

Table of Contents

List of Figures	viii
List of Maps	xii
List of Abbreviations	xiii
Acknowledgements	xiv
Introduction	1

Chapter 1

Milestones in the Development of the Prison System after the Second World War	23
Retribution and Hatred of Anything German	23
Self-Sovietisation of the Czechoslovak Prison System	26
Coming to Terms with the Past	36
The Turbulent Years 1968 and 1969	39
Modernisation vs Repression	44
Chaos in Democratisation	52

Chapter 2

Tendencies in the Prison System	67
Labour and Collective as the Basis for Prisoners' Re-education and the Socialist Warden	67
Changes in the purpose of punishment and the treatment of political prisoners	71
Re-education of the criminal prisoner	89
Re-education as isolation and coercion	91
The beginnings of resocialisation work with convicts	102
Return to repression, collectivism and the economic function of the prison system	112
An ideal member of the SNV	127
Professionalisation and Modernisation of the Prison System	150
Expertisation and penological research	152
Professionalisation of prison staff	160

Practical impact of expertisation	172
The Prisoner as a Human Being.	176
"Socialist humanism"	178
The concept of human rights	187
Attempts to change the paradigm	201
Between Repression and Humanisation	212

Chapter 3

Everyday Life in Prison	217
Custody Intermezzo	221
Five Pains from Imprisonment.	230
Loss of freedom	231
Loss of autonomy	243
Material shortage	253
Emotional deprivation	258
Lack of safety	260
Mechanisms of Power	264
Pillars of power	267
Prison hierarchy	297
Political prisoners	308
Adaptation Mechanisms	319
Forms of escape	322
Forms of resistance	329
Shadow economy	353
Communication	365
Entertainment and art	376
Self-harming	384
Release	389
Microcosmos of the World behind Bars.	391

Chapter 4

Employees as Bearers of the Different Meanings of Their Work	399
Psychological Take on the Role of Narratives	410

Employees Holding the Values of the Political-Ideological Master Narrative	416
Persisting faith in the three pillars of re-education	418
Prisoners as objects, not human beings	424
Criticism of psychologists and the psychological approach towards convicts	429
Justice according to the values of the political-ideological narrative	433
Criticism of the status quo	435
Obedient to the System on the Outside, Yet Humanists on the Inside	436
Objects of remedy vs human beings	440
Retribution and hierarchy vs re-education and searching for causes	441
Clash with the proponents of the political-ideological narrative	443
Showing loyalty to the system	449
The time of games and injuries	451
The current view of the prison system	454
Humanistically Oriented Employees: Outcasts of the System ...	456
Without the umbrella of the technocratic narrative	456
Unofficial activity	460
Three Master Narratives – Three Approaches towards Convicts – Three Life Adaptations	462
Conclusion	471
List of Main Personalities	485
Bibliography	503
Index	534
Contributors	539