

CONTENTS

About the author	xiv
Foreword By Daniel Twining	xv
Acknowledgments	xix
Introduction	1
Notes 8
Bibliography 8
PART 1
War and Europe: It's a long story	9
1 Romance: War and Europe until 1914	11
War and the state of nature 12
Prisoner of Mars? 13
Ancient culture wars 18
The endless war 23
Mars on steroids 28
Notes 34
Bibliography 36
2 Divorce – from the European Civil War to the long peace	38
Causes for a suicide 39
From the Great War to the European Civil War 44
From civil war to total war 49
Peace over the graveyard 52

The end of history and the triumph of peace	56
Notes	61
Bibliography	63
3 The toxic ex returns	65
Pax Americana: extension and contestations	66
The return of the German question	72
Enlargement's side effects	76
North and south	81
Guess who's back?	87
Dangerous paths	90
Notes	97
Bibliography	101
PART 2
Perilous present	103
Why do wars happen?	103
Notes	108
Bibliography	108
4 Division bells	109
Deutschland über alles or Deutschland gegen alle?	110
Notes	142
Bibliography	147
5 Baby it's a wild world: Europe's external challenges	149
America and Europe	150
Russia, a low-cost power with a high nuisance potential	156
China's rise, Europe's fall	162
When Europe imports instability	168
Britain and Europe: friends or foes?	175
Notes	181
Bibliography	184
6 War ain't what it used to be	186
Low intensity and low-cost warfare	188
Mars's new toys	191
The effects of economic warfare	195
The virtual weapon	200
Disinfo-wars	204
Notes	211
Bibliography	214

PART 3
The future	215
7 Seven scenarios for the future of Europe	217
Paralysis	219
War in the Baltics	221
Europe, battlefield of a Sino-American Cold War	226
Southern disintegration	229
The Yellow Vest wars	232
The post-Brexit war	236
A difficult reform	239
Notes	242
Bibliography	243
8 What to do?	245
Facing the toxic ex-	247
No salvation beyond NATO	251
Building Europe's internal market	255
Europe's "F" word	260
Federalism and nationalisms	266
Dealing with Europe's borders	270
Notes	281
Bibliography	284
9 What's in it for the Anglosphere?	286
2016: a turning point	287
Are we all Americans?	293
Euros versus Anglos: a long story	295
Saving the Europe America made	299
Britain and Europe – avoiding catastrophe	303
Reclaiming the West to uphold the peace	306
Notes	310
Bibliography	313
Conclusion: It ain't over till it's over	314
Notes	323
Bibliography	323
Index	325