

Contents

Preface	V
Summary	VII
Notes	XIII
Abbreviations	XV
 Trade Mark Directive	 1
Principles	1
1 Paris Convention	1
2 TRIPs	1
3 Trade mark and the guarantee of origin	4
4 Relevant classes of persons	4
5 Principle of territoriality	6
6 Trade name	7
7 Procedural law concerning Community trade mark	7
7.1 Registration	8
7.2 Opposition and invalidity proceedings	8
7.3 Linguistic solution	8
7.4 Right to be heard	8
7.5 Obligation to state reasons	9
7.6 General principle of Community law under which the parties delimit the subject-matter of a case	10
7.7 Time limits	10
7.8 Force majeure	11
7.9 Appeal to the ECJ	11
8 Preliminary ruling	13
9 Interim relief	13
Preamble	17
1 Paris Convention	19
Article 1 – Scope	20

Contents

Article 2 – Signs of which a trade mark may consist	20
1 Principles	20
2 Sign	22
3 Capability of being represented graphically	22
3.1 Odours	23
3.2 Sounds	23
3.3 Colours	24
4 Capability of distinguishing	25
Article 3 – Grounds for refusal or invalidity	28
1 Principles	29
1.1 Connection with goods or services	31
1.2 Relevant public	33
1.3 Overall impression	34
1.4 Visual, aural or conceptual impression	35
1.5 Public interest	36
1.6 Thorough and full examination	36
1.7 Material date	38
2 No distinctive character	39
2.1 Principles	39
2.2 Public interest	41
2.3 Irrelevant criteria	42
2.4 Different categories of trade marks	43
2.5 Word marks	45
2.6 Slogans	46
2.7 Trade mark of a colour	47
2.8 Shape of product mark	48
3 Indications designating characteristics	49
3.1 Principles	49
3.2 Irrelevant criteria	51
3.3 In particular: geographical names	51
3.4 In particular: forms of the packaging	53
3.5 Further examples	53
4 Customary indications	54
5 Acquisition of distinctive character following the use	55
6 Shape of goods	58
Article 4 – Further grounds for refusal or invalidity concerning conflicts with earlier rights	60
1 Principles	62

2	Identity of trade marks and goods or services	63
3	Likelihood of Confusion	64
3.1	Interdependence	65
3.2	Average consumer	66
3.3	Visual, aural or conceptual similarity	67
3.4	Trade marks as a whole	67
3.5	Mere association	67
3.6	Similarity of the goods or services	68
3.7	Distinctive character	68
3.8	Principle of the free movement of goods	69
3.9	Prove	69
3.10	Relevance of a notice excluding a likelihood of confusion	70
4	Protection of a trade mark with reputation	70
4.1	Trade mark with reputation	71
4.2	Similarity between the mark and the sign	72
4.3	Further conditions of protection	73
	Article 5 – Rights conferred by a trade mark	76
1	Principles	77
2	Course of trade	78
3	Affection of the functions of the trade mark	79
4	Use other than for the purposes of distinguishing goods or services	82
5	Existing prior rights	83
	Article 6 – Limitation of the effects of a trade mark	86
1	Principles	86
2	Use of a name	87
3	Designating indications	88
4	Indications of the intended purpose	88
5	Honest practices in industrial or commercial matters	89
	Article 7 – Exhaustion of the rights conferred by a trade mark	91
1	Principles	91
1.1	Consideration of interests	93
1.2	Range of application	95
2	Conditions of the exhaustion	96
2.1	Putting on the market	96
2.2	In the EEA	98
2.3	Consent	99

Contents

3	Exceptions of the exhaustion	102
3.1	Adverse effects on the original condition of the product	104
3.2	Removal of identification numbers	104
3.3	Repackaging	105
3.4	Pharmaceutical context	106
3.5	No pharmaceutical context	107
3.6	Artificial partitioning of the markets and necessity of the repackaging	108
3.7	Quality of the presentation of the repackaged product	112
3.8	Indication who repackaged the product	115
3.9	Obligation to notify and to supply	117
3.10	Relabelling	118
3.11	Replacing the trade mark	119
4	Effect of the exhaustion	120
5	Prove	121
	Article 8 – Licensing	123
	Article 9 – Limitation in consequence of acquiescence	124
	Article 10 – Use of trade marks	125
1	Principles	125
2	Genuine use	126
2.1	Principles	126
2.2	Use for goods that were sold in the past	128
3	Period of use	129
	Article 11 – Sanctions for non use of a trade mark in legal or administrative proceedings	130
	Article 12 – Grounds for revocation	131
	Article 13 – Grounds for refusal or revocation or invalidity relating to only some of the goods or services	132
	Article 14 – Establishment a posteriori of invalidity or revocation of a trade mark	132
	Article 15 – Special provisions in respect of collective marks, guarantee marks and certification marks	133
	Appendix 1 (Reference of Community Trade Mark Regulation)	135
	Appendix 2 (Reference of national codifications)	137
	Appendix 3 (Register of cases)	141
	Index	147