

CONTENTS

Preface	v
Table of Cases	xxxi
Table of Legislation	xliii
List of Abbreviations	lix

Introduction

What are moral rights?	In.01
Perceived functions of moral rights	In.07
Challenges and gains	In.08
Plan	In.14

I THE EUROPEAN BACKGROUND

1. Beginnings in Europe

A. The prehistory of moral rights—early concepts
Introduction	1.01
Early assertions regarding works and authorship	1.02
B. Protection through sovereign dispensation: privileges or rights?
The early modern period	1.10
C. Rights of property and of personality: the 18th and 19th centuries
Natural rights	1.23
The right of literary property	1.26
Personality rights	1.44
The role of legislation and the courts: France	1.63
The role of legislation and the courts: Germany	1.82

2. The Rights Protected: France and Germany to 1928

A. Introduction	2.01
-----------------	------

B.	The right of disclosure	2.02
	France	2.03
	Germany	2.07
C.	The right of withdrawal and repentance	2.09
	Intimations of a withdrawal right	2.10
	Limitations on a withdrawal right	2.11
	Statutory developments	2.12
D.	The right to be identified as author and to prevent another being so named
	Early forms of the right	2.13
	Early legislation	2.16
E.	The right against misuse of a name
	German concepts	2.21
	French concepts	2.24
	Early legislation	2.28
F.	The right of respect or integrity	2.31
	French concepts	2.32
	German concepts	2.37
	Nature of the harm	2.45
	A right against destruction?	2.46
	Early legislation	2.47
G.	The duration of protection
	France	2.53
	Germany	2.54
H.	Exercise and enforcement of the rights
	Exercise during life	2.60
	Exercise post mortem	2.61
I.	Transfer, waiver and consent	2.66
	Diversity of opinion	2.67
	German legislation	2.68
J.	Actions and remedies
	Criminal and civil consequences	2.73
3.	Moral Rights as Cultural Protection—A Deviation From the Norm
A.	Introduction	3.01
	A new rhetoric	3.02
	Historical roots	3.03
	The decline of individualism	3.05

B.	The threat of the new Concern for cultural values	3.07
C.	The polarization of doctrine	3.10
	The French/German divide	3.11
	The position in France	3.18
	Echoes elsewhere	3.23
D.	German draft legislation
	A series of drafts	3.24
	Questions and tensions	3.25
	The 1932 government draft	3.28
	The second Hoffmann draft	3.32
	The National Socialist draft legislation	3.34
	The draft of the Academy for German Law	3.41
E.	The effects of the doctrinal shifts	3.48
4.	Legislative Protection of the 1920s
A.	Introduction
	Early legislation	4.01
	Laws of the 1920s	4.02
B.	Domestic legislation
	Romania	4.05
	Italy	4.10
	Poland	4.15
	Czechoslovakia	4.21
	Other countries	4.24
	Towards Rome	4.28

II INTERNATIONAL GROWTH

5.	The Development of International Protection—1858 to 1928
A.	Introduction
	A need for consolidation	5.01
B.	The congresses
	Towards international protection	5.04
C.	The multilateral treaties
	A more developed protection	5.10
	The Inter-American Convention	5.11
	The Berne Convention	5.14

6. The Rome Revision Conference of the Berne Convention

A. Introduction
The need for uniformity	6.01
Support and opposition	6.05
The significance of Berne	6.07
B. Challenges to authors' rights
Perceived threats	6.09
C. The cultural protection argument
Moral rights as conservation	6.14
D. The reaction of the copyright countries to moral rights
Negotiations at the conference	6.19
E. The Rome amendments—drafting of article 6bis
Aims and proposals	6.28
The unasked question: what is an author?	6.33
The right of disclosure	6.34
The right of attribution	6.35
False attribution of authorship	6.40
The right of integrity	6.43
Duration of the rights	6.53
Exercise of the rights	6.57
Alienation of the rights	6.61
Remedies for infringement	6.65
Moral rights and exploitation licences	6.67
Looking ahead	6.69

7. Post-War International Developments

A. Introduction
The post-War decade	7.01
B. The Washington conference of the Inter-American Convention
A reformulated droit moral	7.03
C. The Universal Declaration of Human Rights
Article 27(2)	7.08
Derivation from the American Declaration	7.10
Negotiation of the Universal Declaration	7.11
D. The Brussels conference of the Berne Convention 1948
Post-War resumption of discussions	7.13
The right of attribution	7.16

