

CONTENTS

Foreword

Ľubomír FALŤAN 7

I.

FACTORS OF INTERNAL TERRITORIAL DIFFERENTIATION

1. Regional Differentiation and Transformation Processes in Slovakia
Ľubomír FALŤAN - Peter GAJDOŠ - Ján PAŠIAK 10
2. Districts and Socio-Economic Regions of the Slovak Republic after Their Adaptability to New Socio-Economic Conditions
Milan RAJČÁK 36
3. Regional Structure and Post-Communist Transformation - the Case of the Czech Republic
Michal ILLNER 46
4. Innovational Centres in Slovakia
Štefan ZAJAC 62
5. Marginal Territories in Slovakia: History and Contemporary Time
Ľubomír FALŤAN - Peter GAJDOŠ - Ján PAŠIAK 67
6. The Regions of Slovakia: the Results of Parliamentary Elections in 1994
Vladimír KRIVÝ 78

II.

REGIONALISATION AND THE INTERREGIONAL CONTEXTS

1. Europe of Regions: Closer to Both Citizen and Global Society
Zdravko MLINAR 94
2. Political Sovereignty and Creativity - Implications for Eastern Europe
Ján MAKAROVIC 102

3. Will the Regions Dominated by Heavy Industries Jeopardise the Central European Reforms?
Grzegorz GORZELAK 110
4. Euroregions as Factors of Increasing Cooperation Within the Czech-German Relations
Václav HOUŽVIČKA 132
5. International Migration in the Czech Republic - Regional Aspects
Dušan DRBOHLAV 137
6. Certain Empirical Problems Pertinent to the Functioning of Cross-Border Regional Relations
Zdenek ŠŤASTNÝ 152
7. General Facts about Foreign Capital in Vysehrad Triangle, 1989-1992
Wojciech DZIEMIANOWICZ 159

III. REGIONALISATION AND THE TERRITORIAL SELF - GOVERNMENT

1. Politics and Problems of Organizational Design in Local Self-Government
Audun OFFERDAL 189
2. Cooperation of State and Local Government
Zdenka VAJDOVÁ 209
3. Austria and its Eastern Neighbours - the Border Regions under New Political Conditions
Franz GREIF 212
4. Regional Policy and Regional Administration in Hungary
PALNÉ KOVÁCS Illona 215
5. Local Governmental and Policy Challenges in Northern Bohemia
Daniel HANŠPACH 224
6. On Nordic Local Government - Developments and Prospects
Audun OFFERDAL 236