

CONTENTS

PREFACE	ix
1. INTRODUCTION: MELANCHOLIA JURIDICA	1
2. HISTORY BECOMES THE LAW: MOURNING, GENEALOGY, AND LEGAL HISTORIOGRAPHY	16
History as Cure	17
Genealogy	22
Image and Unconscious	30
Rewriting Law	36
3. APOLOGY AND ANTIRRHETIC: ICON, IDOL, IMAGE, AND THE FORMS OF LAW	41
Apologia, Antirrhexis, and the Foundations of Law	45
Image, Icon, and Idol	56
Captives of the Soul	63
4. LAW AGAINST IMAGES: ANTIRRHETIC AND POLEMIC IN COMMON LAW	68
Law and Dissimulation	71

Denunciations	77
Antitheton: Strangers, Foreigners, Nomads, and Others	81
Paradoxon: Public Laws and Private Reasons	89
Aporia: Contingency and the Government of Women	95
Conclusion: Penitus Amputare, Inner Incisions	101
 5. HAEC IMAGO: THIS MASK, THIS MAN, THIS LAW	 108
Sources of Law and Statuses of Women in the Ancient Constitution	114
Of Fate, Fortune, Justice, and Other Illustrious Women	121
Yconomia and Domestic Subjection	130
Virtue and Excess	138
 6. GYNAETOPIA: FEMININE GENEALOGIES OF COMMON LAW	 144
Janus, or the Backface of Common Law	152
Woemen's Law	159
Gynaetopia, or the Legal Place of the Feminine	168
Conclusion: The Jurisprudence of Difference	173
 7. OEDIPUS LEX: INTERPRETATION AND THE UNCONSCIOUS OF LAW	 181
Antonomasia: Psychiatric Harm and the Englishman's Home	189
Allegoria, or the Erased Face of the Offeree	198
Synecdoche: Egyptians, Aliens, Others, and the Crown	210
Envoi	220

8. CONCLUSION: A LEGALITY OF THE CONTINGENT	223
The Man Who Mistook the Law for a Hat	225
Ghostly Powers	228
An English Unconscious	234
Critical Legal Studies, or Ius Interruptus	240
BIBLIOGRAPHY	249
INDEX	271