The right of integrity	7.18
Individualism or cultural protection?	7.32
Duration and exercise	7.39
Alienation	7.43
Moral rights and recording licences	7.45
E. The Stockholm Conference of the Berne Convention 1967
The latest amendments	7.46
Duration	7.50
Film	7.54
F. The International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights
Giving expression to the Universal Declaration	7.57
G. The Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights
The broadest of the intellectual property treaties	7.60
H. The WIPO Performances and Phonograms Treaty
International agreement on performers' moral rights protection	7.65
Audiovisual performances	7.79

III PROTECTION IN TWO CONTINENTAL SYSTEMS

8. Moral Rights in France

A. Introduction	8.01
Birthplace of moral rights	8.02
Legislative development	8.07
The organization of the present Intellectual Property Code	8.14
B. The nature of the droit moral
A human right	8.17
A perpetual right	8.18
An imprescriptible right	8.20
Can moral rights protect more than personality?	8.22
Relationship with economic rights—dualism	8.24
The pre-eminence of the moral right	8.25
A rule of imperative application	8.26
The public policy (ordre public) nature of the right	8.27
Droit moral or droits moraux ?	8.29
A right of personality?	8.32

C.	The work and the author
	The work	8.33
	The author	8.45
D.	The right of attribution (the right of respect for name and authorship)	8.55
	The right to respect for the name	8.56
	The right to respect for the authorship (qualité)	8.57
	The author's name on another's work—a droit moral ?	8.58
	Publishers' obligation to attribute	8.60
E.	The right of integrity (the right of respect for the work)
	The nature of the right	8.61
	Supporting provisions	8.68
	Infringing the integrity right	8.71
	Limitations on the integrity right—statutory limitations	8.83
	Other limitations on the integrity right	8.89
F.	The right of disclosure
	Article L 121–2	8.98
	What is disclosure (divulgence)?	8.99
	The positive nature of the right	8.100
	Not a right to force publication	8.101
	Exercise and exhaustion of the disclosure right	8.104
G.	The right of withdrawal or repentance	8.108
	Two related prerogatives	8.109
	Exercise of the right and the price to be paid	8.110
	Special provision: authors of computer programs	8.113
H.	Further questions of infringement	8.114
	Juridical nature of infringement	8.115
	Reproduction, performance and dissemination—article L 335–3	8.116
	Authorization of an infringing act	8.120
	Secondary infringement through dealings	8.122
	Parts of a work	8.123
I.	Defences	8.126
	Abuse of a right	8.127
	A defence of free speech?	8.132
J.	Exercise and duration
	Duration	8.133
	Exercise	8.135
K.	Whether and how authors may transfer, or set aside, the rights	8.148
	Can the moral right be transferred inter vivos?	8.149

The right cannot pass to a creditor	8.150
The right is not part of conjugal property	8.151
Can the moral rights be transferred upon death?	8.152
Can a moral right be renounced?	8.153
Will consent preclude infringement?	8.155
The effect of adaptation agreements	8.157
L. Remedies
Penalties for contrefaçon	8.158
Civil remedies	8.160
Closure of the infringing establishment	8.161
Confiscation	8.162
M. Performers' rights	8.163
What is a performer?	8.164
What moral rights does a performer have?	8.165
The performer's right of attribution	8.168
The performer's right of integrity	8.169
The status of performers' moral rights	8.170
The limits of performers' moral rights	8.172
The duration of the performance rights	8.176
Remedies for the infringement of performers' rights	8.178
 9. Moral Rights in Germany
A. Introduction	9.01
Post-War developments	9.02
Organization of the Act	9.04
Other sources of law in Germany	9.08
B. Monism and the network of moral rights protection
The purpose of the Urheberrecht	9.11
The monism of the system	9.12
The dominance of authorial protection over protection of the work	9.13
'Intellectual' and 'personal' interests	9.15
The connection with the work	9.18
The many 'moral rights' provisions	9.19
Natural rights, property rights and personality rights	9.22
C. Part 1 concepts—the work and the author
The work (das Werk)	9.24
The protection of non-works	9.39
The author	9.46

