

Table of Contents

Foreword	Fernando M. Torres-Gil	vii
Introduction		ix
Acknowledgments		xvii
About the Contributors		xix
PART ONE	Aging and Vision Loss: A Statement of the Issues	1
Chapter 1	The Agenda in the Field of Aging Robert C. Atchley	3
Chapter 2	Aging and Vision Loss: A Conceptual Framework for Policy and Practice John E. Crews	21
Chapter 3	The Knowledge Base for Collaboration Between the Fields of Aging and Vision Loss Alberta L. Orr	55
PART TWO	Multidisciplinary Perspectives on Aging and Vision Loss	83
Chapter 4	Vision Care for Elderly Individuals: Innovation and Advancement in Low Vision Services Alfred A. Rosenbloom, Jr.	85

Chapter 5	Medical Considerations in the Rehabilitation of Older Persons Dale C. Strasser	109
Chapter 6	Psychosocial Considerations in a Rehabilitation Model for Aging and Vision Services Bryan J. Kemp	133
Chapter 7	Aging, Vision Rehabilitation, and the Family Barbara Silverstone	155
Chapter 8	Aging and Disabilities: Collaborative Practice and Public Policy Edward F. Ansello	181
Chapter 9	Policy and Funding for Aging and Vision Rehabilitation Services Lorraine Lidoff	211
Chapter 10	Directions for Research in Aging and Vision Rehabilitation Amy Horowitz and Cynthia Stuenkel	227
Index		257