chamber of Commerce	3.23
C. The ICC Rules of Arbitration	3.25
The ICC Arbitration clause	3.26
Introductory provisions	3.27
The Request for arbitration	3.30
The Answer to the Request and counterclaims	3.37
Autonomy of the arbitration agreement	3.39
The arbitral tribunal	3.40
The arbitral proceedings	3.49
Establishing the facts of the case and hearings	3.58
Interim measures of protection	3.60
The Award	3.61
Costs	3.73
Miscellaneous provisions and the appendices	3.75
D. Ad Hoc Arbitration and the UNCITRAL Arbitration Rules	3.76
The UNCITRAL Arbitration Rules	3.78
 4. The Arbitration Agreement and the Parties	 97
A. Introduction to the Arbitration Agreement	4.01
Arbitration agreements and submission agreements	4.03
B. Agreements in Writing	4.05
Definition of 'in writing' in the New York Convention	4.06
Definition of 'in writing' in the UNCITRAL Model Law	4.09
Difficulties in interpreting the phrase 'in writing'	4.11
Incorporation of arbitration clauses	4.15
Variations to the arbitration clause	4.22
C. Arbitrability	4.23
The work of UNCITRAL	4.26
New York Convention, Article II(1)	4.28
Disputes capable of settlement by arbitration	4.31
Disputes which are null and void, inoperative, or incapable of being performed	4.33
Public policy and contracts contra bonos mores	4.36
Arbitrability and the burden of proof	4.54
D. Separability of the Arbitration Agreement	4.55
The doctrine of separability	4.56
The rationale for the doctrine of separability	4.59
Limits to the separability doctrine	4.60
Separability and the UNCITRAL Model Law	4.62

E. Capacity of the Parties	4.63
Capacity and State entities	4.66
Capacity and autonomous principles	4.71
Agency	4.73
F. State Immunity	4.78
Acta iure imperii	4.79
Acta iure gestionis	4.80
Jurisdictional immunity	4.81
Enforcement immunity	4.82
 5. The Arbitral Tribunal and Jurisdiction	 139
A. The Relationship Between the Arbitral Tribunal and the Parties	5.01
The appointment of the arbitral tribunal	5.03
A truncated arbitral tribunal	5.11
Removal of the arbitral tribunal	5.14
Immunity from suit	5.19
B. The Obligations and Duties of the Arbitral Tribunal	5.23
Acting fairly and impartially as between the parties	5.25
Independence and impartiality	5.28
Obligations imposed by professional ethical standards or rules	5.35
Completing the arbitration and issuing an award	5.38
C. Multiparty Arbitration	5.39
Problems involved in multiparty arbitrations	5.40
Consolidation usually not permitted	5.45
Sufficient nexus to consolidate arbitrations	5.48
D. Jurisdiction of the Arbitral Tribunal	5.63
The wording of the arbitration agreement	5.64
The need for a dispute	5.70
E. Kompetenz-Kompetenz	5.72
Kompetenz-kompetenz and exclusivity	5.75
 6. The Applicable Law	 179
A. Introduction	6.01
B. The Choice of an Applicable Law	6.04
C. The Application of National Laws	6.10
The choice of a neutral applicable law	6.11
Dépeçage	6.12
The tronc commun doctrine	6.15
Stabilization clauses	6.19
Lois de police (mandatory rules of law)	6.21

