

CONTENTS

Volume 1

Foreword to the English edition	XLI
Foreword to the French edition	XLV
1. The reasons for this treatise	XLV
2. The reasons for a treatise on the new law of the sea	XLVI
3. The Third United Nations Conference on the Law of the Sea	L
4. The Convention of 10 December 1982 and the law of the sea	LIII

Part I

The sea and the codification of its law	1
---	---

Chapter 1

THE MULTIDIMENSIONAL CHARACTER OF THE NEW LAW OF THE SEA	3
Section 1. General	3
Para. 1. The marine environment is a single entity	3
Para. 2. The law of the sea must be universal	5
Para. 3. The inequality of States in matters relating to the sea	7
Para. 4. The package deal on the law of the sea: a blending of its various dimensions	8
Section 2. The geographical dimension	9
Section 3. The technological dimension	14
Para. 1. Protection of living resources and planning for their exploi- tation	14
Para. 2. The transfer of marine technology	16
Section 4. The economic dimension	19
Para. 1. Access to resources in the zones under national jurisdiction and economic needs	19
Para. 2. The exploitation of the sea-bed, or the law of the unpre- dictable	21

Section 5. The socio-political dimension	23
Para. 1. Conditions for the deployment of naval forces	24
Para. 2. The dialectical relationship between unilateral measures and multilateral negotiation	26
Para. 3. The decision-making process in the new international insti- tution	28
 Chapter 2
SOURCES OF THE LAW OF THE SEA	29
Section 1. General observations	29
Division A. Sources of international law and the law of the sea . . .	29
Para. 1. The notion of sources	29
Para. 2. The Statute of the International Court of Justice (ICJ) .	30
Para. 3. The question of sources concerning the law of the sea . .	31
Para. 4. Jus cogens	33
Para. 5. The resolutions of international organizations	34
Division B. Unilateral acts	36
Para. 1. Unilateral acts and international custom	36
Para. 2. The 200-mile rule	38
Para. 3. Unilateral acts, conventions and the resolutions of national organizations	41
Division C. Universalism and regionalism of the law of the sea . . .	42
Para. 1. Preliminary considerations	42
Para. 2. Universalism	44
Para. 3. Regionalism	45
Para. 4. The dialectics of universalism and regionalism	47
Para. 5. The question of regional law and its autonomy	49
Para. 6. The meetings at Montevideo, Lima and Santo Domingo – territorial and patrimonial seas	50
Para. 7. African regionalism	53
Para. 8. Functional regionalism	54
Para. 9. Geographic regionalism	54
Para. 10. The role of international organizations	57
Section 2. International custom	60
Para. 1. The role of international custom	60
Para. 2. Custom throughout history	61
Para. 3. Codification by the League of Nations	66
Para. 4. Codification by the United Nations	68
Para. 5. Regional codification: the case of the OAS	70
Para. 6. The first two United Nations conferences	72
Para. 7. International custom in the 1960-1982 period	76
Para. 8. International custom and its relation to the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea	77
Para. 9. The principle of a common heritage of mankind as a custo- mary norm	81
Section 3. International treaties/the 1982 Convention	82
Para. 1. Historical precedents	82
Para. 2. The Geneva Conventions of 1958	84

Para. 3. The resumption of the codification process/the 1982 Convention	86
Para. 4. The general provisions of the 1982 Convention	89
Para. 5. Final provisions	91
Para. 6. Participation in the Convention	93
Para. 7. Final provisions (continued)	101
Section 4. Judicial decisions	111
Para. 1. Judicial decisions: auxiliary sources	111
Para. 2. The contributions of the Permanent Court of International Justice	114
Para. 3. The contributions of the International Court of Justice . . .	115
 Chapter 3
THE PARDO DECLARATION AND THE SIX YEARS OF THE SEA-BED COMMITTEE .	141
Section 1. The Pardo declaration and the origins of the Sea-Bed Committee	142
Division A. The question raised by ambassador Pardo	143
Division B. Progress of the doctrine before Pardo	144
Section 2. Organization of the Committee and methods of work	148
Division A. The creation of official groups	148
Division B. The establishment of informal groups	150
Division C. Groups of States	152
Para. 1. Groups formed for the defence of identical concerns . . .	153
Para. 2. Traditional groups of a political and economic nature . .	155
Section 3. The preparation of norms for a future convention	156
Division A. The new concepts resulting from the extension of sovereignty	157
Para. 1. The principle of free transit passage in international straits	157
Para. 2. Outlining the economic zone	158
Division B. The transition from peaceful uses to the concept of the common heritage of mankind	158
 Chapter 4
THE THIRD UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE ON THE LAW OF THE SEA	163
Section 1. The general setting	163
Division A. Within the United Nations	163
Para. 1. Procedure	163
Para. 2. Agenda	163
Division B. Outside the United Nations	163
Para. 1. General	163
Para. 2. The oil crisis	164
Para. 3. Viet Nam	164
Para. 4. Détente	164
Para. 5. European integration	164
Para. 6. Recession	164

Section 2. Organization	164
Division A. Mandate	164
Division B. Participation	165
Division C. Plenary	165
Para. 1. Mandate	165
Para. 2. Composition	166
Para. 3. President of the Conference	166
Para. 4. Rapporteur-General	166
Para. 5. Bureau	166
Division D. Committees	166
Para. 1. First Committee	166
Para. 2. Second Committee	167
Para. 3. Third Committee	167
Para. 4. Drafting Committee	168
Para. 5. General Committee	169
Division E. Negotiating groups	169
Para. 1. Established by the Conference	169
Para. 2. Established by the President or a Committee Chairman	169
Para. 3. Established by delegates	169
Para. 4. Established by interest	170
Para. 5. Established by region or subregion	171
Para. 6. Formed ad hoc	171
Division F. Formal procedure	171
Para. 1. The "Gentleman's Agreement"	171
Para. 2. The rules of procedure	172
Para. 3. Practice	173
Section 3. The texts	174
Division A. Background	174
Division B. The Informal Single Negotiating Text	174
Division C. Revisions	174
Division D. Procedural reaction to the ICNT	174
Division E. Adoption of the Convention	175
Para. 1. Formal amendments	175
Para. 2. Final text	176
Division F. Implications of this procedure	176
Para. 1. Travaux préparatoires	176
Para. 2. The package deal	176
Section 4. Summary of the sessions	176
Section 5. The first session	178
Section 6. The second session	178
Division A. General	178
Division B. The rules of procedure	178
Division C. The First Committee	178
Para. 1. General	178
Para. 2. The system of exploitation	179
Para. 3. Basic conditions of exploitation	179
Para. 4. Economic implications	180