D. Part 1 rights—the author’s right of disclosure to the public
Section 12(1)—disclosure of the work itself	9.50
Describing the work, or revealing its contents	9.65
E. Part 1 rights—the author’s right of attribution
Section 13	9.69
Attribution where reproductions of the work are statutorily permitted	9.80
F. Part 1 rights—the author’s right against distortions and alterations
The right against distortion and other impairments	9.82
Alteration by the holders of exploitation rights—§ 39 (the Änderungsverbot)	9.106
Alterations where uses of the work are statutorily permitted—§ 62	9.117
Limiting the right of integrity in film and other works—§ 93	9.120
G. Part 1 rights—the author’s right of access to the work
Section 25	9.129
H. Part 1 rights—the author’s right of withdrawal for changed convictions
Section 42	9.137
I. Part 2 neighbouring rights—rights of performers	9.141
What is a performing artist?	9.142
The attribution right of performers	9.146
The integrity right of performers	9.149
A right of withdrawal?	9.160
J. Questions of infringement
Authorization and indirect infringements	9.161
K. Further management: exercise and duration
The duration of authorial rights	9.166
The duration of performers’ rights	9.168
Exercise	9.169
L. Whether and how authors may set aside the rights	9.178
Transfer	9.179
Waiver	9.181
The right of access	9.192

M. Remedies	9.193
Civil remedies	9.194
Criminal sanctions	9.204
IV PROTECTION IN THE COPYRIGHT COUNTRIES
10. Establishing Moral Rights in the Copyright Countries: Introductory Considerations
A. State of the law in 1928
Achievements to 1928	10.01
No rapid change in the copyright world	10.02
B. Penetration of new legal systems
Means of penetration	10.04
Difficulties	10.07
Divergence between protection regimes	10.08
C. The Berne/domestic law nexus
A symbiotic relationship	10.11
Continuing influence of Berne	10.12
D. The domestic regimes
No direct application of treaty law	10.14
The United Kingdom	10.15
Australia	10.19
Canada	10.22
The United States	10.24
E. Introduction of the rights to the copyright countries	10.29
11. Canada: Developments Towards the Current Law
A. Introduction	11.01
B. Early history of moral rights thinking
The 19th century	11.03
Cases prior to 1928	11.07
Legislation passed prior to 1928	11.12
The bills of 1924–1930—developing consciousness of moral rights	11.16
On the brink of moral rights protection	11.27
C. Legislation for the rights
The 1931 amendment	11.28

D.	Review of moral rights protection	11.37
	The Ilsley Royal Commission	11.39
	The Report of the Economic Council	11.45
	The Keyes and Brunet Study	11.47
	From Gutenberg to Telidon: A White Paper on Copyright	11.54
	A Charter of Rights for Creators	11.57
	Bill C-60	11.65
E.	The protection of performers	11.66
12.	Canada: The Rights and Their Application
A.	Introduction	12.01
B.	The stated purposes of the rights and their relationship with copyright
	Common law literary property	12.03
	Purposes of section 12(7)	12.04
	Purposes and policies of the current moral rights provisions	12.05
	The relationship with copyright	12.06
C.	The work and the author
	The work	12.08
	The author	12.12
D.	The rights and their infringement
	The current legislation—statement of the rights	12.17
	The current legislation—statement of infringement	12.19
	The right of attribution—contents and subsistence	12.20
	The right of attribution—infringement	12.42
	The right of integrity—contents and subsistence	12.43
	The right of integrity—infringement	12.69
E.	Further infringement issues
	Authorization of an infringing act	12.79
	Indirect infringement	12.82
	The application of the substantial part doctrine	12.83
	The absence of a fair dealing defence	12.85
	Specific exceptions to infringement—industrial designs	12.86
F.	Further management: duration and exercise	12.90
	Duration	12.92
	Exercise	12.96
G.	Whether and how authors may transfer, or set aside the rights
	Waiver, transfer and consent	12.108
	Preparation for the current provisions	12.113
	The current waiver provision	12.119

