

CONTENTS

1	Constitutional Resilience and the Covid-19 Pandemic Derek M. Powell and Ebenezer Durojaye	1
2	International Human Rights Norms and Standards on Derogation and Limitation of Rights During a Public Emergency Adetoun Adebajo and Ebenezer Durojaye	79
3	Addressing Covid-19: A Test of Kenya's Constitutional and Democratic Resilience Josephat Muuo Kilonzo	111
4	Covid-19 and Zambia's Constitutional Dilemma Christopher Phiri	145
5	Constitutional Resilience and Limitation of Rights Under Covid-19 Response in South Sudan Joseph Geng Akech	179
6	The Covid-19 Pandemic and Constitutional Resilience in The Gambia Satang Nabaneh and Basiru Bah	201

7	Walking a Tightrope: Balancing Human Rights and Public Health Measures During the Covid-19 Pandemic in Nigeria Olubayo Oluduro	223
8	The Constitutionality of Legal Measures Taken by the Government of Mauritius in the Context of the Covid-19 Pandemic Roopanand Mahadew	255
9	Constitutional and Human Rights Issues Arising from Covid-19: Uganda's Youth in Context Robert Doya Nanima	283
10	The (Il)Legality of Ghana's Covid-19 Emergency Response: A Commentary Bright Nkrumah	311
11	Constitutional and Human Rights Issues Arising from Covid-19 in South Africa Robert Doya Nanima, Ebenezer Durojaye, and Derek M. Powell	341
12	Zimbabwe's Response to Covid-19 and Its Socio-economic Impact Tinotenda Chidhawu	371
	Index	403