Division D. The Second Committee	180
Para. 1. The procedural problem	180
Para. 2. Substantive results	181
Division E. The Third Committee	181
Para. 1. Procedure	181
Para. 2. Protection and preservation of the marine environment .	181
Para. 3. Marine scientific research	182
Division F. Settlement of disputes	183
Section 7. The third session	183
Division A. General	183
Division B. The First Committee	184
Division C. The Second Committee	184
Para. 1. Procedure	184
Para. 2. The Informal Single Negotiating Text	185
Division D. The Third Committee	199
Para. 1. Protection and preservation of the marine environment .	199
Para. 2. Marine scientific research	204
Para. 3. Development and transfer of technology	205
Section 8. The fourth session	205
Division A. General	205
Division B. The First Committee	205
Para. 1. Procedure	205
Para. 2. The Kissinger initiative	205
Para. 3. The issues	206
Division C. The Second Committee	208
Para. 1. Procedure	208
Para. 2. Changes	208
Para. 3. Issues	208
Division D. The Third Committee	209
Para. 1. Protection and preservation of the marine environment .	209
Para. 2. Marine scientific research	210
Division E. Informal Plenary	211
Para. 1. Dispute settlement obligations	211
Para. 2. Issues regarding dispute settlement	212
Section 9. The fifth session	213
Division A. General	213
Division B. Fisheries zones	213
Para. 1. Claims	213
Para. 2. Effects on the Conference	213
Section 10. The sixth session	214
Division A. General	214
Division B. The First Committee	214
Para. 1. Negotiations	214
Para. 2. The ICNT	214

Division C. The Second Committee	216
Para. 1. The Casteñeda-Vindenes Group	216
Para. 2. Status of the economic zone	216
Division D. The Third Committee	217
Para. 1. Marine scientific research	217
Para. 2. Protection and preservation of the marine environment .	219
Division E. Informal Plenary	219
Para. 1. Settlement of disputes	219
Para. 2. Preamble and final clauses	219
Section 11. The seventh session	219
Division A. Organization of work	219
Para. 1. The presidency	219
Para. 2. Revision of the ICNT	220
Para. 3. The negotiating groups	220
Para. 4. Other issues	221
Division B. The First Committee	222
Para. 1. Negotiating Group 1	222
Para. 2. Negotiating Group 2	222
Para. 3. Negotiating Group 3	222
Para. 4. Unilateral legislation	223
Division C. The Second Committee	223
Para. 1. General	223
Para. 2. Negotiating Group 4	224
Para. 3. Negotiating Group 5	224
Para. 4. Negotiating Group 6	224
Para. 5. Negotiating Group 7	225
Division D. The Third Committee	226
Para. 1. Protection and preservation of the marine environment .	226
Para. 2. Marine scientific research	226
Division E. Informal Plenary	226
Division F. The Drafting Committee	226
Section 12. The eighth session	226
Division A. General	226
Division B. The First Committee	227
Division C. The Second Committee	227
Para. 1. Negotiating Groups 4 and 5	227
Para. 2. Negotiating Group 6	227
Para. 3. Negotiating Group 7	227
Division D. The Third Committee	228
Division E. The Informal Plenary	228
Section 13. The ninth session	228
Division A. General	228
Para. 1. New texts	228
Para. 2. Deferred issues	228
Division B. The First Committee	230
Para. 1. General	230
Para. 2. Uses in general	230

Para. 3. The parallel system	230
Para. 4. Denial of contracts	230
Para. 5. Interim production ceiling	231
Para. 6. Obligations of miners	231
Para. 7. The Sea-Bed Authority	232
Para. 8. The Review Conference	233
Division C. The Second Committee	233
Para. 1. The continental shelf	233
Para. 2. Delimitation	234
Para. 3. Marine mammals	234
Para. 4. Innocent passage of warships	234
Division D. The Third Committee	234
Division E. Informal Plenary	234
Para. 1. General provisions	234
Para. 2. Final clauses	235
Division F. Concluding plans	237
Section 14. The tenth session	237
Division A. The presidency	237
Division B. The United States review	238
Division C. The Draft Convention	238
Para. 1. Procedure	238
Para. 2. Sites	238
Para. 3. Participation	239
Para. 4. Preparatory Commission	239
Section 15. The eleventh (and final) session	239
Division A. Results of the United States review	239
Division B. The green book	240
Division C. The Group of Eleven	240
Division D. Preparatory investment in pioneer activities	241
Para. 1. Negotiations	241
Para. 2. Resolution II	241
Para. 3. Dispute settlement	241
Para. 4. Effect	241
Division E. The Preparatory Commission	242
Para. 1. Functions	242
Para. 2. Participants	242
Para. 3. Procedures	242
Division F. Parties to the Convention	242
Para. 1. The right to become a Party	242
Para. 2. National liberation movements	242
Division G. Adoption of the Convention	243
Para. 1. Innocent passage of warships	243
Para. 2. Consensus	243
Para. 3. The vote	243
Division H. Conclusion of the Conference	244
Section 16. Epilogue: treaty law without signature	244

