

Contents

1	Introduction: Why Geography Teacher Education and Professionalization Matter	1
	Eyüp Artvinli, Inga Gryl, Jongwon Lee, and Jerry Mitchell
 Part I Pathways of Professionalization for the Geography Teacher—An Overview of Different National Cases
2	Intervention Studies to Improve Initial Teacher Education in Geography: A Scoping Review	9
	Nina Scholten, Susan Caldis, and Sandra Sprenger
3	Intervention Research Design in the Context of Professionalizing Future Geography Teachers: Specific Potentials of Qualitative and Quantitative Designs Using the Example of Two Empirical Studies	25
	Sebastian Streitberger, Melanie Haltenberger, and Ulrike Ohl
4	Tough, But Worth the Effort: Collaboration for Professional Development Strengthens Geography Education	47
	Rebecca Theobald
5	Fostering Professionalism for Geography in Primary Schooling	65
	Simon Catling
6	The Potential and Reality of Postgraduate Education in Geography for Improving Primary Geography Teachers' Professionalism: A Focus on South Korea	87
	Dong-min Lee
7	Chinese Secondary School Geography Teachers' Perceptions of Professionalization	101
	Daihu Yang

8	The Professional Development of Geography Teachers in England	113
	Rebecca Kitchen and Alan Kinder
 Part II Institutionalization, Networking, and Informal Learning—Different Solutions to Foster Geography Teacher Education
9	The Effects of the Bologna Declaration on the Initial Training of Geography Teachers: The Case of Portugal	131
	Fernando Alexandre
10	English Experiences of Developing Identities of Pre-service Geography Teachers	147
	Susan Bermingham-Ward and Joanna Baynham
11	Research Publications' Impact on Geography Teachers' Conceptions and Practices	161
	Kathrin Schulman
 Part III Special Fields and Discourses of Geography Teacher Education
12	Misconceptions and Conceptual Change in Geography Teacher Education	181
	Lenka Havelková and Martin Hanus
13	The Atlas and the Purple Crayon: "Purple Mapping" and Place-Based Education in Geography Teacher-Training Studies and Practice	199
	Arnon Ben Israel
14	Towards an Augmented Geography Education	213
	Jesús Granados-Sánchez
 Part IV Methods and Practices Under the Lens
15	Digitalization in Geography Education: Theoretical and Practical Considerations for Developing a Collaborative Seminar About Digitalization and Using Digital Media in Geographical Educational Processes	229
	Nicole Raschke
16	Implications of the Anthropocene for Professional Ethics in American Geography Education	245
	Thomas Barclay Larsen and John Harrington Jr.

17	Beginning Teachers' Evaluation and Perceived Challenges in Using Geographical Fieldwork Inquiry in Singapore	263
	Geok Chin Ivy Tan
18	Mentoring School Student Research as an Approach to Geography Teacher Professional Development	277
	Elizabeth Rushton and Helen Walkington
19	Pedagogical Reasoning and Action (PR&A): A Framework for Research on Professional Knowledge of Geography Teaching	291
	Injeong Jo and Sojung Huh
20	South African Geography Teachers' Involvement in Self-Directed Professional Development Activities in Geography Education	305
	Aubrey Golightly
21	Learning from Common Concerns and the Path Ahead for Geography Teacher Education and Professionalism	323
	Eyüp Artvinli, Inga Gryl, Jongwon Lee, and Jerry Mitchell	