

Acknowledgments

I have been at work on this book for nearly a decade. During that time, I have benefited from the input of many individuals and the support of various institutions. It is a pleasure to acknowledge them here.

Three close friends and colleagues—Julia Bryan-Wilson, Christina Klein, and Merian—responded to parts of the manuscript with keen insight and I thank them for their generosity of intellect and spirit. Douglas Crimp kindly read the afterword and provided helpful feedback.

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
1 Introduction: The Art-Historical Postmortem	1
2 Young Professor Barr (1927)	37
3 Prehistoric Modern (1937)	115
4 Midcentury Contemporary (1948)	191
Afterword: Not Now (1994/2005)	259
Notes	283
Index	341