Part IIThe sea and its partitions 245Chapter 5THE SEA UNDER NATIONAL COMPETENCE 247*Section 1. Internal waters 249

Para. 1. Internal waters are subject to the sovereignty of the coastal State 249

Para. 2. Freedom of access 252

Section 2. The territorial sea 253Division A. The dual nature of the territorial sea 254

Para. 1. Doctrinal oppositions 254

Para. 2. Duality of the legal régime 257

Division B. The extent of the territorial sea 262

Para. 1. The breadth of the territorial sea 262

Para. 2. Method of calculating the points of departure of the territorial sea 263

Para. 3. The contiguous zone 268

Section 3. Archipelagic States 269

Para. 1. The outward extension of sovereignty 272

Para. 2. Residual freedoms 273

Section 4. The exclusive economic zone: the territorial influence 275Division A. A compromise formula: tempered territorialism 277

Para. 1. The economic zone is not the territorial sea 278

Para. 2. The economic zone is not the high seas. Legal nature of the zone 284

Para. 3. The "Castañeda compromise" 288

Division B. The potentialities of sovereignty 292

Para. 1. From functional competences to territorial rights 292

Para. 2. From exclusive competence to discretionary power 303

Annex. Extent of national claims over maritime zones 308*Chapter 6THE CONTINENTAL SHELF DEFINITION AND RULES APPLICABLE TO RESOURCES 315*Section 1. Definition and background 315

Division A. The physical fact: the extension of continents under the sea 315

Division B. The economic importance of the resources of the continental margin 320

Division C. Emergence and development of the legal concept of the continental shelf 322

Para. 1. The Truman Proclamation of 28 September 1945 325

Para. 2. From customary rules to rules laid down by agreement: the Convention on the Continental Shelf of 29 April 1958 327

Para. 3. The continental shelf in the "new law of the sea"; the 1982 Convention 329

Section 2. The legal concept of the continental shelf 336

Division A. The nature of the continental shelf: the concept of natural prolongation 336

Para. 1. The origin of the concept of natural prolongation: from the Truman Proclamation to the North Sea Continental Shelf cases	336
Para. 2. The content of the concept of natural prolongation: nature and law	338
Division B. The outer limits of the continental shelf	344
Para. 1. From nature to law: the definition in the 1958 Geneva Convention	345
Para. 2. Reverting to nature: the search for criteria deriving from equating the legal continental shelf with the continental margin	348
Para. 3. A difficult combination: the adoption of a set of alternative criteria (1980)	351
Division C. The Commission on the Limits of the Continental Shelf	357
Para. 1. How the Commission on the Limits of the Continental Shelf is organized	357
Para. 2. How the Commission on the Limits of the Continental Shelf functions	359
Section 3. The legal régime governing the continental shelf's resources	363
Division A. The rights of the coastal State	363
Para. 1. The scope of the coastal State's rights	363
Para. 2. The nature of the coastal State's rights	367
Division B. Obligations of the coastal State	371
Para. 1. Continental shelf and jus communicationis	371
Para. 2. Payments and contributions by the coastal State with respect to the exploitation of the continental shelf	375
Chapter 7
THE HIGH SEAS	383
Section 1. The high seas are open to all States	384
Subsection 1. The principle of freedom	385
Division A. General theory of the principle of freedom	385
Para. 1. The evolution of the principle of freedom	385
Para. 2. The bases of the principle of freedom	388
Division B. The different freedoms of the high seas	389
Para. 1. The recognized freedoms	390
Para. 2. The other freedoms and the limits to freedom	392
Subsection 2. The principle of equality	395
Division A. The equal rights of States on the high seas	395
Para. 1. Equality of access to the high seas for all States	396
Para. 2. Equality of use of the high seas for all States	397
Division B. The guarantees of equal rights	399
Para. 1. The absence of individual State sovereignty on the high seas	399
Para. 2. The absence of collective State sovereignty on the high seas	399

Section 2. The high seas are subject to law	400
Subsection 1. The requirement that all ships be subject to a juridical system	401
Division A. The nationality of a ship	401
Para. 1. The conditions governing the attribution of nationality	401
Para. 2. The penalties for non-compliance with the conditions governing the attribution of nationality	401
Division B. The legal status of ships	406
Para. 1. The principle of the exclusivity of the flag State	407
Para. 2. The exceptions to the principle of the exclusivity of the flag State	408
Subsection 2. The exercise of policing functions by the flag State . .	414
Division A. The flag State and the drawing up of the rules for policing the high seas	414
Para. 1. The policing rules intended to protect men and property on the high seas	415
Para. 2. The policing rules intended to prevent the high seas from becoming a place of refuge for the commission of unlawful acts	417
Division B. Respect for the policing rules on the high seas	419
Para. 1. Searching out and verifying violations of the policing rules on the high seas	420
Para. 2. Enforcement with regard to violations of the policing rules on the high seas	422
 Chapter 8
THE DELIMITATION OF MARINE SPACES BETWEEN STATES WITH OPPOSITE OR ADJACENT COASTS	425
Section 1. Introduction	425
Section 2. Substantive rules on maritime delimitation	439
Subsection 1. The territorial sea and internal maritime waters	439
Subsection 2. The contiguous zone	442
Subsection 3. The exclusive economic zone and the continental shelf	445
Division A. The rules of 1958 and their evolution	445
Para. 1. Introduction	445
Para. 2. Evolution of international case-law: general principles	447
Para. 3. Problems relating to the implementation of the general principles identified by court and tribunals	462
Para. 4. Summary	476
Division B. The provisions of the 1982 Convention	477
Para. 1. The formula inserted in Articles 74 (1) and 83 (1)	477
Para. 2. Critical analysis of the formula contained in Articles 74 (1) and 83 (1)	480
Para. 3. Summary	485

