

CONTENTS

Preface	vii
Author's Note	ix
Introduction: The Silver Age as History	1

PART I. SOCIAL ORIGINS OF A GENERATION

1 Son of a Provincial Priest	21
2 University and Marxism, 1890–1897	28
Moments: Visions and Shattered Illusions	38

PART II. WHEN IDEALISM MET PRACTICE: PHILOSOPHY AND REVOLUTIONARY POLITICS, 1901–1907

3 Idealism in Philosophy: Dawns	49
4 Responses: The Landscape of Social Thought on the Eve of 1905	66
5 Idealism in Politics: Revolution	83
6 Christian Socialism	101
7 Constitutional Politics or Religious Reformation?	115
The Second Duma
Moments: Ivashechka's Death	127

Contents

PART III. PERCEPTUAL REVOLUTION: BULGAKOV'S RELIGIOUS PHILOSOPHY

- | | | |
|---|---|-----|
| 8 | What Is the Sophic Economy? The Agrarian Question Transformed | 145 |
| 9 | The "Spirit of Synthesis" | 158 |

PART IV. A NEW RUSSIA?

- | | | |
|----|--|-----|
| 10 | The Lid Comes Off: The Church Council of 1917–1918 | 189 |
| 11 | Orthodoxy Renewed: Neo-Hesychasm | 207 |
| 12 | Failure: Church and State Part Ways | 219 |
| | Moments: Hagia Sophia | 230 |
| | Epilogue: From Moscow to Paris | 234 |
| | Conclusion | 243 |
| | Chronology of the Life of Sergei Bulgakov | 251 |
| | Selected Bibliography | 253 |
| | Index | 273 |