

CONTENTS

Contents

V

Preface

XI

Law in Cyberspace

---

- |   |           |
|---|-----------|
| 1. In Law, We Trust: Shortly to Bumblebees and the Normativity of Law in Cyberspace                | 3  |
| Radim Polčák   |           |
| 2. Code is Murphy's Law  | 11 |
| Pieter Kleve and Richard De Mulder   |           |
| 3. Identity and Legal Personality in Cyberspace  | 21 |
| Christopher Harding  |           |
| 4. Can a Web-site Constitute an Establishment for the Purposes of Jurisdiction and Applicable Law? | 27 |
| Michael Bogdan   |           |
| 5. To be, or not to be, Borderless: The Future of the Internet                                     | 35 |
| Dan Jerker B. Svantesson   |           |

6. Islamic Jurisprudence in Cyberspace: Construction of Interpretative Authority in Muslim Diaspora	43
Vít Šisler
7. Language for Automated Law Processing	51
Adam Ptašník
8. Electronic Communication in Legal Profession	57
Zdeněk Brunclík
9. Failure of the Directive on the Patentability of Computer-Implemented Inventions, its Context and the Lessons Learnt for the Future – Short Overview	67
Jiří Jirsa

e-government & e-governance

---

10. Recent Developments Relating to Electronic Government	79
Ludwig Gramlich
11. Civic Groups and Parliaments in eGov Planning: An Analysis of eGov Projects in Belarus, Ukraine and Lithuania	99
Marina Sokolova
12. Dialectic Learning for Supporting E-Democracy in the European Union	105
Franz Aigner and Max Watzenboeck
13. Cyberspace in Public Administration	113
Adam Ptašník
14. “The Never Ending Story” or 15,000 Years of Attempts to Register Inhabitants	117
Vladimír Šmíd, Karel Schelle and Renata Veselá

Cybercrime

---

- |  |            |
|--|------------|
| 15. Legal Protection of the Information Systems in the Czech Republicagainst Crime                               | 129 |
| Vladimír Smejkal  |            |
| 16. Legality of a Virtual Pornography on the Internet   | 139 |
| Michael Vrtek   |            |
| 17. Use of Electronic Guestbooks and Bulletin Board Systems onRight- and Left-Wing Extremists' Web Sites         | 147 |
| Thomas Roessing   |            |
| 18. Cybercrime: (Cyber)Criminological and (Cyber)VictimologicalParticularities of the "Information Superhighway" | 155 |
| Aleš Završnik   |            |

Sociology a Philosophy of Cyberspace

---

- |  |            |
|--|------------|
| 19. Conceptual Views of a Virtual World   | 179 |
| Diane Rowland   |            |
| 20. The Stability of Cyberspace   | 189 |
| Alexander Knorr   |            |
| 21. Network Society Theory as a Contribution to the Discussion aboutSocial Exclusion | 197 |
| Barbora Vacková   |            |
| 22. Digital Inequality: A Five Country Comparison Using Microdata                         | 203 |
| Hiroshi Ono and Madeline Zavodny  |            |

23. Cyber – Space of Possibles	219
Timothy Stanley

24. In &amp; Out: How to Study Interactions in Virtual Context	229
Maurizio Teli and Francesco Pisanu

25. Cyberspace on the Stage	239
Jana Horáková

Psychology and Internet

---

26. The Cyberself: Usage of Personal Websites	251
Astrid Schütz, Bernd Marcus, Franz Machilek and Aline Vater

27. Czech Internet Report: The Rise of the Internet Generation?	261
David Šmahel

28. More about the Specifics of Cybersexual Interaction	269
Radana Divínová

29. The Popularity of NetPlagiarism Among Czech Students	277
Jan Čincera and Lucie Velichová

30. Love via Internet?	285
Tomáš Hudeček and Martin Vaculík

31. Virtual Attractivity and Partner Selection on the Internet	295
Martina Veselá and David Šmahel

32. My Avatar, My Self: Virtual Harm and Attachment	303
Jessica Wolfendale

33. The Internet Addiction Disorder and Chatting in the Czech Republic 311Barbora Simková and Jan ČinčeraNot Presented

---

34. The Virtual University as a Educative Change Engine 321Miguel Ángel Pérez Álvarez35. Good Morals and Upstanding Business Relationships within Cyberspace 325Jaromír Harvánek and Hana Plátěnková36. Crime Time in Cyberia: Legislative and Regulatory Aspects 331Jha Samar and Aggarwal Manish*