D. Contrat Sans Loi	6.23
Lex contractus	6.25
Equitable principles	6.28
E. Transnational Law	6.33
Lex mercatoria	6.35
Uniform laws and codified principles	6.40
Public international law	6.46
F. Conflict of Laws	6.48
An express or implied choice of law made by the parties	6.50
Where the parties have not chosen an applicable law	6.60
Ascertainment of the law to determine the approach	6.68
Summary	6.77
 7. The Procedural Laws of the Arbitration	 215
A. Introduction	7.01
B. The Law Applicable to the Arbitration Agreement	7.04
An express choice of law to govern the arbitration agreement	7.06
The application of autonomous legal principles	7.07
Conflict of laws rules	7.09
The law of the seat of the arbitration	7.14
The choice of substantive law	7.17
Summary	7.20
C. The Law Applicable to Arbitrability	7.21
Who determines the law applicable to arbitrability?	7.23
Arbitrability and the New York Convention	7.27
Arbitrability and mandatory laws	7.32
Summary	7.37
D. The Lex Arbitri and the Curial Law	7.38
The lex arbitri	7.38
The curial law or procedural law	7.60
The delocalized arbitration	7.72
 8. Preliminary Proceedings	 255
A. Introduction	8.01
B. Party Autonomy	8.02
The choice of arbitral situs	8.04
Party autonomy and the choice of laws and rules	8.09
Restrictions on party autonomy	8.11
C. Commencement of the Arbitration	8.12
Limitation periods	8.13
Conditions precedent	8.16
The 'Notice of Arbitration'	8.21

D. Preliminary Meetings	8.28
The UNCITRAL notes on organizing arbitral proceedings	8.30
Further directions	8.52
9. The Powers of the Arbitral Tribunal and Interim Measures of Protection	281
A. Ascertaining the Powers of the Arbitral Tribunal	9.01
The arbitration agreement	9.03
The seat of the arbitration and procedural law	9.07
B. The Powers of the Arbitral Tribunal When Acting as Amiable Compositeurs	9.12
C. The Powers of the Arbitral Tribunal	9.14
Rebus sic stantibus and rectification	9.15
The power to compel arbitration	9.16
Kompetenz-kompetenz	9.18
Use of experts and evidence	9.19
Taking evidence	9.20
Amendments to the award	9.21
Disclosure	9.22
Striking out for want of prosecution	9.33
The arbitral tribunal's sanctions in the event of a breach of an order	9.36
D. Interim Measures of Protection	9.37
Measures relating to the production of evidence	9.39
Conservatory measures	9.42
Security for costs	9.49
A référé -provision	9.53
E. The Power to Make Orders for Provisional Relief Without Notice	9.54
F. Court Enforcement of Orders for Provisional Relief	9.57
Applying a system of exequatur	9.58
Court assistance in support of an order for provisional relief	9.60
The English system	9.64
Enforcement of interim measures of protection under the New York Convention	9.66
G. The Power to Review Decisions of the Arbitral Tribunal	9.67
The jurisdiction of the courts	9.68
The jurisdiction of the arbitral tribunal	9.80
10. Evidence, the Award and Remedies	319
A. Introduction	10.01

B. Evidence	10.03
Witnesses of fact	10.04
Expert evidence	10.07
Documentary and real evidence	10.12
C. Hearings	10.14
Representation of the parties	10.15
Hearings and the IBA Rules of Evidence	10.16
The UNICTRAL Notes on Organizing Arbitral Proceedings	10.18
D. The Award	10.21
Distinguishing an award from an order	10.23
The various types of award	10.32
Exceptions to the principle of finality of awards	10.47
Requirement of an award	10.53
E. Remedies and Orders	10.58
Monetary orders	10.59
Orders	10.66
Interest	10.67
Costs	10.68
 11. Privacy and Confidentiality	 349
A. Introduction	11.01
B. Privacy	11.05
Privacy and concurrent arbitrations	11.08
C. Confidentiality	11.09
The basis for imposing an obligation of confidentiality	11.11
D. Exceptions to the Confidentiality Obligation	11.14
Where a party consents to the disclosure	11.15
If the court makes an order or grants leave for disclosure of such documents or evidence	11.16
When it is reasonably necessary to protect the legitimate interests of the party to the arbitration	11.17
Where the interests of justice require disclosure	11.21
Confidentiality and the public interest exception	11.23
E. Recent Arbitration Cases Concerning the Public Interest Exception	11.29
Principles of international law	11.37
F. Confidentiality and the Publication of Judgments	11.43
G. Confidentiality and Third Parties	11.46
H. Conclusion	11.48