Subsection 4. Special problems	486
Division A. Introduction	486
Division B. Low-tide elevations	486
Division C. Permanent harbour works	488
Division D. Artificial islands, installations and structures	489
Section 3. Procedural rules in matters of maritime delimitation	490
Subsection 1. The stability of maritime delimitations and the publi- city to be given to such delimitations	490
Subsection 2. Settlement of disputes relating to maritime delimitation	491
Subsection 3. Attitude to be observed pending the settlement of a maritime delimitation dispute	495
Section 4. General summary	495
Chapter 9
RIGHT OF ACCESS TO THE SEA AND FREEDOM OF TRANSIT	501
Section 1. Introduction	501
Section 2. The maritime rights of land-locked States	502
Division A. The right of land-locked States to sail ships under their maritime flag	502
Division B. The access of ships of land-locked States to maritime ports	505
Section 3. Transit to and from the sea for land-locked States	508
Division A. The evolving law of transit	508
Division B. The present régime	517
Para. 1. Recognition and scope of the right of access to the sea	517
Para. 2. The implementation of the right of access to the sea	520
Chapter 10
THE ARCTIC AND ANTARCTIC REGIONS	525
Section 1. General remarks	525
Subsection 1. The dearth of express provisions in the general con- ventions	525
Subsection 2. Differences in the geographical data of the Arctic and the Antarctic	525
Division A. Common features	525
Division B. The Arctic	526
Division C. The Antarctic	526
Subsection 3. Common provisions	527
Division A. Pollution of the marine environment	527
Division B. Baselines	528
Division C. Drifting ice-packs	528
Section 2. The Arctic	529
Subsection 1. Definition of the zone	529
Subsection 2. Claims and jurisdictions	532
Division A. General features	532
Division B. Spitsbergen	532
Division C. Greenland	533

Division D. The theory of sectors	534
Para. 1. Retrospective	534
Para. 2. Position of the USSR	535
Para. 3. Position of Canada	536
Para. 4. Position of the United States	537
Para. 5. Position of Denmark	537
Para. 6. Position of Norway	538
Division E. Problems not yet solved	538
Para. 1. Spitsbergen	538
Para. 2. The Barents Sea	539
Subsection 3. Economic zones and biological resources	539
Division A. Fishing zones	539
Division B. The Barents Sea	540
Subsection 4. Continental shelf and international Area	540
Division A. Application of the 1982 Convention	540
Division B. Spitsbergen and the Barents Sea	541
Division C. The Canada-Greenland delimitation	541
Division D. The Jan Mayen-Iceland delimitation	541
Division E. The USSR-Alaska delimitation	542
Division F. International Area	542
Subsection 5. The high seas	542
Subsection 6. Protection of the marine environment	543
Division A. Application of the 1982 Convention	543
Division B. Canadian law of 1972	543
Section 3. The Antarctic	544
Subsection 1. Definition of the zone	544
Subsection 2. Claims and jurisdictions	545
Division A. The sovereignties claimed	545
Division B. The political delimitations	547
Division C. The Antarctic Treaty	548
Para. 1. Retrospective	548
Para. 2. Article IV	549
Para. 3. Article VI	550
Para. 4. Uncertainties	551
Division D. Competence of the consultative meetings	551
Para. 1. Dynamic development of the Treaty	551
Para. 2. Overall regulatory jurisdiction	552
Subsection 3. Biological resources	553
Division A. The recommendations	553
Para. 1. Retrospective	553
Para. 2. Limits to the effectiveness of the recommendations	554
Division B. The London Convention of 1972	554
Para. 1. Retrospective	554
Para. 2. Subject of the Convention	555
Division C. The Canberra Convention of 1980	555
Para. 1. Retrospective	555

Para. 2. Special problems	556
Para. 3. Subject of the Convention	558
Division C. Fishing zones	558
Subsection 4. Continental shelf and international Area	559
Division A. Continental shelf	559
Division B. International Area	559
Subsection 5. Protection of the marine environment	560

Chapter 11

UNDERWATER ARCHAEOLOGICAL AND HISTORICAL OBJECTS	561
Section 1. Introduction	561
Section 2. Current legal framework at national and international level	562
Section 3. The 1982 Convention on the Law of the Sea	564
Para. 1. Use of terms	564
Para. 2. General rules	565
Para. 3. Régime	566
Para. 4. Conclusions	572
Section 4. The Draft European Convention on the protection of under- water cultural heritage	573
Para. 1. Application	574
Para. 2. Territorial scope	574
Para. 3. Standards	574
Para. 4. Conclusions	575
Section 5. Conclusions	575

Part III

The international sea-bed Area	577
---	------------

Chapter 12

THE AREA AS THE COMMON HERITAGE OF MANKIND	579
Section 1. Transspatial mankind	580
Para. 1. Universalism	581
Para. 2. Participation	582
Section 2. Transtemporal mankind	583
Para. 1. The international community is merely a manager	583
Para. 2. The manager is accountable	585

Chapter 13

THE INTERNATIONAL SEA-BED AREA	587
Introduction	587
Section 1. The international sea-bed Area	590
Division A. Definition of the Area	590
Division B. Description of the Area	592
Section 2. The resources	594
Division A. Polymetallic nodules	595
Para. 1. Origin and composition of nodules	597
Para. 2. Distribution of nodules	598

Division B. Hydrothermal sources	603
Division C. Hydrocarbons	603
Division D. Other resources	604
Section 3. Technical and economic factors	605
Division A. Mining technology for Area minerals	605
Para. 1. Prospecting and evaluation	606
Para. 2. Mining	607
Para. 3. Transport and processing	608
Division B. Economic and financial aspects	610
Para. 1. The mine site	611
Para. 2. Financial imponderables	613
Para. 3. Markets for the nodule minerals	615
Section 4. The resources policy	617
Division A. History of the concept	617
Division B. The foundations of a resources policy	620
Para. 1. General philosophy of the development of the resources of the Area	620
Para. 2. Participation of developing States	621
Para. 3. Equilibrium of markets	622
Para. 4. Protection of land-based producers	623
Division C. Production limitation, the key component of the resour- ces policy	624
Para. 1. Commodity agreements	625
Para. 2. Compensation for adverse effects	625
Para. 3. Production limitation	626
Para. 4. Computing the production ceiling	629
Para. 5. The basis for the compromise	631
Section 5. Conclusions	632