Consent	12.122
Paid waiver	12.123
H. Remedies
The civil remedies from 1931	12.124
The current remedies	12.125
I. Alternatives to reliance on the moral rights regime	12.129
Statutory indication that other laws may be used	12.130
Control through copyright—supplementing the integrity right	12.131
Economic rights to publish or show in public—standing in for the disclosure right	12.135
Limits on the copyright interests—standing in for a disclosure right (and even for an integrity right)	12.136
Effects of the fair dealing defence—supplementing the attribution right	12.138
The reversion of a copyright interest to the author's estate	12.139
The penal provision of section 43(2)—overlap with attribution and integrity rights in certain works	12.140
Breach of trust or confidence—standing in for the disclosure right	12.145
Passing off—supplementing the right against false attribution and the right of integrity	12.147
The Competition Act	12.149
Contract—an uncertain source of rights	12.150
Defamation—supplementing the integrity right and the right against false attribution	12.151
Quebec Civil Code—protecting personality rights	12.154
Additional protection for performers—standing in for a disclosure right	12.155
13. The United Kingdom: Developments Towards the Current Law
A. Introduction—first indications of moral rights thinking
Similarities with Europe—and divergences	13.01
Early protection of literary works	13.03
Developments in the courts—the 18th century	13.08
Legislation of the 18th and 19th centuries	13.16
B. Stages to protection—the modern era
Early 20th century reactions	13.27
The Gregory Report	13.30
The 1956 Copyright Act	13.33
The Whitford Report	13.44

The 1981 Green Paper	13.49
Intellectual Property and Innovation: the White Paper	13.54
The 1987 exposure draft	13.57
The Copyright, Designs and Patents Bill	13.63
C. The protection of performers	13.66
The 1999 Discussion Paper	13.67
The 2004 Consultation Draft, the 2005 amended Draft, and the 2006 Regulations	13.68
 14. The United Kingdom: The Rights and Their Application
A. Introduction	14.01
B. Policy questions and the relationship of the rights with copyright
Policy questions	14.03
The relationship with copyright	14.05
C. The work and the author	14.06
The work	14.07
The author or director	14.12
D. The contents, subsistence and infringement of the rights	14.18
The right of attribution (right to be identified as author or director)—content and subsistence	14.19
The right of attribution—infringement	14.35
E. The right against false attribution of authorship	14.46
The nature of the right	14.47
Subsistence	14.49
Infringing the right against false attribution	14.50
F. The right of integrity
Statutory history and nature of the right	14.60
The right of integrity—content and subsistence	14.62
The right of integrity—infringement	14.77
G. The right to privacy in certain photographs and films
Section 85	14.92
H. Further questions of infringement
The application of the substantial part doctrine	14.96
Authorization	14.98
Consequences of the range of infringing activities	14.100
I. Further management of the rights: duration and exercise
Duration	14.101
Exercise post mortem	14.105

J.	Whether and how authors may transfer, or set aside the rights
	Assignment	14.116
	Consent	14.117
	Waiver	14.118
	Parliamentary debate on waiver/consent	14.120
	Paid waiver	14.122
	Preservation of informal (common law) waiver	14.123
	Waiver and consent post mortem	14.124
	The binding effect of an inter vivos waiver	14.126
K.	Remedies
	Pre-1988	14.128
	The current Act	14.130
	Damages for injury to feelings	14.135
L.	Moral rights for performers	14.138
	The right of attribution of performers	14.139
	The right of integrity of performers	14.147
	Duration of the performer's rights	14.150
	Consent, waiver and the general law regarding performers	14.151
	Substantiality	14.154
	Assignment of performers' rights	14.155
	Arrangements for exercise post mortem	14.156
	Remedies for infringement of performers' rights	14.161
	Consent by an unauthorized person	14.162
	A defence for the direct infringer	14.163
	Transitional provision	14.164
M.	Alternatives to reliance on the moral rights regime
	Statutory guarantee that other laws may be used	14.165
	Control through copyright—supplementing the integrity right	14.168
	Economic right to issue copies to the public—standing in for the disclosure right	14.173
	Damages for injury to feelings—a recognition of plaintiff distress	14.174
	Effects of the fair dealing defence—supplementing the attribution right	14.175
	Breach of trust or confidence—standing in for the disclosure right	14.181
	Passing off—supplementing the right against false attribution and the right of integrity	14.184
	Contract—an uncertain source of useful rights	14.190
	Defamation—supplementing the integrity right and the right against false attribution	14.191
	The distribution right of performers—standing in for a disclosure right	14.193

