

Contents

List of Contributors	xv
Foreword	xvii
Preface to the Series and Volumes 1 and 2	xix
Preface	xxi
1. The Prehistory of Poison Arrows	1
VALENTINA BORGIA
1.1 Introduction	1
1.2 What do Historical and Ethnographic Documents Tell Us?	3
1.3 What is the Current State of Research?	5
1.4 Conclusions	8
References	9
Further Reading	10
2. Beetle and Plant Arrow Poisons of the San People of Southern Africa	11
CAROLINE S. CHABOO, ROBERT K. HITCHCOCK, JUSTIN BRADFIELD AND LYN WADLEY
2.1 Introduction	12
2.2 Materials and Methods	15
2.3 Results	17
2.4 Discussion	47
2.5 Conclusions	53
Acknowledgments	54
References	54
Further Reading	70
3. Toxicology in Ancient Egypt	73
GONZALO SANCHEZ AND W. BENSON HARER, JR
3.1 Introduction	73
3.2 Snakes as Described in the Brooklyn Papyrus	74
3.3 Scorpions	79
3.4 Tetanus	79
3.5 Plant and Mineral Toxins	79
References	81

4. The Death of Cleopatra: Suicide by Snakebite or Poisoned by Her Enemies?	83
GREGORY TSOUCALAS AND MARKOS SGANTZOS
4.1 Cleopatra's Ancestry and Historical Background of the Era	83
4.2 Cleopatra's Reign. Her Downfall and Her Death	87
4.3 Epilogue	91
References	92
5. Kohl Use in Antiquity: Effects on the Eye	93
ZAFAR A. MAHMOOD, IQBAL AZHAR AND S.W. AHMED
5.1 Introduction	93
5.2 Protective Effect Against UV Radiation	97
5.3 Antimicrobial Action and Biomedical Importance	98
References	101
6. Nicander, Thêriaka , and Alexipharmaka : Venoms, Poisons, and Literature	105
ALAIN TOUWAIDE
6.1 The Thêriaka	106
6.2 The Alexipharmaka	109
6.3 The Nicandrian Question	111
6.4 Ancient Toxicology	112
6.5 Venoms, Poisons, and Art	113
Reference	115
7. The Case Against Socrates and His Execution	117
OKAN ARIHAN, SEDA K. ARIHAN AND ALAIN TOUWAIDE
7.1 Introduction	118
7.2 Historical Literature	119
7.3 Hemlock in Ancient Scientific Literature	121
7.4 Modern Pharmacological Analysis	125
7.5 Toward a Renewed Interpretation	126
7.6 Conclusion	127
References	127
8. Murder, Execution, and Suicide in Ancient Greece and Rome	131
ALAIN TOUWAIDE
Further Reading	138

