

CONTENTS

Preface to the second edition	page xv
Preface to the first edition	xvi
Table of cases	xvii
List of abbreviations	xxiv
1 Introduction	1
1. The definition of foreign investment	7
1.1. The distinction between portfolio investment and foreign direct investment	7
1.2. Definition of foreign investment in treaties	9
1.3. The evolution of the meaning of the term 'investment'	9
2. The history of the international law on foreign investment	18
2.1. The colonial period	18
2.2. The post-colonial period	22
3. An outline of the book	30
2 The shaping factors	34
1. The historical setting	37
1.1. State responsibility for injuries to aliens	37
1.1.1. The natural resources sector	40
1.1.2. The plantation sector	44
1.1.3. The manufacturing sector	44
1.1.4. The financial sector	46
1.1.5. Intellectual property	46
2. Conflicting economic theories on foreign investment	50
2.1. The classical theory on foreign investment	51
2.2. The dependency theory	57
2.3. The middle path	59
3. Actors in the field of foreign investment	65
3.1. The multinational corporation	66

3.2.	State corporations	69
3.3.	International institutions	71
3.4.	Non-governmental organisations	74
3.5.	Other actors	75
4.	Risks in foreign investment	75
4.1.	Ideological hostility	77
4.2.	Nationalism	78
4.3.	Ethnicity as a factor	80
4.4.	Changes in industry patterns	81
4.5.	Contracts made by previous regimes	83
4.6.	Onerous contracts	85
4.7.	Regulation of the economy	85
4.8.	Human rights and environmental concerns	86
4.9.	The law-and-order situation	87
5.	The sources of the international law on foreign investment	87
5.1.	Treaties	87
5.2.	Custom	89
5.3.	General principles of law	93
5.4.	Judicial decisions	95
3	Controls by the host state	97
1.	Regulation of entry	108
1.1.	Guarantees against expropriation	110
1.2.	Guarantees relating to dispute settlement	114
1.3.	Tax and non-tax incentives to foreign investors	115
1.4.	Screening of foreign investment entry	116
1.5.	Requirements of local collaboration	120
1.6.	Capitalisation requirements	122
1.7.	Requirements relating to environmental protection	124
1.8.	Requirements relating to export targets	126
1.9.	Requirements relating to local equity	128
1.10.	Other requirements	131
1.11.	Regulation and expropriation	131
2.	New forms of foreign investment	132
2.1.	The joint venture	133
2.2.	The production-sharing agreement	134
3.	Constraints on control: the customary international law	135
3.1.	State responsibility for injuries to aliens	138
3.2.	The conflict between the United States and Latin American states	142

3.3.	The content of the international minimum standard	148
3.4.	State responsibility and developing states	151
3.5.	The 'noble synthesis'	152
3.6.	Damage to property in the course of civil disturbances	156
3.7.	Validity of conditions on foreign investment	159
3.7.1.	Regulations on screening of foreign investments	159
3.7.2.	Local equity requirements	161
3.7.3.	Export requirements	165
4.	Conclusion	167
4	The liability of multinational corporations and home state measures	169
1.	Obligations of multinational corporations	171
1.1.	The obligation not to interfere in domestic politics	174
1.2.	Obligations relating to human rights	175
1.3.	Liability for violations of environmental norms	179
1.4.	The obligation to promote economic development	181
2.	Extraterritorial control by home states	182
2.1.	State responsibility of home states for failure to control multinational corporations	184
2.2.	The existing rules on state responsibility	184
2.3.	The duty to control nationals abroad	194
2.4.	State responsibility and the duty to provide remedies to victims	201
3.	Conclusion	203
5	Bilateral investment treaties	204
1.	Introductory survey	204
2.	Treaties of friendship, commerce and navigation	209
3.	Reasons for bilateral investment treaties	211
4.	Features of bilateral investment treaties	217
4.1.	The statement of the purpose of the treaty	218
4.2.	Definitions	220
4.2.1.	Investments	220
4.2.2.	Limitation on the definition of investment	225
4.2.3.	Portfolio investments	227
4.2.4.	Corporate nationality and protection of shareholders	228
4.3.	Standard of treatment	233
4.3.1.	National standard of treatment	233
4.3.2.	Fair and equitable standard	235

4.3.3.	Most-favoured-nation treatment	236
4.3.4.	Full protection and security	237
4.4.	Performance requirements	237
4.5.	Repatriation of profits	238
4.6.	Nationalisation and compensation	239
4.6.1.	Compensation for destruction during wars and national emergencies	246
4.7.	Protection of commitments	248
4.8.	Dispute resolution	249
4.9.	Arbitration and the exhaustion of local remedies	253
4.9.1.	Arbitration between states	255
4.9.2.	Subrogation	256
4.10.	Safeguard provisions and exceptions	257
4.11.	Succession of governments and bilateral investment treaties	258
5.	New concerns in bilateral investment treaties	259
5.1.	Environmental concerns	260
5.2.	Human rights	261
5.3.	Economic development	262
5.4.	International concerns	263
5.5.	Regulatory space and bilateral treaties	265
6.	Conclusion	266
6	Multilateral instruments on foreign investment	269
1.	The international norms on multinational corporations	271
2.	The UNCTC Draft Code on Multinational Corporations	275
2.1.	Description of the UNCTC Draft Code	276
2.1.1.	The preamble	276
2.1.2.	Definition	277
2.1.3.	Respect for national sovereignty	277
2.1.4.	Renegotiation of contracts	278
2.1.5.	Non-interference in domestic affairs	278
2.1.6.	Abstention from corrupt practices	280
2.1.7.	Economic and other controls	281
2.1.8.	Disclosure of information	282
2.1.9.	Treatment of transnational corporations	283
3.	The outstanding issues	283
3.1.	The relevance of international law	283
3.2.	Non-interference in domestic affairs	286
3.3.	Permanent sovereignty and international obligations	287