15. The United States: Developments Towards the Current Law
A. Introduction	15.01
B. A difficult assimilation
Historical factors	15.04
C. The international movement	15.16
The Inter-American Convention	15.17
The Berne Convention	15.18
The International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights	15.19
The WIPO Performances and Phonograms Treaty	15.20
The Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights	15.21
D. The first initiatives at federal level	15.22
A 1935 Bill	15.23
The 1940 Shotwell Bill	15.25
The Copyright Act 1976	15.26
E. The federal process of Berne adherence—the 1980s	15.29
The Berne Convention bills and debate	15.31
F. The state statutes	15.62
G. The aftermath of Berne adherence	15.66
The mooted of film preservation laws	15.67
H. The Visual Artists Rights Act	15.79
The development of VARA	15.80
 16. The United States: The Rights and Their Application
A. Introduction	16.01
B. The federal system: stated rationales for the rights and their relationship with copyright
Multiple rationales	16.05
The relationship with copyright	16.08
C. The work and the author
The work	16.09
The author	16.33
D. The rights: contents and infringement	16.35
The right to claim authorship	16.36
The right against use of the author's name on another's work	16.48
The right against use of the author's name on a prejudicially modified work	16.55

The right against distortion, mutilation, modification—the integrity right	16.64
The right against destruction—works of recognized stature	16.84
E. Further questions of infringement
Implied infringement	16.106
General limitations on infringement	16.107
Authorization, contributory infringement and related concepts	16.115
Indirect infringement	16.119
Parts of the work	16.120
F. Exercise and duration
Duration	16.124
Exercise	16.127
G. Whether and how authors may set aside the rights
Transfer	16.130
Waiver	16.131
H. Remedies
Available remedies	16.143
Criteria in assessing the remedy?	16.144
Equity and the nature of the remedies	16.145
Statutory and enhanced statutory damages	16.147
Punitive damages	16.148
Damages for mental distress	16.149
Attorney's fees	16.150
I. State legislative protection: policy, content and application
The threshold question of pre-emption	16.151
The California Art Preservation Act	16.156
The New York Artists' Authorship Rights Act	16.162
Other state statutes	16.165
J. Alternatives to reliance on VARA or the state Visual Artists' Rights Acts
Introduction	16.174
Control through copyright—supplementing the integrity right	16.178
The economic right to publish—standing in for the disclosure right	16.183
An inherent right implied by copyright? Standing in for the integrity rights	16.185
Defamation—standing in for the integrity rights and the right against false attribution	16.186
Lanham Act—standing in for the attribution rights?	16.190
Other possibilities	16.195

17. Australia: Developments Towards the Current Law
A. Introduction	17.01
B. Developments leading to moral rights protection
Background	17.02
The 1958 Spicer Report	17.06
The Copyright Act 1968	17.08
The 1978 National Symposium on Moral Rights	17.16
The Martin and Bick Report	17.18
The Copyright Law Review Committee Discussion Paper 1984	17.19
The 1988 Report of the Copyright Law Review Committee	17.27
The aftermath of the CLRC Report—attempts to formulate policies	17.40
The 1994 Discussion Paper	17.46
The 1996 Exposure Draft of a Copyright Amendment Bill	17.54
C. Tabled legislation
The Copyright Amendment Bill 1997	17.58
The Copyright Amendment (Moral Rights) Bill 1999	17.67
D. Moral rights for indigenous communities	17.68
E. Moral rights in performances
First proposals	17.77
International treaties	17.83
18. Australia: The Rights and Their Application
A. Introduction	18.01
B. Stated rationales for the rights and their relationship with copyright
Emphases	18.02
Relationship with copyright	18.04
C. The work and the author
The work	18.05
The author	18.12
D. The contents and subsistence of the rights and their infringement
Two prerogatives, three rights	18.20
Authorial rights only	18.21
The right of attribution of authorship	18.22
The right against false attribution of authorship	18.33
The right of integrity of authorship	18.53