9. The Oracle at Delphi: The Pythia and the Pneuma, Intoxicating Gas Finds, and Hypotheses 141

JELLE Z. DE BOER

References 148

Further Reading 149

10. Alexander the Great: A Questionable Death 151

ADRIENNE MAYOR

10.1 Alexander's Last Days 152

10.2 Modern Theories of Natural Causes 154

10.3 Modern Theories of Poisoning 155

10.4 The Styx River Poison Plot 156

References 159

11. Mithridates of Pontus and His Universal Antidote 161

ADRIENNE MAYOR

11.1 Influences 162

11.2 Pharmacological and Toxic Riches 164

11.3 Avoiding Assassination by Poison 165

11.4 The Secret Antidote 167

11.5 Mithridatium's Legacy 169

References 173

12. Theriaca Magna: The Glorious Cure-All Remedy 175

MARIANNA KARAMANOU AND GEORGE ANDROUTSOS

12.1 Introduction 175

12.2 Theriac in Antiquity 176

12.3 Theriac in the Medieval Period 179

12.4 Theriac in the Renaissance 181

12.5 Conclusion 182

References 183

13. The Gates to Hell in Antiquity and their Relation to Geogenic CO₂ Emissions 185

HARDY PFANZ, GALIP YÜCE, WALTER D'ALESSANDRO, BENNY PFANZ, YIANNIS MANETAS, GEORGE PAPATHEODOROU AND ANTONIO RASCHI

13.1 Introduction 186

13.2 Why Enter the Realm of the Shadows? 188

13.3 The Geologic Background 190

13.4 The Physicochemical Properties of CO₂ 194

13.5 The Biological, Medical, and Physiological Background 197

13.6 The Known Sites of the Ancient Gates to Hell 199

13.7 Gates of Hell—Magna Graecia—Asia Minor—Greece (Hellas)—A
Synopsis	212
13.8 The Historical Relevance	213
Acknowledgments	214
References	215
Further Reading	219
 14. Lead Poisoning and the Downfall of Rome: Reality or Myth?	221
LOUISE CILLIERS AND FRANCOIS RETIEF
14.1 The Lead Industry in Ancient Rome	222
14.2 The Effect of Lead on Humans	224
14.3 Clinical Picture of Lead Toxicity (Retief and Cilliers, 2000)	224
14.4 Archeological Determination of Lead Toxicity	224
14.5 Occurrence of Lead Toxicity	225
14.6 Discussion	227
References	229
Further Reading	229
 15. Poisons, Poisoners, and Poisoning in Ancient Rome	231
LOUISE CILLIERS AND FRANCOIS RETIEF
15.1 Sources	232
15.2 Poisons	232
15.3 Poisons Used	234
15.4 Incidents of Poisoning During the Roman Republic	236
15.5 Poisoners and Incidents of Poisoning During the Empire	237
15.6 Conclusion	241
References	241
 16. Chemical and Biological Warfare in Antiquity	243
ADRIENNE MAYOR
16.1 The Concept of Toxic Weaponry in Greco-Roman and Indian Mythology	244
16.2 Poisons From Plants in Historical Warfare	245
16.3 Snake Venom Arrows	246
16.4 Plague and Contagion	248
16.5 Poisoning Water Sources and Food Supplies	249
16.6 Venomous Insects, Snakes, and Scorpions	250
16.7 Aerosol and Incendiary Weapons	251
16.8 Practical Issues and Ethical Qualms	252
References	254
 17. Asclepius and the Snake as Toxicological Symbols in Ancient Greece and Rome	257
GREGORY TSOUCALAS AND GEORGE ANDROUTSOS
References	264

18. Anthropogenic Air Pollution in Ancient Times	267
LÁSZLÓ MAKRA
18.1 Pollution of the Environment in Ancient Times	268
18.2 Lead in Ancient Times	273
18.3 Copper in Ancient Times	280
18.4 Environmental Awareness in Ancient Israel	283
Acknowledgments	285
References	285
19. Poisoning in Ancient Rome: Images and Rules	289
EVELYN HÖBENREICH AND GIUNIO RIZZELLI
19.1 Veneficium and Legal Terminology	289
19.2 Perpetrators, Trials, Stereotypes	291
19.3 Training for the Courts	293
19.4 Jurists and the Interpretation of Laws	295
Further Reading	299
20. "Gleaming and Deadly White": Toxic Cosmetics in the Roman World	301
SUSAN STEWART
20.1 A Fair Complexion	304
20.2 Rouge	307
20.3 Eye Make-Up	308
20.4 Hair Removers	309
References	310
Further Reading	311
21. Cherchez la Femme: Three Infamous Poisoners of Ancient Rome	313
LOUISE CILLIERS
21.1 Stereotypes	314
21.2 Sources	314
21.3 Incidents of Poisoning in Which the Three Infamous Women Were Involved: Locusta	315
21.4 Martina	318
21.5 Canidia	321
21.6 Identification of Poisons	322
21.7 A Forensic Investigation	323
21.8 Conclusion	325
References	325
Further Reading	325

18. Anthropogenic Air Pollution in Ancient Times	267
LÁSZLÓ MAKRA
18.1 Pollution of the Environment in Ancient Times	268
18.2 Lead in Ancient Times	273
18.3 Copper in Ancient Times	280
18.4 Environmental Awareness in Ancient Israel	283
Acknowledgments	285
References	285
19. Poisoning in Ancient Rome: Images and Rules	289
EVELYN HÖBENREICH AND GIUNIO RIZZELLI
19.1 Veneficium and Legal Terminology	289
19.2 Perpetrators, Trials, Stereotypes	291
19.3 Training for the Courts	293
19.4 Jurists and the Interpretation of Laws	295
Further Reading	299
20. "Gleaming and Deadly White": Toxic Cosmetics in the Roman World	301
SUSAN STEWART
20.1 A Fair Complexion	304
20.2 Rouge	307
20.3 Eye Make-Up	308
20.4 Hair Removers	309
References	310
Further Reading	311
21. Cherchez la Femme: Three Infamous Poisoners of Ancient Rome	313
LOUISE CILLIERS
21.1 Stereotypes	314
21.2 Sources	314
21.3 Incidents of Poisoning in Which the Three Infamous Women Were Involved: Locusta	315
21.4 Martina	318
21.5 Canidia	321
21.6 Identification of Poisons	322
21.7 A Forensic Investigation	323
21.8 Conclusion	325
References	325
Further Reading	325

