

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	1
1 The legacy of the Versailles Treaty	10
2 Mussolini's 'Roman Empire'	21
3 Stresemann to Hitler: German foreign policy	33
4 The Spanish Civil War: International implications	44
5 Soviet foreign policy, 1918–1941	55
6 Chamberlain, Churchill and the appeasement debate	66
7 Diplomatic and military objectives of the Axis powers	77
8 The diplomatic and military objectives of the Allied powers	89
9 Origins of the Cold War in Europe, 1945–1949	102
10 Cold War America asserts its power: Anglo-French humiliation at Suez, 1956	113
11 The origins of European integration after 1945	125
12 Why the UK did not join EEC in the 1950s	138
13 1973 enlargement: The UK joins the EEC	148

vi Contents

14	1973 Enlargement: Denmark and Ireland join, but Norway says 'no'	160
15	De Gaulle to Brandt: European relations with the US, NATO and the USSR	172
16	From customs union to the Werner Report, 1957–1970	183
17	The 1970s crisis and the abandonment of the Werner Plan	194
18	Delors, German unification and Eastern Europe	207
19	Thatcher: Resisting Delors and opposing Maastricht	220
	Epilogue	234
	Select Bibliography	240
	Index	247