Chapter 14

THE RÉGIME FOR THE EXPLORATION AND EXPLOITATION OF SEA-BED MINERAL RESOURCES	635
Section 1. Background of the régime and development of the negotia- tions	636
Section 2. Basic characteristics of the régime	640
Para. 1. The principle of limited geographical application	641
Para. 2. The principle of limited material content	642
Para. 3. The principle of public interest	643
Para. 4. The principle of plurality of operators	644
Para. 5. The principle of international control	645
Para. 6. The principle of transitory character	645
Section 3. Carrying out of activities in the area: operators under the parallel system	647
Para. 1. Central role of the Authority: the basic standards	648
Para. 2. The Enterprise as a body for international administration	649
Para. 3. Public and private operators: the concept of association with the Authority	652

Para. 4. Choice between various kinds of joint enterprise	653
Para. 5. Outline of operations and associations under the parallel system	654
Section 4. Procedure for the selection of applicants: general and special rules	655
Para. 1. Conditions of nationality and sponsorship	655
Para. 2. Conditions governing technical and financial qualification	657
Para. 3. Automatic nature of the selection of applicants and description of procedures	657
Para. 4. Obtaining a production authorization	659
Para. 5. Conditions required of the Enterprise	660
Section 5. Special policies of the régime	661
Para. 1. Policy on the transfer of technology	661
Para. 2. Anti-monopoly policy	665
Para. 3. Protection of the marine environment	666
Section 6. Stages and rules relating to mining operations	667
Para. 1. Provisions on scientific research	667
Para. 2. The stage of prospecting	668
Para. 3. Exploration and exploitation stages	668
Para. 4. Mechanisms for the reservation of areas – basis of the parallel system	669
Para. 5. Rules, regulations and procedures of the Authority	670
Section 7. The régime for preparatory investments	670
Para. 1. Application submitted by the pioneer investor	671
Para. 2. The arrangements devised by the Preparatory Commission	673
Para. 3. Priorities accorded to pioneer investors	676
Para. 4. Obligations of pioneer investors	678
Section 8. Financial conditions of operations	678
Para. 1. Financial policy objectives	679
Para. 2. Fundamental differences and compromise formulae	680
Para. 3. Financial rules applicable to the Enterprise	681
Section 9. Legal régime of contracts	682
Para. 1. Stability of contracts	683
Para. 2. Suspension and termination of contracts, monetary penalties	684
Para. 3. Applicable law and responsibility	684
Section 10. Conclusions	685
Chapter 15
INSTITUTIONAL ARRANGEMENTS	689
Section 1. Institutionalization of the law of the sea	689
Subsection 1. Before the 1982 Convention	689
Subsection 2. After the 1982 Convention	691
Para. 1. Existing organizations	691
Para. 2. New organizations	693
Subsection 3. The Authority: tradition and innovation	695

Section 2. The Authority: antecedents	698
Subsection 1. The proposals made in the Sea-Bed Committee	698
Subsection 2. The negotiations at the Conference	701
Section 3. Purposes of the Authority	703
Subsection 1. Representation of mankind	704
Subsection 2. Administration of the Area and its resources	706
Para. 1. The organization of the activities in the Area: monopoly	706
Para. 2. The conduct of activities in the Area: competition	708
Para. 3. The control of activities in the Area: co-operation	710
Section 4. Principles	710
Subsection 1. The principle of the sovereign equality of members	710
Subsection 2. The principle of good faith	712
Subsection 3. The principle of co-operation	712
Section 5. General characteristics	713
Subsection 1. Intergovernmental character	713
Subsection 2. Universal character	716
Subsection 3. Legal personality	717
Section 6. The powers of the Authority and their limits	717
Subsection 1. The limit rationae materiae : activities in the Area	718
Subsection 2. The limit rationae loci : the Area	720
Subsection 3. The legal limit	724
Para. 1. The rules of the Convention and other supplementary rules	724
Para. 2. The effects of the legal limit	724
Para. 3. The question of implicit powers	725
Section 7. The principal organs of the Authority: structure and functioning	727
Subsection 1. The organic structure of the Authority	727
Subsection 2. The Assembly	730
Para. 1. Membership	730
Para. 2. Sessions, rules of procedure, bureau	730
Para. 3. Procedures for the adoption of decisions	731
Subsection 3. The Council	733
Para. 1. Membership	733
Para. 2. Decision-making procedures	736
Para. 3. The subsidiary organs of the Council	745
Subsection 4. The Secretariat	746
Section 8. The principal organs of the Authority: competence	747
Subsection 1. Distribution of competences between the Assembly and the Council	747
Subsection 2. Powers and functions of the Assembly	750
Para. 1. Determination of the general policy of the Authority	751
Para. 2. Examination of questions or matters and attribution of functions	752
Para. 3. Approval of rules, regulations and procedures	752
Para. 4. Equitable sharing of profits	753
Para. 5. Establishment of a system of compensation and adoption of other measures for economic adjustment	753
Para. 6. Other functions	753