12. Challenging the Award	371
A. Introduction	12.01
B. Challenging the Award at the Seat or Place of the Arbitration	12.04
The country in which the award is made	12.06
The law under which the award is made	12.13
Whether the award is domestic or foreign	12.16
The final and binding nature of the award	12.17
Time-bar provisions	12.18
C. The Grounds for Challenging an Arbitral Tribunal's Award	12.21
Jurisdictional challenges	12.23
Breaches of natural justice	12.35
Appeals on points of law	12.44
Miscellaneous challenges	12.49
D. Defences to Setting Aside an Award	12.62
Excluding the jurisdiction of the courts	12.63
Waiver and estoppel	12.66
E. Recognition, Confirmation, and Actions on the Award	12.70
Action on the award	12.71
Recognition of the award	12.73
Actions on a judgment confirming an award	12.74
F. Setting Aside and Remitting the Award	12.77
The effect of setting aside an award	12.77
Remitting an award	12.79
G. Challenges in the Courts of Other Countries	12.80
13. Recognition and Enforcement of the Award	407
A. Introduction	13.01
Passive and active challenges	13.02
The difference between recognition and enforcement	13.03
The forum for enforcement	13.05
Time limits	13.07
B. The Procedure for Recognition and Enforcement	13.09
C. Grounds for Refusing Enforcement Under the New York Convention	13.11
Incorporation of the New York Convention into a country's municipal law	13.13
The burden of proof	13.14
Article V(1)(a)—incapacity and invalidity	13.15
Article V(1)(b)—violation of due process	13.17
Article V(1)(c)—scope of jurisdiction	13.21

Article V(1)(d)—irregularity in the composition or procedure	13.23
Article V(1)(a)—award set aside, suspended, or not binding	13.28
The lex fori grounds for refusing enforcement	13.39
Arbitrability	13.40
Public policy	13.43
D. Article V—an Exhaustive Defence	13.61
Non-domestic awards as distinct from international awards	13.62
Procedural grounds for refusing enforcement under the New York Convention	13.66
Incorporation of the New York Convention into national legislation	13.76
E. Waiver and Estoppel	13.77
Waiver and international public policy considerations	13.81
Reservations	13.82
Estoppel under the law of the seat of the arbitration	13.83
F. The Enforcing Court's Discretion to Enforce an Annulled Award	13.84
The effect of setting aside or annulling the award	13.85
G. The More-Favourable-Right Provision	13.98
The requirement to apply the more-favourable-right provision	13.101
The more-favourable-right provision and the UNCITRAL Model Law	13.105
 14. Treaties and Conventions	 449
A. Introduction	14.01
B. The Washington Convention 1965	14.03
The jurisdictional basis for ICSID arbitrations	14.06
The procedure for the arbitration	14.14
The award and remedies	14.20
The Washington Convention and English law	14.23
Precedents	14.24
C. The European Convention 1961	14.25
Dispute arising from international trade	14.26
The parties' connection with two or more Contracting States	14.29
The arbitration agreement	14.31
D. The Panama Convention 1975	14.32
Enforcement of a Panama Convention award	14.33
Inter-American Commercial Arbitration Commission Rules	14.34
E. Bilateral and Multilateral Investment Treaties	14.36
Fork in the road provisions	14.40
Enforcement of BITs and MITs	14.41
The February 2004 Draft Model US BIT	14.42

