

Contents

1	Introduction: Countries, Datasets, and Themes in Focus	1
1.1	Visegrad Countries and Austria	2
1.2	Transition Theories and Comparative Datasets	4
1.3	Socio-economic Categories and the Structure of the Book	7
	References	9
2	Regime Change and Developments in the Main Dimensions of Social Structure	11
2.1	Introduction	12
2.2	The Self-Employed and Entrepreneurs	13
2.3	Educational Expansion	18
2.4	The Service Sector	21
2.5	Income Inequality	25
2.6	Inequality in Wealth	33
2.7	Conclusion	36
	References	38
3	The Development in Subjective Well-Being and Its Social Stratification	41
3.1	Introduction	42
3.2	Literature on SWB in Central and Eastern Europe	43
3.3	Data Sources and Overall Trends	46
3.4	SWB According to Socio-economic Categories	51
3.5	Conclusion	64
	Appendix	65
	Mean values of variables in the regression (EU-SILC survey and Module on Well-being, 2018)	65
	References	65

4	Setting Social Status in Couples and Partners' Budgetary Discretion	69
4.1	Introduction	70
4.2	Two Research Fields: Social Status and Well-Being	72
4.3	Data sources, Variables, and Methodology	76
4.4	Couples' Dynamics and Partners' Budgetary Discretion	80
4.4.1	A Description of the Composition of Couples	80
4.4.2	A Description of the Budgetary Discretion of Partners	82
4.4.3	Analysis of the Budgetary Discretion of Partners	83
4.5	Conclusion	87
	Appendix	89
	Descriptive statistics (mean values)	89
	References	90
5	Cultural Participation and Cultural Activities Stratified	93
5.1	Introduction	94
5.2	Sources of Data and Variables	98
5.3	The Analysis of Cultural Participation	101
5.4	Conclusion	111
	Appendix 1	113
	Eurobarometer Surveys	113
	Appendix 2	114
	Questions on Cultural Activities	114
	Appendix 3	116
	Variables into Analysis and Mean Values	116
	References	117
6	Pre-retirement Socio-economic Status and Well-Being of Older Persons	119
6.1	Introduction	120
6.2	Literature Overview	121
6.3	Research Question and Data Sources	125
6.4	Analysis of Objective and Subjective Well-Being	129
6.5	Conclusion	133
	Appendix	136
	Variables in Analyses	136
	References	138
7	Conclusion: New Opportunities for Empirical Research on Social Stratification	141
	References	144
	Appendix	145
	Main Data Sources	145
	Socio-economic Classifications	146