Subsection 3. Powers and functions of the Council	754
Para. 1. Adoption of specific policies of the Authority	755
Para. 2. Recommendations and adoption of rules, regulations and procedures	755
Para. 3. Adoption of directives for the Enterprise	756
Para. 4. Approval of plans of work	756
Para. 5. Supervision and control	757
Para. 6. Power of recommendation	758
Para. 7. Other functions	758
Section 9. The Enterprise	759
Subsection 1. "The first international commercial organization" . . .	759
Subsection 2. Operations	760
Subsection 3. Organization	761
Para. 1. Sound commercial principles	762
Para. 2. Autonomy	763
Para. 3. Legal capacity	767
Para. 4. Structure and decision-making procedures	769
Para. 5. Special measures on behalf of the Enterprise	771
Section 10. The judicial review of the acts of the Authority	777
Subsection 1. The special system for the settlement of disputes in Part XI	777
Subsection 2. The question of the illegality of the acts of interna- tional organizations	780
Subsection 3. Disputes arising from acts of the Authority	784
Para. 1. Background	784
Para. 2. The system established in the Convention to review legality	786
Para. 3. Other disputes caused by acts of the Authority	793
Section 11. The transitional arrangements: the Preparatory Commis- sion	795
Subsection 1. Organization of the Preparatory Commission	796
Para. 1. Composition	796
Para. 2. Structure	798
Para. 3. Taking of decisions	799
Subsection 2. The Preparatory Commission as a transnational body	804
Subsection 3. The Preparatory Commission as the administering body of the Area	806
Para. 1. Registration of pioneer investors	809
Para. 2. Designation of the area to be reserved for the Authority	812
Para. 3. Request to carry out exploration in reserved areas	813
Para. 4. Designation of personnel for training	814
Para. 5. Determination of periodic expenditures	814
Para. 6. Receipt of portions of the pioneer area relinquished by the pioneer investor	814
Para. 7. Certification of compliance with resolution II	815
Subsection 4. The Preparatory Commission as a test for a new form of co-operation	817

Chapter 16

ESTABLISHMENT OF THE PREPARATORY COMMISSION FOR THE INTERNATIONAL SEA-BED AUTHORITY AND FOR THE INTERNATIONAL TRIBUNAL FOR THE LAW OF THE SEA	821
Section 1. The nature of resolutions I and II	824
Section 2. The establishment of the Preparatory Commission	825
Para. 1. Composition of the Commission	826
Para. 2. Rules of procedure	826
Para. 3. Duration of the Commission's mandate	826
Para. 4. The financing of the Commission	827
Section 3. The work of the Preparatory Commission	828
Para. 1. Structure of the Preparatory Commission	828
Para. 2. Functioning of the various organs	829
Para. 3. Composition of the various bureaux	829
Para. 4. The implementation of resolution I	830
Para. 5. The implementation of resolution II	831
Analytical index	LVII

Volume 2Part IV

The uses of the sea	833
--------------------------------------	------------

Chapter 17

NAVIGATION	835
Section 1. Freedom of navigation and its limits	835
Division A. Freedom of navigation	835
Para. 1. Historical origin	835
Para. 2. The concept of freedom of navigation	836
Para. 3. Geographical scope	838
Para. 4. The means of exercising freedom of navigation: ships . .	841
Para. 5. Freedom of navigation – what it comprises	845
Division B. Limits on the freedom of navigation	847
Para. 1. The various types of limits	847
Para. 2. Rules allowing physical interference with the navigation of foreign vessels	848
Para. 3. General and particular rules designed to ensure compati- bility between navigation and other activities at sea	868
Para. 4. General rules designed to ensure compatibility between navigation and other freedoms of the high seas	869
Para. 5. Special compatibility rules designed to ensure the exercise of navigation by different States	873
Para. 6. Particular rules of compatibility between navigation and other freedoms	887
Para. 7. Rules relating to the compatibility between freedom of navigation and powers of the coastal State over its economic zone and its continental shelf	889

Para. 8. Rules on compatibility between freedom of navigation and activities of exploration and exploitation of the international sea-bed Area	895
Para. 9. Warships and other ships on government service and the freedom of navigation	899
Section 2. Innocent passage	906
Division A. The general rule	906
Para. 1. The principle of innocent passage	906
Para. 2. Geographical scope of innocent passage	907
Para. 3. The concept of "passage"	910
Para. 4. When is passage "innocent"?	911
Para. 5. The rights of the coastal State as against non-innocent passage	915
Para. 6. The regulation of innocent passage by the coastal State	917
Division B. Rules peculiar to certain vessels	924
Para. 1. The passage of nuclear vessels and vessels carrying dangerous cargoes	924
Para. 2. The passage of submarines	926
Para. 3. The innocent passage of warships	929
Division C. The suspension of the exercise of the right of innocent passage	935
Division D. The exercise of criminal and civil jurisdictions on board ships engaged in innocent passage	937
Division E. Navigation in certain waters	940
Para. 1. Navigation in internal waters and access to ports	940
Para. 2. Navigation in international canals	942
Section 3. Transit passage and archipelagic passage	945
Para. 1. Transit passage in straits	945
Para. 2. The right of archipelagic passage through sea lanes and air routes in archipelagos	956
Para. 3. The contents of the right of transit passage and of archipelagic sea lanes passage	960
Para. 4. Laws and regulations of States bordering straits and archipelagic States relating to transit passage and archipelagic sea lanes passage	965
Para. 5. Limits imposed on the contents and application of the laws and regulations	967
Para. 6. Right of transit passage and customary law	970
Chapter 18
SUBMARINE CABLES AND PIPELINES	977
Introduction	977
Section 1. The Convention on the Protection of Submarine Cables	978
Section 2. The International Law Commission	979
Section 3. The Geneva Conference on the Law of the Sea	981
Section 4. The United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea	983
Conclusions	987

