

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Tara ANDREWS – Caroline MACÉ
Introduction	11
Acknowledgements	15

SECTION 1 STEMMATOLOGY

Tuomas HEIKKILÄ
The Possibilities and Challenges of Computer-assisted Stemmatology. The Example of Vita et miracula s. Symeonis Treverensis	19
Philipp ROELLI
Petrus Alfonsi, or: On the Mutual Benefit of Traditional and Computerised Stemmatology	43
Jean-Baptiste CAMPS – Florian CAFIERO
Genealogical Variant Locations and Simplified Stemma: A Test Case	69
Alberto CANTERA
The Problems of the Transmission of the Avestan Texts and the Tools for Avestan Text Criticism (TATEC)	95

SECTION 2
STATISTICS AND STYLISTICS

Armin HOENEN

Simulation of Scribal Letter Substitution 119

Karina VAN DALEN-OSKAM

Authors, Scribes, and Scholars. Detecting Scribal Variation and Editorial Intervention via Authorship Attribution Methods 141

Francesco STELLA

Generic Constants and Chronological Variations in Statistical Linguistics on Latin Epistolography 159SECTION 3
INTERTEXTUALITY

Linda SPINAZZÈ

Intertextual Research with Digital Variants in Musisque Deoque: A Case Study 183

Samuel RUBENSON

A Database of the Apophthegmata Patrum 203

Charlotte TUPMAN – Anna JORDANOUS

Sharing Ancient Wisdoms across the Semantic Web Using TEI and Ontologies 213

Maxim ROMANOV

Toward the Digital History of the Pre-Modern Muslim World: Developing Text-Mining Techniques for the Study of Arabic Biographical Collections 229SECTION 4
SCRIPT ANALYSIS

Ainoa CASTRO CORREA

Palaeography, Computer-aided Palaeography and Digital Palaeography: Digital Tools Applied to the Study of Visigothic Script 247

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Eugenio R. LUJÁN – Eduardo ORDUÑA

Implementing a Database for the Analysis of Ancient Inscriptions: New Developments in the Hesperia Electronic Corpus of Palaeohispanic Inscriptions

273

SECTION 5
CODICOLOGY

Ira RABIN

Ink Identification to Accompany Digitization of Manuscripts

293

Patrick ANDRIST

Going Online Is Not Enough! Electronic Descriptions of Ancient Manuscripts, and the Needs of Manuscript Studies

309

Joris J. VAN ZUNDERT

By Way of Conclusion: Truly Scholarly, Digital, and Innovative Editions?

335