4.	The regional agreements	288
4.1	NAFTA	288
4.2	The ASEAN Agreements	290
5.	The Multilateral Agreement on Investment	291
6.	The WTO and foreign investment	297
6.1.	Investment in the Uruguay Round	299
6.2.	GATS	299
6.3.	TRIPS	301
6.4.	TRIMS	303
7.	An investment regime under the WTO	303
7.1.	The definition of investment	304
7.2.	Definition and the preservation of regulatory control	305
7.3.	Definition of investor	306
7.4.	Treatment standards	306
7.4.1.	Most-favoured-nation treatment	308
7.5.	Performance requirements	309
7.6.	Expropriation	309
7.7.	Balance-of-payment safeguards	310
7.8.	Dispute resolution	310
8.	The right to regulate foreign investment	311
9.	Conclusion	313
7	Causes of action: breaches of treatment standards	315
1.	The customary international law standards	318
2.	The violation of national treatment standards	319
2.1.	Performance requirements and national treatment	325
2.2.	National treatment and infant industries	326
2.3.	Subsidies, grants and national treatment	327
2.4.	Ethnicity and national treatment	327
2.5.	Conclusion	327
3.	International minimum standard treatment	328
4.	Fair and equitable standard of treatment	332
4.1.	Denial of justice	340
4.2.	Due process and administrative irregularity	340
5.	Full protection and security	342
6.	Conclusion	342
8	The taking of foreign property	344
1.	What constitutes taking?	345
1.1.	New forms of taking	349
1.2.	The ideas of property	352

1.2.1.	Forced sales of property	359
1.2.2.	Forced sales of shares	361
1.3.	Privatisation and forced sales	364
1.3.1.	Indigenisation measures	364
1.3.2.	Interference with property rights	367
1.4.	Changing US and European notions of property	368
1.5.	The impact on international law	371
1.5.1.	Survey of authorities	375
2.	The exercise of management control over the investment	387
2.1.	Cancellation of permits and licences	389
2.2.	Takings by agents and mobs	391
2.3.	Excessive taxation	393
2.4.	Expulsion of the foreign investor	394
2.5.	Freezing of bank accounts	394
2.6.	Exchange controls	394
3.	Illegal takings	395
3.1.	The taking must be for a public purpose	395
3.2.	Discriminatory taking	398
3.3.	Takings in violations of treaties	399
4.	Conclusion	400
9	Takings in violation of foreign investment agreements	402
1.	Contractual devices for foreign investment protection	404
1.1.	The essential clauses	406
1.1.1.	The stabilisation clause	407
1.1.2.	Choice-of-law clause	410
1.1.3.	Arbitration clause	413
2.	The internationalisation of state contracts	416
2.1.	The origin of the theory of internationalisation	417
2.2.	The ICSID Convention and international law	429
2.3.	Lex mercatoria and state contracts	431
2.4.	Umbrella clauses and internationalisation	433
3.	Conclusion	433
10	Compensation for nationalisation of foreign investments	435
1.	The competing norms: the views of the capital-exporting states	437
1.1.	The claim that 'prompt, adequate and effective' compensation must be paid	437

1.1.1.	Treaties	439
1.1.2.	Customary practice	441
1.1.3.	General principles of law	443
1.1.4.	Unjust enrichment	444
1.1.5.	Acquired rights	445
1.1.6.	Right to property	446
1.1.7.	Foreign investment codes	451
1.1.8.	Decisions of courts and tribunals	452
1.1.9.	International courts	453
1.1.10.	Awards of arbitral tribunals	457
1.1.11.	National courts	472
1.1.12.	Writings of publicists	474
2.	The competing norms	477
2.1.	The claim that it is permissible to deduct past excess profits from compensation	477
2.2.	The claim that the taking is a 'revindication' for which no compensation is necessary	478
2.3.	The claim that appropriate compensation should be paid	479
2.3.1.	Categories of takings for which damages rather than compensation must be paid	482
2.3.2.	Categories of lawful takings for which full compensation must be paid	483
2.3.3.	Full compensation must be paid where there is a one-off taking of a small business	483
2.3.4.	Full compensation need not be paid as part of a full-scale nationalisation of a whole industry	484
2.3.5.	Partial compensation	485
3.	Valuation of nationalised property	485
4.	Conclusion	487
	Bibliography	489
	Index	506