Chapter 19

FISHERIES AND BIOLOGICAL RESOURCES	989
Section 1. General	989
Subsection 1. Background and fundamental considerations	989
Division A. Terminology and basic notions	989
Para. 1. The division of the sea into different zones and their role in regard to fisheries law	989
Para. 2. "Fisheries" and "biological resources"	991
Division B. The general characteristics of international law and their specific role in regard to the law and practice of fisheries .	993
Subsection 2. Traditional fisheries law and its inadequacies under today's conditions	995
Section 2. The development of the modern law of fisheries and bio- logical resources, with special reference to the development of new zones of national jurisdiction	999
Subsection 1. Trends in State practice towards increased coastal State jurisdiction over fisheries and biological resources	999
Subsection 2. Basic considerations in the modern law of fisheries . .	1009
Subsection 3. The role of international conferences	1017
Subsection 4. The 1974 judgments by the International Court of Justice	1029
Section 3. The area within 12 miles: internal waters, territorial seas, adjacent zones	1034
Subsection 1. General	1034
Subsection 2. Waters under the sovereignty of the coastal State . . .	1036
Subsection 3. The 12-mile adjacent fishery zone	1040
Subsection 4. Obligations of conservation in waters under the exclu- sive fisheries jurisdiction of the coastal State	1045
Section 4. Coastal State jurisdiction on fisheries beyond 12 miles, the exclusive economic zone, 200-mile fishery zones	1047
Subsection 1. General	1047
Subsection 2. Claims for a territorial sea of more than 12 nautical miles	1049
Subsection 3. The 200-mile economic zone or 200-mile fishery zone	1050
Division A. The right to a 200-mile zone	1050
Para. 1. The legal situation prior to 1975	1050
Para. 2. The right to a 200-mile fishery zone or economic zone under contemporary international law	1052
Division B. The applicable régime in the 200-mile zone	1067
Para. 1. The sovereign rights of the coastal State in respect of fisheries and biological resources	1067
Para. 2. Obligations incumbent upon the coastal State in mat- ters of fisheries and biological resources	1071
Para. 3. Criteria and conditions for the allocation of fishery rights to other States	1084
Para. 4. Sedentary species: the continental shelf	1105
Para. 5. Anadromous and catadromous species	1106

Section 5. The régime of the high seas	1108
Section 6. Obligations to co-operate with other States in the preservation of resources and in the maintenance of maximum or optimum sustainable yield	1117
Chapter 20
MARINE SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH	1127
Section 1. Scientific research under the control of the coastal State . .	1128
Para. 1. The régime governing scientific research in the territorial sea	1131
Para. 2. The régime governing scientific research in the exclusive economic zone and on the continental shelf	1133
Section 2. Scientific research under the control of States	1141
Chapter 21
DEVELOPMENT AND TRANSFER OF MARINE TECHNOLOGY	1147
Section 1. Introductory remarks	1147
Section 2. General provisions (Arts. 266-269)	1148
Section 3. International co-operation (Arts. 270-274)	1149
Section 4. National and regional marine scientific and technological centres and co-operation among international organizations	1150
Chapter 22
THE PRESERVATION OF THE MARINE ENVIRONMENT	1151
Plan of this Chapter	1152
Section 1. Development of a conventional machinery for combating marine pollution	1153
Subsection 1. Origins	1153
Subsection 2. Compensation for pollution damage	1155
Division A. The lessons of the Torrey Canyon	1155
Para. 1. Elaboration of the 1969 and 1971 Brussels Conventions	1155
Para. 2. Voluntary compensation from the industry: the TOVALOP and CRISTAL plans	1158
Para. 3. Inadequacies – compensation for pollution damage resulting from tanker activity at sea	1160
Division B. Questions raised by the Amoco Cadiz accident	1161
Para. 1. Gaps in the convention machinery	1162
Para. 2. Re-assessment of the compensation ceilings	1163
Para. 3. The ambiguous situation of the coastal State	1163
Para. 4. Evaluation of the damage	1164
Division C. Attempt to improve the system: the 1984 Protocols .	1165
Subsection 3. Prevention of the risk of pollution	1169
Division A. Prevention of pollution	1169
Para. 1. Operational discharges	1169
Para. 2. Dumping and incineration of industrial wastes	1173
Para. 3. Land-based pollution	1178
Division B. Oil spills response – intervention of the coastal State	1180
Para. 1. The Brussels Convention on the right of intervention on the high seas	1180
Para. 2. Regional co-operation	1181

Division C. Prevention of the pollution-causing maritime casualty – SOLAS	1183
Section 2. International law governing the general preservation of the marine environment	1185
Subsection 1. General information	1185
Subsection 2. Structure of the Convention text and general characteristics of the rules relating to the preservation of the marine environment	1190
Para. 1. Structure	1190
Para. 2. Classification of the rules	1192
Subsection 3. The pre-eminence of the coastal State	1194
Division A. The exclusive competences of the coastal State	1195
Para. 1. Protection of living resources	1195
Para. 2. The fight against pollution caused by activities relating to the sea-bed	1198
Para. 3. The fight against pollution from vessels	1199
Division B. Concurrent competences	1200
Para. 1. The fight against pollution from vessels	1201
Para. 2. The fight against pollution from land-based sources ..	1210
Para. 3. The fight against pollution by dumping	1212
Subsection 4. The international liability of States for damage to the marine environment	1213
Para. 1. Applicability of the relevant rules of the law of the environment	1214
Para. 2. The contribution made by the Convention on the Law of the Sea	1221
Para. 3. Types and régimes of liability incurred	1223
General conclusion	1230
Chapter 23
PEACEFUL USES OF THE SEA, DENUCLEARIZATION AND DISARMAMENT	1233
Section 1. General topics	1233
Subsection 1. Sea, an area of peace?	1233
Division A. Uses of the sea and the use of force	1233
Para. 1. General remarks	1233
Para. 2. Scope of this Chapter	1234
Division B. Reservation of the sea for peaceful purposes	1235
Para. 1. Origin of the principle	1235
Para. 2. Law of the sea	1235
Division C. Zones of peace	1239
Para. 1. Initiatives	1239
Para. 2. Indian Ocean	1241
Para. 3. Mediterranean	1242
Para. 4. South Atlantic	1243
Para. 5. South-East Asia	1244