III ARBITRATION UNDER ENGLISH LAW

15. Introduction to English Arbitration Law	477
A. The Development of Arbitration Law	15.01
The development of a commercial court system in England	15.04
The development of a body of arbitration law	15.10
B. The English Arbitration Acts	15.16
9 & 10 Will 3, c. 15 to the Common Law Procedure Act 1854	15.16
The Common Law Procedure Act 1854	15.24
The Arbitration Acts 1889 to 1934	15.26
Arbitration Act 1950	15.28
Arbitration Act 1975	15.33
Arbitration Act 1979	15.35
Courts and Legal Services Act 1990	15.39
C. The Arbitration Act 1996 and the DAC	15.42
16. The Scope and Characteristics of Arbitration	493
A. Characteristics of an Arbitration	16.01
B. Principles of the Arbitration Act 1996	16.05
Introduction	16.05
Fair resolution of disputes by an impartial tribunal without unnecessary delay and expense	16.07
Party autonomy	16.10
Minimal intervention from the court	16.12
C. The Scope of the Arbitration Act 1996	16.22
The seat of the arbitration	16.22
Scope of applications	16.23
Arbitration Act 1996, sections 85–87	16.30
Mandatory and non-mandatory provisions	16.33
Agreements in writing	16.34
Oral arbitration agreements	16.40
D. The Meaning of ‘Disputes’	16.44
‘Dispute’ and ‘difference’	16.45
Indisputable disputes	16.47
Claims	16.49
Form of wording	16.50
Future disputes	16.52
17. Commencing an Arbitration	513
A. Application of the Limitation Acts	17.01
Limitation Act 1980	17.03

Foreign Limitation Periods Act 1984	17.05
Carriage of Goods by Sea Act 1971	17.06
When time begins to run	17.09
When time ceases to run	17.12
B Commencing an Arbitration	17.13
Default provisions	17.15
C. The Arbitration Notice	17.21
Validity	17.23
Express or implied request to appoint an arbitrator	17.24
D. Terminating the Arbitration	17.38
18. Extending Time to Commence Arbitration Proceedings	529
A. Contractual Time Bar Clauses	18.01
Barring the claim and the right to arbitrate	18.04
Extinguishing the claim	18.06
Barring the right to arbitrate	18.08
When time begins to run	18.09
The statutory provisions in the Arbitration Act 1996, section 14	18.16
B. Extending Time to Commence Arbitration Proceedings	18.17
Conditions for making the application	18.20
Making the application	18.24
The order	18.25
Cross applications	18.26
Grounds for making the application	18.32
Circumstances outside the reasonable contemplation of the parties	18.33
Conduct of a party which makes it unjust to enforce the time bar provision	18.46
The court's residual discretion	18.47
19. The Parties	547
A. Introduction	19.01
Capacity of a party	19.02
Capacity of the Crown	19.07
Capacity of foreign States under English law	19.10
B. Persons Claiming Through or Under a Party to an Arbitration
Agreement	19.13
Trustees and personal representatives	19.13
Trustee in bankruptcy	19.16
Liquidation and administration	19.18
Assignee	19.26
Agents	19.38

C. Third Parties	19.44
Novation	19.45
Guarantor, surety, and indemnifiers	19.48
D. Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999	19.56
Where a third party has a right to enforce a term of a contract	19.57
Where a third party is treated as a party to the arbitration	19.61
Rights of sub-contractors and privity of contract	19.64
E. Multiple Parties	19.66
Third-party actions	19.67
Consolidation of proceedings and concurrent arbitrations	19.69
Whether a previous award can bind an arbitral tribunal	19.71
Tripartite agreements	19.75
Arbitration rules providing for consolidation or concurrent hearings	19.80
Name borrowing	19.81
 20. The Arbitration Agreement	 581
A. Introduction	20.01
The separability of the arbitration clause	20.02
B. The Underlying Contract	20.08
Repudiation of the underlying contract	20.09
Contract not concluded	20.10
Inconsistency	20.14
Conditions precedent	20.15
Scott v Avery clause	20.16
Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999	20.17
C. The Validity of the Arbitration Clause	20.20
The parties	20.21
Agency	20.22
Uncertainty	20.24
Consumer agreements	20.28
D. The Form of the Arbitration Agreement	20.30
Contents of an arbitration clause	20.32
Implied terms	20.35
Incorporation of the arbitration agreement	20.37
‘Ad hoc’ or submission agreements	20.38
Option to arbitrate	20.45
Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) clauses	20.46
Variation of the arbitration agreement	20.49
Construction of Arbitration Clauses	20.50

