

Contents

| | |
|---------------------------------|------|
| MAPS AND GRAPHS | xiii |
| PREFACE | xv |
| PROLOGUE: Cloud over Chicago | 5 |
| PART I | |
| TO BE THE CENTRAL CITY | |
| 1: Dreaming the Metropolis | 23 |
| Patterns on a Prairie Landscape | 23 |
| Booster Dreams | 31 |
| Metropolis and Empire | 41 |
| Reading Turner Backwards | 46 |
| 2: Rails and Water | 55 |
| Market in the Mud | 55 |
| Artificial Corridors | 63 |
| Railroad Time | 74 |
| The Logic of Capital | 81 |

| PART II | |
|------------------------------------|-----|
| NATURE TO MARKET | |
| 3: Pricing the Future: Grain | 97 |
| Prairie into Farm | 97 |
| A Sack's Journey | 104 |
| The Golden Stream | 109 |
| Futures | 120 |
| Boundary Disputes | 132 |
| Necessary Fictions | 142 |
| 4: The Wealth of Nature: Lumber | 148 |
| Where Value Comes From | 148 |
| From Forest to Prairie | 151 |
| The Business of Lumber | 159 |
| Cargo Market | 169 |
| Buying by Rail | 180 |
| Lost Hinterlands | 183 |
| The Cutover | 200 |
| 5: Annihilating Space: Meat | 207 |
| The Great Bovine City of the World | 207 |
| Slaughtering the Bison | 213 |
| Open Range and Feed Lot | 218 |
| Porkopolis | 225 |
| Storing the Winter | 230 |
| Triumph of the Packers | 235 |
| Unremembered Deaths | 247 |

| PART III | |
|--|-----|
| THE GEOGRAPHY OF CAPITAL | |
| 6: Gateway City | 263 |
| Mapping Capital | 263 |
| Credit Flows | 269 |
| The Urban Hierarchy | 279 |
| Gateway Rivalry: Chicago and St. Louis | 295 |
| 7: The Busy Hive | 310 |
| Reaping the Factory's Harvest | 310 |
| The Merchant's World: Prerailroad | 318 |
| The Merchant's World: Postrailroad | 324 |
| Catalogs on Kitchen Tables | 333 |
| 8: White City Pilgrimage | 341 |
| The Great Fair | 341 |
| Miracle of the Phoenix | 345 |
| Metropolitan Vice | 350 |
| The Moral Economy of City and Country | 357 |
| City and Country as a Unity | 364 |
| EPILOGUE: Where We Were Driving | 371 |
| APPENDIX: Methodological Note on the Bankruptcy Maps | 387 |
| NOTES | 391 |
| BIBLIOGRAPHY | 471 |
| INDEX | 505 |

Illustrations follow pages 168 and 328