E.	Other infringement issues
	Indirect infringement	18.72
	The application of the substantial part doctrine	18.74
	Acts that do not infringe the rights	18.79
F.	Further management of the rights: exercise and duration
	Duration	18.101
	Exercise	18.104
G.	Whether and how authors may set aside the rights
	Preliminary discussion	18.111
	Current consent provisions	18.115
H.	Remedies	18.130
	The remedies	18.131
	Factors considered in deciding on a remedy	18.132
	Negotiated settlements	18.139
	Damages for films	18.140
	Other actions	18.141
I.	Moral rights for performers
	Background	18.142
	The rights of a performer	18.149
	Right of integrity of performership	18.159
	Authorization	18.165
	Indirect infringement of the performance rights	18.166
	Defences to infringement of performance rights	18.167
	Duration of the performance rights	18.168
	Exercise of the performance rights	18.170
	Consent by a performer	18.172
	Remedies available to performers	18.173
J.	Alternatives to reliance on the moral rights regime	18.177
	Moral rights additional to other rights	18.178
	Control through copyright—supplementing the integrity right and standing in for the disclosure right	18.180
	Effects of the fair dealing defence—supplementing the attribution right	18.188
	Breach of confidence—standing in for the disclosure right	18.190
	Passing off and actions under fair trading legislation— supplementing the right of integrity and against false attribution	18.192
	Defamation—supplementing the integrity right	18.194
	Contract—an uncertain source of useful rights	18.198
	Stop Press—An interesting case discussing ‘false attribution’ and award of damages	18.199

V CROSS-BORDER PROTECTION

19. International Moral Rights Litigation

A. Introduction
The likelihood of international litigation	19.01
An international fabric	19.04
B. Contents of the chapter	19.11
General issues	19.12
National laws	19.17
C. Effects of the Berne Convention
What does the Berne Convention say about jurisdictional competence and/or choice of law?	19.21
D. Jurisdictional competence	19.40
A European solution—the Brussels/Lugano regime	19.41
Jurisdictional questions in countries outside the Brussels/Lugano regime	19.61
Choice of court agreements—the Hague Convention	19.63
E. Choice of law
Choice of law in the absence of treaty provisions	19.68
Non-application of foreign penal laws	19.87
An attempt at codification—Rome II	19.89
F. Localizing the violation—moral rights
Introductory considerations	19.96
The right of disclosure	19.105
The right of attribution (including the right not to have one's work attributed to another)	19.110
The right of integrity	19.115
G. France	19.134
Foreign authors in France—protection of moral rights under domestic law	19.135
The protection of foreign performers under French law	19.147
Extraterritorial application of French law	19.149
Jurisdiction of French courts	19.150
Choice of law rules in France	19.157
Normal choice of law rules applied in France	19.164
H. Germany
Foreign authors in Germany—protection under domestic law	19.178
Extraterritoriality of German law?	19.190
Protection of foreign performers under German law—performances in Germany	19.191

The effect of the WIPO Performances and Phonograms Treaty	19.195
Protection of German performers in relation to foreign performances	19.196
Jurisdiction of German courts over cases with a foreign element	19.197
Choice of law issues in German courts	19.202
I. Canada
Assimilation of foreign authors/works to Canadian authors/works	19.208
Jurisdiction of Canadian courts over cases with a foreign element	19.211
Forum non conveniens	19.227
Choice of law	19.231
J. The United Kingdom
Foreign authors in the United Kingdom—protection under domestic law	19.237
Do UK moral rights have extraterritorial effect?	19.244
Jurisdiction of UK courts	19.246
Choice of law in UK courts	19.254
How a UK author could exercise integrity (and attribution) rights in a cross-border case	19.267
K. The United States	19.272
Foreign authors in the United States—access to domestic law	19.273
Foreign performers	19.283
Do rights under the US Act have extraterritorial effect?	19.284
Jurisdiction of US courts	19.288
Whether and when a US court will accept jurisdiction	19.289
Subject matter jurisdiction	19.290
Personal jurisdiction	19.294
Choice of law in US courts	19.301
L. Australia
Foreign authors in Australia—protection under Australian domestic law	19.315
Do Australian moral rights have extraterritorial effect?	19.321
Jurisdiction of Australian courts	19.322
Choice of law in Australian courts	19.331
Appendix: Comparative Table of National Moral Rights	719
Bibliography	799
Index	833