

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments xi

Giving Preservation a History xiii

New Preface to the Second Edition

RANDALL MASON AND MAX PAGE

I Chapters from the First Edition

Chapter 1 Rethinking the Roots of the Historic Preservation Movement 3
MAX PAGE AND RANDALL MASON

Chapter 2 Roots in Boston, Branches in Planning and Parks 17
MICHAEL HOLLERAN

Chapter 3 "A Spirit that Fires the Imagination" 43
Historic Preservation and Cultural Regeneration in Virginia and New England, 1850–1950
JAMES M. LINDGREN

Chapter 4 Historic Preservation, Public Memory, and the Making of Modern New York City 67
RANDALL MASON

Chapter 5 Marketing the Past 101
Historic Preservation in Providence, Rhode Island
BRIANN GREENFIELD

Chapter 6	Place over Time Restoration and Revivalism in Santa Fe CHRIS WILSON	123
-----------	--	-----

Chapter 7	Chicago's Mecca Flat Blues DANIEL BLUESTONE	145
-----------	--	-----

II New Chapters for the Second Edition

Chapter 8	"Charleston Is Largely a Matter of Feeling" Personal Politics, Preservation, and Power STEPHANIE E. YUHL	199
-----------	---	-----

Chapter 9	Combatting Decline Preservation and Community Development in Pittsburgh and Cincinnati STEPHANIE RYBERG-WEBSTER	227
-----------	--	-----

Chapter 10	The Dunbar High School Dilemma Architecture, Power, and African American Cultural Heritage AMBER N. WILEY	249
------------	--	-----

Chapter 11	"Exciting Alternatives to Demolition" The Shifting Meanings of Preservation in New York's SoHo AARON SHKUDA	303
------------	--	-----

Chapter 12	Taking Action An Overview of LGBTQ Preservation Initiatives GAIL DUBROW	327
------------	--	-----

Chapter 13	Historic Preservation Was Never Static JOHN H. SPRINKLE, JR.	369
------------	---	-----

III By Way of Concluding the Second Edition

Chapter 14	Moving Forward Futures for a Preservation Movement NED KAUFMAN	391
------------	---	-----

Chapter 15 Epilogue	409
Not Your Grandmother's Preservation Movement
MAX PAGE
Contributors	419
Index	422