21. Incorporating the Arbitration Agreement	609
A. Introduction	21.01
Statutory provisions	21.02
B. General Principles	21.07
The arbitration clause as a collateral contract	21.08
Negotiability of the contract	21.09
Mutual intention of the parties	21.12
Appropriateness of arbitration clause to subject matter of the contract	21.16
Uncertainty	21.21
Human rights	21.22
Repugnancy	21.23
Paramount clause	21.24
C. Construction and Engineering Contracts	21.25
D. Bill of Lading Cases	21.27
Evidence of mutual intention	21.29
E. Reinsurance and Retrocession Contracts	21.30
Arbitration agreement not agreed when contract is made	21.31
F. Other Agreements	21.33
Companies	21.34
 22. Appointing the Arbitral Tribunal and the Cessation of its Office	 623
A. Composition of the Arbitral Tribunal	22.01
Chairman or umpire	22.03
B. The Appointment of the Arbitral Tribunal	22.10
Appointment by a party	22.11
Appointment by appointing authority	22.13
Default provisions	22.14
Appointment by the court	22.23
C. Death, Resignation, and Revocation	22.32
Death of an arbitrator	22.33
Resignation of an arbitrator	22.34
Revocation of the arbitral tribunal's authority	22.37
D. Removal of an Arbitrator	22.39
Statutory provisions	22.41
Justifiable doubts as to the arbitral tribunal's impartiality	22.42
Absence of required qualifications	22.55
Incapacity	22.57
Refusing or failing to act as required	22.58
E. Casual Vacancy	22.60

23. The Role of the Arbitral Tribunal	649
A. The Role and Function of the Arbitral Tribunal	23.01
The statutory duty	23.02
B. The General Powers of the Arbitral Tribunal	23.09
Consolidation of proceedings and concurrent hearings	23.10
Choice of law	23.11
Procedural and evidential powers	23.12
The appointment of experts, legal advisers, and assessors	23.25
Security for costs	23.35
Directions in relation to any property	23.49
Evidence to be given on oath or affirmation	23.51
Preservation of evidence	23.52
Provisional awards	23.53
C. Powers in the Case of a Party's Default	23.60
Power to strike out a claim	23.61
Proceedings in the absence of a party	23.77
Peremptory orders	23.81
D. Immunity of the Arbitral Tribunal	23.84
24. Challenging the Arbitral Tribunal's Jurisdiction in the Proceedings	683
A. Introduction	24.01
B. Arbitral Tribunal Determining its own Jurisdiction	24.04
Matters of jurisdiction	24.07
Objecting to the arbitral tribunal's substantive jurisdiction	24.21
Time limits for making the objection	24.27
C. Application to Court to Determine Jurisdiction	24.35
Mandatory conditions	24.41
Making the application	24.42
Time limits	24.46
D. Refusing to Participate in the Arbitration	24.47
E. Applications Under the Arbitration Act 1996, Section 72	24.54
Declarations	24.55
Injunctions	24.64
25. Powers of the Court	705
A. Introduction	25.01
Mandatory sections	25.02
Non-mandatory sections	25.03
Excluding the court's powers	25.04
B. Incidental Powers	25.05
Service of documents	25.06

