

Contents

I Backgrounds

1. Women and Mysticism in the Medieval World, 3
2. Unmasking Women: Medieval Responses to the Unknowability of the Lady, 25
3. A New Feminine Spirituality: The Beguines and Their Writings in Medieval Europe, 51
4. A Medieval Woman's Utopian Vision: The Rule of St. Clare of Assisi, 66

II The Tradition of Holy Women: Change and Continuity

5. Eloquence and Heroic Virginity in Hrotsvit's Verse Legends, 83
6. Transforming the World: The Serpent-Dragon and the Virgin Saint, 97
7. "She Seemed to Have Come from the Desert": Italian Women Saints and the Vitae Patrum Cycle, 110

III Women Mystics and the Acquisition of Authority

8. Male Confessors and Female Penitents: Possibilities for Dialogue, 139
9. The Rhetoric of Transgression in the Lives of Italian Women Saints, 161

10. Gender, Knowledge, and Power in Hadewijch's Strophische Gedichten, 182
11. Writing the Body: Male and Female in the Writings of Marguerite d'Oingt, Angela of Foligno, and Umiltà of Faenza, 204

Suggestions for Further Reading, 225

Index, 229