Subsection 2. The sea and contemporary strategy	1245
Para. 1. Introduction	1245
Para. 2. Naval strategy today	1245
Subsection 3. The law of the sea and military activities	1247
Division A. Warships	1249
Para. 1. Definition	1249
Para. 2. Immunities	1250
Division B. Military activities	1251
Para. 1. Navigation and naval manœuvres	1251
Para. 2. Artificial islands, installations, structures and devices used for military purposes	1254
Para. 3. Marine scientific research	1256
Section 2. Disarmament and naval arms regulations	1258
Subsection 1. Historical outline	1258
Division A. Nineteenth century	1258
Division B. Hague Peace Conferences of 1899 and 1907	1259
Para. 1. First Conference	1259
Para. 2. Second Conference	1260
Division C. Treaties of Peace 1919-1923	1261
Para. 1. Treaty of Versailles	1261
Para. 2. Other Treaties of Peace	1262
Division D. League of Nations	1263
Para. 1. The Covenant	1263
Para. 2. The 1922 Washington Naval Treaty	1264
Para. 3. The London naval treaties	1265
Para. 4. Other treaties	1266
Division E. 1947 Treaties of Peace	1266
Para. 1. Naval clauses	1267
Para. 2. Treaty of Peace with Italy	1268
Division F. United Nations	1269
Para. 1. The Charter	1269
Para. 2. The results	1269
Para. 3. Other organizations and conferences	1270
Subsection 2. Sources of law	1271
Division A. Treaties	1271
Para. 1. Treaties and military Powers	1271
Para. 2. Treaties creating "objective régimes"	1272
Division B. Unilateral acts of States	1273
Division C. Acts adopted by international organizations and inter- national conferences	1275
Para. 1. Resolutions of the United Nations General Assembly	1276
Para. 2. Helsinki Final Act	1277
Division D. Customary law	1278
Para. 1. General remarks	1278
Para. 2. Customary law and disarmament	1278

Subsection 3. Measures of disarmament and naval arms regulation	1279
Division A. Limitations of naval armament	1279
Para. 1. Introduction	1279
Para. 2. Arms trade	1279
Para. 3. Weapons limitations	1280
Division B. Demilitarized areas	1282
Para. 1. Definition	1282
Para. 2. Demilitarization and maritime areas	1283
Para. 3. Islands	1284
Para. 4. Straits	1287
Para. 5. Canals	1290
Para. 6. Sea	1293
Subsection 4. The denuclearization of the sea	1296
Division A. Restriction and prohibition of nuclear weapons	1296
Para. 1. Prohibition of the use of nuclear weapons	1296
Para. 2. Limitation of strategic nuclear weapons at sea	1297
Para. 3. Denuclearization and the use of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes	1300
Division B. Prohibition of nuclear weapon tests	1301
Para. 1. Introduction	1301
Para. 2. Sea	1302
Para. 3. Sea-bed	1303
Para. 4. Antarctica	1305
Para. 5. Latin America	1305
Para. 6. South Pacific	1305
Division C. Nuclear-weapon-free zones	1306
Para. 1. Introduction	1306
Para. 2. The sea-bed	1307
Para. 3. Antarctica	1308
Para. 4. Latin America	1309
Para. 5. South Pacific	1310
Para. 6. Other regions	1311
Subsection 5. Confidence-building measures and measures intended to reduce the risk of the outbreak of armed conflicts	1313
Para. 1. Introduction	1313
Para. 2. Prevention of incidents on the high seas	1315
Para. 3. Conference on Security and Co-operation in Europe (CSCE)	1316

Chapter 24

THE INTERFERENCE BETWEEN THE RULES OF THE NEW LAW OF THE SEA AND THE LAW OF WAR	1321
Section 1. Maritime spaces "a region of war". The case of the exclusive economic zone	1322
Section 2. The behaviour of belligerents and the legitimate exercise of the rights arising out of the rules of the law of the sea – the zones of war or the zones of exclusion	1325
Section 3. Blockade and transit passage	1329

Chapter 25

SETTLEMENT OF DISPUTES	1333
Introduction	1333
Para. 1. Historical background	1334
Para. 2. The concept of “dispute” as used in Part XV of the Treaty	1339
Para. 3. Obligation to resolve dispute by peaceful means	1341
Para. 4. Freedom of choice of peaceful means of settlement	1342
Section 1. Procedures entailing optional decisions	1344
Subsection 1. Exchange of views	1344
Subsection 2. Conciliation	1345
Para. 1. Areas where ratione materiae jurisdiction is subject to compulsory conciliation	1345
Para. 2. Conciliation procedure	1350
Section 2. Settlement procedures entailing binding decisions	1358
Subsection 1. General theory of jurisdiction	1359
Division A. Ratione materiae jurisdiction	1359
Para. 1. Disputes amenable to the judicial procedures	1359
Para. 2. Exceptions	1360
Division B. Ratione personae jurisdiction	1363
Division C. Ratione fori jurisdiction	1366
Para. 1. Freedom to choose the competent court or tribunal	1366
Para. 2. Exercising freedom of choice	1369
Subsection 2. The theory of law of the sea dispute settlement proceedings	1374
Division A. The powers of the nominated court or tribunal	1374
Para. 1. The power to resolve disputes	1374
Para. 2. Emergency powers of the court or tribunal before which a matter is brought	1378
Division B. Judicial procedures	1383
Subdivision A. How the procedure functions	1384
Subdivision B. Organization of proceedings	1392
Para. 1. Arbitral procedures	1393
Para. 2. Judicial procedures	1397
Appendices	1403
CONTENTS	1405
1. UNITED NATIONS CONVENTION ON THE LAW OF THE SEA	1421
2. FINAL ACT OF THE THIRD UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE ON THE LAW OF THE SEA	1583
3. STATUS OF THE UNITED NATIONS CONVENTION ON THE LAW OF THE SEA	1617
Bibliography	1625
Analytical index	1655