Charging property with the payment of a solicitor's costs	25.08
Reference of interpleader issues to arbitration	25.09
Orders relating to property where Admiralty proceedings are stayed	25.13
C. Enforcing Peremptory Orders of the Arbitral Tribunal	25.14
D. Securing the Attendance of Witnesses	25.17
Restriction	25.18
Relevance of the seat of the arbitration	25.19
Rule of privilege	25.21
Disclosure against third parties	25.22
E. Supporting Arbitration Proceedings	25.23
Relevance of the seat of the arbitration	25.25
Who may apply	25.26
Application subject to condition in section 44(5) of the Arbitration Act 1996	25.27
Court's powers same as in civil proceedings	25.29
Court's power to take the evidence of witnesses	25.32
Evidence and property	25.33
F. Stay of Legal Proceedings	25.45
Granting a stay under the court's inherent jurisdiction	25.47
Statutory conditions for making the application	25.50
Issues of jurisdiction	25.64
Award condition precedent to the bringing of legal proceedings	25.67
Disputes as to whether an arbitration agreement is time barred	25.68
G. Extending Time Under Sections 50, 79, and 80(5)	25.69
Arbitration Act 1996, sections 50 and 79	25.69
Distinction between the Arbitration Act 1996, sections 79 and 80(5)	25.73
H. Determining a Preliminary Point of Law	25.77
Conditions for making the application	25.78
Appeals	25.82
26. Procedural Matters Under the Arbitration Act 1996	739
A. Making an Application to Court During the Arbitration	26.01
Applications for interim remedies	26.05
Applications under the Arbitration Act 1996, sections 32 and 45	26.06
Applications for a witness summons	26.09
Applications under the Arbitration Act 1996, section 9	26.10
Application 'upon notice'	26.11
B. Serving the Claim Form	26.13
Time for service	26.13
Methods of service	26.14
Service out of the jurisdiction	26.15
Acknowledgement of service	26.16

C. Case Management	26.17
D. Hearings	26.20
Judgments	26.24
E. Procedural Matters Regarding Challenging and Appealing the Award	26.25
Application to challenge the award	26.25
Application 'on notice'	26.26
Application to appeal on a point of law	26.27
The hearing	26.32
Hearings for permission to appeal under section 69(3)	26.33
Reopening the decision giving leave to appeal	26.47
Rehearing of witnesses	26.48
F. Appeals to the Court of Appeal	26.53
G. Enforcing the Award by Summary Procedure	26.54
Interest on the award	26.59
27. Challenging and Appealing the Award	761
A. Lack of Jurisdiction	27.01
Arbitration Act 1996, section 67	27.02
Substantive jurisdiction	27.04
Disputes as to the existence of an arbitration agreement	27.05
Misuse of the Arbitration Act 1996, section 67	27.06
Remedies	27.08
Functus officio	27.09
Appeal	27.10
B. Serious Irregularity	27.11
Arbitration Act 1996, section 68(2)	27.13
Substantial injustice	27.14
The grounds of challenge	27.19
Remedies	27.50
Appeal	27.52
C. Challenging and Appealing the Award—Supplementary Matters	27.53
Reasons	27.53
Exhaustion of any available arbitral process of appeal or review	27.56
D. Time Limits	27.60
The rules of the court	27.61
Extending time	27.62
E. Court Orders	27.63
Reasons	27.63
Security for costs	27.66
Payment into court	27.67

F. Effect of Court Orders	27.68
G. Non-participation in the Arbitration	27.70
H. Loss of Right to Object	27.71
Defence	27.74
Time for making the objection	27.76
Taking part in the proceedings	27.78
Jurisdiction dealt with as a preliminary issue	27.80
I. Waiver	27.81
J. Costs of the Application	27.82
28. Appeal on a Point of Law	797
A. Introduction	28.01
B. Circumstances Where there is No Right to Appeal	28.03
Agreement to waive the right to appeal	28.03
Agreement to dispense with reasons in the award	28.04
Failure to exhaust other available means of appeal	28.05
Failure to bring the appeal in time	28.06
C. Questions of law	28.07
Where the proper law of the contract is a foreign law	28.08
Where the parties have chosen a foreign law as the procedural law	28.12
Questions of fact	28.13
The question of law must arise from the award	28.14
D. Statutory Conditions for Bringing an Appeal	28.23
Agreement of the parties	28.24
E. Statutory Conditions for the Granting of Leave to Appeal	28.27
Section 69(3)(a) grounds for granting leave	28.28
Section 69(3)(b) grounds for granting leave	28.29
Section 69(3)(c) grounds for granting leave	28.32
Section 69(3)(d) grounds for granting leave	28.45
F. Appealing the Refusal to Grant Leave to Appeal	28.47
The Court of Appeal's residual discretion	28.49
G. Orders of the Court	28.52
Confirming the award	28.53
Varying the award	28.55
Remitting the award	28.56
Setting the award aside	28.58
Award is a condition precedent to the bringing of legal proceedings	28.59
H. Appealing a Substantive Decision to the Court of Appeal	28.60
The requirement of leave	28.60
Appeal under the Arbitration Act 1996, section 69(8)	28.63

