

CONTENTS

Preface	9
PART 1: LINGUISTIC PERSPECTIVE	13
CHAPTER 1 Academic and linguistic challenges: it -patterns in English learner academic writing Markéta Malá and Veronika Raušová	15
CHAPTER 2 Directness level of request strategies in spoken learner discourse Petra Huschová	33
CHAPTER 3 Strategies of logical connection in Czech EFL learners' spoken discourse Šárka Ježková	49
CHAPTER 4 Analysing errors in a spoken corpus of Czech learners of English: Insights from a pilot study Zdeňka Neumanová	65
PART 2: TEACHING AND LEARNING PERSPECTIVE	79
CHAPTER 5 The formation and evolution of student English language teachers' professional identity Irena Reimannová	81
CHAPTER 6 Teaching English to young learners through drama Eliška Krčálová	99
CHAPTER 7 Song-based gap-fill tasks in ELT Marek Vít and Helena Zitková	121
CHAPTER 8 Teaching the pragmatics of humour to L2 learners via sitcoms Markéta Dančová	131

PART 3: GOING BEYOND ...

145

- CHAPTER 9 Student self-assessment in English language learning:
structured, smart, successful

Kateřina Keplová

147

- CHAPTER 10 Translating Czech aspectual prefixes for teaching purposes

Eva Nováková

159

About the authors

179