22. Did Hannibal Really Poison Himself?	327
FRANCESCO M. GALASSI
References	333
23. Drugs, Suppositories, and Cult Worship in Antiquity	335
DAVID HILLMAN
23.1 Introduction	335
23.2 Drugs and Cults	336
23.3 Bacchants and Viper Venom	337
23.4 Ancient Vaginal Suppositories	338
23.5 Drugs and Sexuality	339
23.6 Aphrodisiac Suppositories and Magic	340
23.7 Conclusion	342
References	342
24. Entheogens in Ancient Times: Wine and the Rituals of Dionysus	343
CARL A.P. RUCK
References	352
25. Entheogens (Psychedelic Drugs) and the Ancient Mystery Religions	353
MARK A. HOFFMAN
25.1 Pharmacological Roots of Religion	353
25.2 Hermeneutics and a Definition of Terms	355
25.3 Toxicology	358
25.4 Sources, Chemistry, and Effects	359
References	361
Further Reading	362
26. Ancient Mystery Initiation: Toxic Priestesses and Vaginal Communion	363
DAVID HILLMAN
26.1 Introduction	364
26.2 Toxic Priestesses and their Mystery Rites	365
26.3 Colleges of Echidnae	367
26.4 Communal Ios-Rite	368
26.5 The Science Behind the Ritual	369
26.6 A Combination of Poisons and Antidotes	371
26.7 Identifying Drugs Used in the Ios-Rite	374
26.8 Medea the First Toxic Priestess	375
26.9 Toxic Plants and Animals Used in Medea's Ios-Rite	377

26.10 Medea's Antidote as Medicine	380
26.11 Christian Ios Rites	381
26.12 Toxicological Questions	384
26.13 Conclusion	384
References	386
 27. Harmful Botanicals	 387
ALAIN TOUWAIDE
27.1 Classical Toxicology	387
27.2 Sources and Data	388
27.3 Analysis	391
27.4 Historical Importance of Ancient Toxicology	396
27.5 Conclusion	398
References	399
 28. Pearl, An Ancient Antidote of Eastern Origin	 401
MARIA D.S. BARROSO
28.1 Eastern Cradle	401
28.2 Organic Origin and Chemical Composition	402
28.3 Pearls in Indian and Chinese Medicine	404
28.4 Pearls in Western Medicine	405
28.5 Pearls and Modern Chemistry	408
28.6 Conclusion	409
Acknowledgments	410
References	410
 29. Rhetoric, Demons, and the Poisoner's Tongue in Judaism and Early Christianity	 411
JOHN F. DEFELICE
29.1 The Hebrew Bible	412
29.2 Knowledge of Venomous Dangers	412
29.3 Poisonous Plants and Poisonous Water	416
29.4 Poison and Wormwood	418
29.5 The New Testament	419
References	427
Further Reading	429
 30. Poisonous Medicine in Ancient China	 431
YAN LIU
30.1 Etymology of Du	432
30.2 Du in Chinese Pharmacology	432
30.3 Aconite, the Power to Cure	434
30.4 Aconite, the Power to Kill	436

30.5 From Du to Pharmakon	437
References	439
31. Toxicity of Ayurvedic Medicines and Safety Concerns: Ancient and Modern Perspectives	441
P. RAMMANOHAR
31.1 Introduction	442
31.2 Criteria for Incorporation of a Novel and Unknown Substance into the Ayurvedic Pharmacopeia	444
31.3 Conclusion	455
References	456
32. Mushroom Intoxication in Mesoamerica	459
CARL DE BORHEGYI AND SUZANNE DE BORHEGYI-FORREST
References	469
Index	471