29. Powers of the Arbitral Tribunal in Respect of the Award	825
A. Remedies of the Arbitral Tribunal	29.01
Declaration	29.02
Orders	29.03
B. Awards on Different Issues	29.10
Discretionary power	29.12
Difference between partial and provisional awards	29.14
C. Correction of Award or Additional Award	29.16
Correction of an award	29.17
Additional award	29.20
Time limits	29.21
D. The Award on Costs	29.24
The costs of the arbitration	29.25
Parties' agreement on costs	29.30
Power of the arbitral tribunal to allocate costs	29.31
Offers to settle and Calderbank letters	29.40
Recoverable costs of the arbitral tribunal	29.49
Conditional fees	29.62
E. Power to Withhold Award in Case of Non-payment of Fees and Expenses	29.63
F. Liability for the Arbitral Tribunal's Fees and Expenses	29.67
Joint and several liability	29.68
Challenging the level of fees and expenses	29.69
G. The Award of Interest	29.71
Interest on sums paid before the commencement of the arbitration	29.73
Interest on sums remaining unpaid at the date of the award	29.74
Interest on sums paid during the arbitration proceedings	29.75
Exercise of the discretion	29.76
The saving provision in the Arbitration Act 1996, section 49(6)	29.78
30. The Award	861
A. Time for Making the Award	30.01
Extending time for making the award	30.02
B. Settlement	30.04
C. The Form of the Award	30.07
In writing	30.08
Signature	30.09
Date of the award	30.10
Reasons	30.11
Seat of the arbitration	30.14

D. Place Where the Award is Treated as Made	30.15
E. Notification of the Award	30.16
F. Effect of the Award	30.17
G. Enforcement by Way of Summary Procedure	30.23
Burden of proof	30.25
Mandatory grounds for refusing leave	30.26
Discretionary grounds for refusing leave	30.27
Suspension of the court's enforcement order	30.33
Recognition and enforcement of foreign awards	30.34
H. An Action on the Award	30.35
Jurisdictional basis for actions on the award	30.36
Burden of proof	30.37
I. Enforcement of Foreign Arbitration Awards	30.40
Enforcing a foreign award by an action on the award	30.42
Summary enforcement under the Arbitration Act 1996, section 66	30.43
Administration of Justice Act 1920	30.45
Foreign Judgments (Reciprocal Enforcement) Act 1933	30.47
Foreign awards and the Arbitration Act 1950, Part II	30.49
New York Convention awards	30.50
J. Enforcement of Awards Made in the United Kingdom	30.74
K. Civil Jurisdiction and Judgments Act 1982	30.75

IV PRECEDENTS

I. Arbitration Agreements	899
II. Mediation Agreement	905
III. Appointments and Jurisdictional Clauses	909
IV. Commencing the Arbitration	913
V. Joinder and Consolidation Clauses	915
VI. Terms of Reference in an International Arbitration Conducted under the ICC Rules of Arbitration	917
VII. Procedural Clauses	921
VIII. Pleadings and Awards	933
IX. Applications to the Court	941

V APPENDICES

1. Arbitration Act 1996	959
2. Civil Procedure Rules and Practice Directions Part 62: Arbitration Claims	1007

3. Departmental Advisory Committee on Arbitration Law: Report on the Arbitration Bill	1021
4. Departmental Advisory Committee on Arbitration Law: Supplementary Report on the Arbitration Act 1996	1075
5. UNCITRAL Model Law on International Commercial Arbitration	1085
6. Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards	1103
7. UNCITRAL Notes on Organizing Arbitral Proceedings	1107
8. IBA Rules on the Taking of Evidence in International Commercial Arbitration	1125
9. Rules, Conventions, and Arbitration Related Websites	1135
Bibliography	1137
Index	1141